Hoosier's Victors In 'Silly' Bread Pan Case

By NICK SMITH
Staff Writer

Several loaves of bread accused of being too long during a recent trial in Berrien Fifth District court were given a clean bill of health Tuesday when the firm that baked them was found innocent of violating Michigan's bread pan law.

According to a written decision by District Judge John T. Hammond, the little-known law remains in force, but its application to an out-of-state bakery selling loaves in this state is unconstitutional.

Bonnie Baking, Inc., a La Porte, Ind., bakery, was tried on the charge recently. Hammond took the case under advisement.

The 1942 bread pan law — which Hammond wrote "may be unwise, frivolous and silly" — regulates the size of bread pans in order to insure that bread sold retail is of a certain density, he explained.

The intent of the law is to keep consumers from making the false judgment that a longer loaf of bread may be a better buy than a shorter loaf of bread, if both loaves weigh the same, Hammond said.

Evidence at the trial showed that the bread pan law applies only to bread that is being sold at retail, on the store shelf, said Hammond. Because the Indiana bakery was only selling the bread wholesale, it did not have to follow the statute, he ruled.

At the trial, the president of the bakery testified that 2,500 bread pans would have to be replaced if the company complied with the law. The pans reportedly cost a total of $50,000.

Noting that under the U.S. Constitution only Congress has the power to regulate interstate commerce, Hammond said that the law, applied to out-of-state bakeries, "is a direct regulatory attempt" that is not constitutional. The state has a right to protect its citizens' health, safety and welfare, but the bread pan law doesn't make such a claim, he ruled.

Twelve 24-ounce loaves of bread baked in pans that measured over 15 inches in length were used as exhibits during the non-jury trial. The charges were brought by the Michigan Department of Agriculture's food inspection division.

Helen Ford Absent At 2nd Session

The Benton Harbor city commission will resume its waiting game tonight after being thwarted for the second straight night Tuesday by the absence of Commissioner Helen Ford. "I think we should sit here every night to show our good faith," Commissioner Charles Yarbrough declared after it had become apparent that Mrs. Ford's absence would again prevent the recall-riddled commission from obtaining a five-member quorum capable of transacting business.

The other three commissioners present — Arnold Rolin, Edmund Eaman and Alfred Williams — eventually agreed with Yarbrough to adjourn the meeting until 7:30 tonight in hope that Mrs. Ford would appear.

City Manager James Peebles Jr. said he had been informed by Mrs. Ford's office at Berrien County Action, Inc., that she had been prevented from returning from an out-of-town meeting Monday night by two flat tires and, that she was believed to be still out of town Tuesday. Mrs. Ford is a member of the "Clean Slate" firm of whose members were ousted by recall in last Tuesday's election.

Peebles and Eaman also reported that they had gone to Lansing earlier Tuesday in an attempt to get an opinion from the attorney general's office on the possibilities of filling vacancies if Mrs. Ford continues to be absent from meetings.

A provision in the city charter says that vacancies in elected offices shall be filled by appointment of the commission — "or by a majority of the remaining members of the commission" — but Peebles said a member of the attorney general's staff advised against doing so without a five-member quorum present on the grounds it might jeopardize all succeeding commission actions.

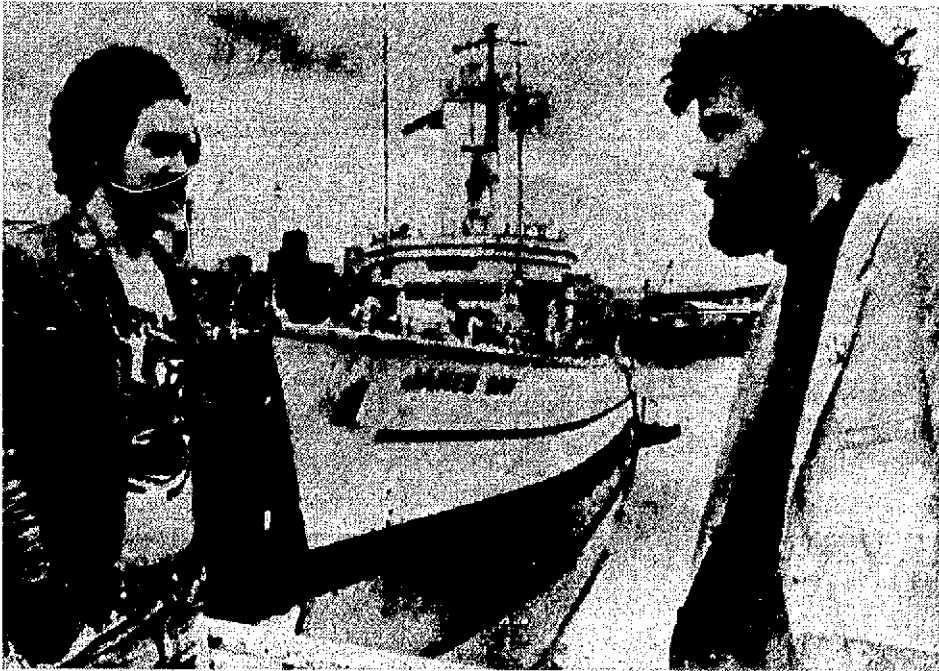

Eaman said the Benton Harbor representatives also were advised that a charter provision vacating the seat of a member who misses five consecutive regular meetings does not apply immediately because regular meetings are held only once a week and the current series of nightly sessions is only an extension of Monday's regular meeting.

Peebles and Eaman said written opinions were promised by the attorney general's office, but that there was no indication when they might be received.

Eaman also urged all residents having any intention of running for four vacated seats on the commission to obtain nominating petitions and obtain sufficient signatures to earn a place on the ballot during the Aug. 3 primary election.

Acting City Clerk T.J. (Jack) Carter said that nomination petitions must be filed by 4 p.m. on June 8 at the city clerk's office in city hall.

The four seats to be filled are those vacated last week by the recall of Mayor Charles Joseph, Commissioner-at-Large Barbara Luckaby, Second Ward Commissioner Charles Shepherd and Third Ward Commissioner Winston Minott.

Lockout Is Legal, Says Whirlpool

By JM DELAND
Assistant City Editor

Whirlpool corporation today denied an unfair labor practices charge filed by union employees at the St. Joseph division who claim they are victims of an illegal lockout. The charge was filed with the National Labor Relations Board by Local 1918, International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers, which represents some 1,600 workers at the St. Joseph division plant.

In filing the charge, Local 1918 contends that Whirlpool did not serve written notice that it intended to terminate its contract with the union when the contract expired at midnight May 6 and that such notice should have been filed 60 days before the expiration date.

Whirlpool, however, claims it did not have to file such notice of termination because the union already had done so, according to a statement from Jay VanDenBerg, director of industrial and community relations and chief spokesman for the St. Joseph division.

"The language in the contract and the federal statutes clearly points out that the notice requirement is met when either of the two parties give notice to terminate, modify or change the collective bargaining agreement," VanDenBerg said. He said the union gave such notice on March 1 in a letter signed by Ed Kepp, business agent for Local 1918, and Albert Romeo Jr., president of the local.

"We expect the National Labor Relations Board to sustain our position and hope that the board will investigate this charge as soon as possible," VanDenBerg stated.

Kepp admitted that the union had given notice of termination, but said it was the union's contention that Whirlpool also was required to do so before closing the plant to union workers.

He also said that if the NLRB finds Whirlpool guilty of unfair practices, the union will ask for reimbursement of wages lost since the lockout started on May 10.

The formal charge filed by Local 1918 asks the NLRB to petition U.S. District court to grant a restraining order and other appropriate temporary relief to stop the lockout and allow employees to return to work.

Assembly operations at the St. Joseph division have been halted since May 7, when union workers voted overwhelmingly to reject the company's final offer for a new three-year contract.

However, production of parts on a limited basis has continued with the help of salaried employees and about 100 college students hired since the lockout went into effect.

Attack At BHHS Probed

Benton Harbor police detectives said today no arrests have been made yet in connection with the attempted rape of a Benton Harbor high school student teacher at the high school Monday.

The student teacher sustained minor bruises in the incident about 3:40 p.m. when she struggled for several minutes with a youth who she said threw her to the floor of a restroom and tried to remove her clothing, reported Det. David Stovall.

The attempt was broken up by Junior Miles, 29, a janitor, who responded to the woman's screams for help. Police said it is believed the attacker is a high school student.

The woman told police she was approached by a youth as she was about to leave the building. He said she was wanted by another teacher on the third floor. She said he followed her, then grabbed her and forced her into the restroom, according to Stovall. Miles said the attacker pushed past him when he investigated the screams. He told police he followed the youth a short distance, then returned to aid the woman. Classes were not in session when the attack occurred.

Librarian May Run For Clerk

CAROLYN SUTTER
Considering clerk race

Nominating petitions have been taken out on behalf of Carolyn Sutter to run for the Democratic nomination for Berrien county clerk. She is director of the Benton Harbor Public Library and the Library System of Southwestern Michigan.

Miss Sutter, 33, said yesterday the petitions were taken out by friends and she is considering running for the post currently held by Republican Forrest Kesterke.

Deadline for filing petitions for the primary election is 4 p.m., June 1.

A Kalamazoo native, Miss Sutter joined the Benton Harbor public library in 1968. In 1974, she was appointed director of the Library System of Southwestern Michigan, which covers 27 libraries in Berrien, Cass and Van Buren counties. She also is director of the Benton Harbor public library.

She was graduated with a bachelor's degree in psychology from Calvin College, Grand Rapids, in 1964 and received a master's degree in library administration from Western Michigan university in 1972.

She lives at 974 Sierra drive, Benton township.

States Contesting Food Stamp Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than half the states, 53 labor unions and 22 church groups are joining 73 food-stamp families in sue the Ford administration in an attempt to stop a sharp cutback in the food stamp program.

Ronald Pollack, director of the private non-profit Food Research and Action Center who will argue the case for almost 200 plaintiffs, said the suit will be filed in U.S. District Court today.

According to current Agriculture Department estimates, about 1.66 million families would be eliminated entirely from the food-stamp rolls under new regulations that begin taking effect next Tuesday.

An additional 1.72 million families with incomes just under the official poverty lines would remain in the program but would have to pay more cash for the stamps. Administration officials say the other two million-plus families remaining in the program will see their benefits increase.

The administration predicts the new regulations will save taxpayers $1.2 billion a year when fully effective six months from now. About 18.8 million persons in 5.88 million households now benefit from the 12-year-old program, costing the federal government $5.7 billion a year.

President Ford issued the new rules in February, saying Congress was taking too long to make changes in the food stamp program. Ford and Congress say changes are needed because of public criticism that the program is too expensive, too complicated and filled with loopholes.

The new rules would limit stamps to households with gross incomes that are no more than $100 a month above the uniform poverty lines, or $125 above if the family had a member over 65 years old.

For the typical three-person food-stamp family in the continental United States, the new ceiling would be $383 a month plus $100. The present system does not have a gross income ceiling but consists of a net income figure calculated by deducting some expenses.

More than 800 pages of legal briefs and affidavits were completed in preparation for the suit. Pollack said he hoped for a temporary restraining order against the new rules by Friday.

The plaintiffs charged that the Agriculture Department violated the Constitution, the Food Stamp Act and the Administrative Process Act in drafting the regulations at Ford's orders. The defendants are Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz, the Agriculture Department and some food-stamp officials.

The suit claimed that the new rules unconstitutionally discriminate against working families because welfare families are automatically eligible by statute.

The suit said the food stamp law entitled all low-income families to a "nutritionally

GEORGE S. DUNN
Wants to be prosecutor

Dunn Running For Van Buren Prosecutor Job

PAW PAW — George S. Dunn, currently chief assistant prosecutor for Van Buren county, announced today he will be a candidate for the prosecutor's nomination as a Republican in the Aug. 3 primary.

Dunn, 29, is the third Republican to announce he will seek the job in the primary, joining James W. Narregan of Decatur and Ward (Steve) Hamilton, Jr. of South Haven, who both announced last week.

Dunn joined the prosecuting attorney's staff in June, 1974, and was named chief assistant in December, 1974 when Frank D. Willis was appointed prosecutor. Willis, following an appointment by Gov. Milliken, will become Van Buren county probate judge effective June 7, leaving the prosecutor's job vacant.

Dunn said that during 1975 he had a 100 per cent conviction rate in felony trials he handled, and that he has also worked on probate and juvenile matters; writing appeals to the state appeals and supreme courts; issuing legal opinions to county officials; and discussing individual problems citizens bring to the prosecutor's office.

Dunn did his undergraduate work at the University of Maryland, spent two years in the Army, then graduated from the University of Florida law school. He is a member of the Michigan and Florida bar associations, the Michigan Prosecuting Attorney's association, and Fraternal Order of Police.

He and his wife, Mary, have one daughter and reside at 303 Washington, Lawton.

In announcing his candidacy, he made the following statement:

Charles Henderson announced today he will again be a Democratic candidate for 44th District state representative. Henderson, of 822 McAllister, Benton Harbor, lost by a narrow margin to State Rep. Ray Mittan (R-Niles) in the 1974 election.

Henderson will apparently face Democratic primary opposition for the seat. Lawrence C. Sherman, of Towline road, Benton township, announced earlier that he is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the seat. Republican Milton announced in February that he will seek re-election.

In announcing candidacy, Henderson said: "I feel that during the Bicentennial year we have to have new leadership in our state government. The time is now more than ever to stop talking about the problems of the 4th District and start doing something about them."

Henderson outlined the major problems of the district as crime, welfare reform and education.

A Benton Harbor high school teacher, Henderson, 28, had been considered a potential candidate for mayor during the city's recall campaign but took himself out of contention.

Henderson is a 1966 graduate of Benton Harbor high school and holds a bachelor's and master's degree from Western Michigan university. He is presently working on a doctorate in educational administration through Michigan State university.

Andrew Jackson threatened to shoot political opponents casting aspersions on the legitimacy of his marriage to his second wife, Peg.

This week it is Cong. Wayne L. Hays' turn to join the illustrious parade.

Sunday's edition of The Washington Post carried a front page interview with Elizabeth, a shapely gal from Asheville, North Carolina, who says until being fired recently she was a $14,000 a year clerk on Hays' staff whose sole duty was to be available when he would come a calling to her apartment.

Liz described her lack of secretarial capability as being so complete as to not being able even to answer the telephone — at the office, that is.

Within hours of The Post hitting the streets, she was on TV repeating the story with the embellishments many interviewees feel essential to a satisfactory booth tube performance.

The cozy arrangement ended, she told the reporters, when Hays having shed his first wife took on his confidential secretary, Pat Peak, as Spouse No. 2.

The Congressman claims Liz is making up the story out of whole cloth, that the trysting is a fabrication by the woman scorned who is a formal mental patient to boot.

The two reporters on The Post contend they confirmed Liz's story by tapping telephone conversations between her and Wayne, and watching their conduct at luncheon and dinner meetings. "It was a warm relationship," they aver.

The Congressman's friends put down the incident as a publicity stunt by Liz. She is said to be authoring a paperback and following Sunday's news burst, Playboy's editors admitted her pitch to be a centerfold nude had improved considerably over other candidates.

As this is written, Hays is mulling whether to file a libel suit against The Post or to take some other maneuver to neutralize Liz.

He is up for re-election and while the 64-year-old veteran of many a Congressional battle has had little trouble in the primaries, Liz could be a helper to a Republican candidate in the general election.

Also at stake is his position in Congress.

He is chairman of the House Administration Committee.

A colleague seeking a good parking space, a junkie to investigate something or other, a hefty, well paid staff, better be nice to Wayne. Those who have not been, catch the message.

Additionally, he is the boss of Washington's metropolitan police force. There is a chief, but he consults regularly with the chairman.

Last year he was the target of the 100 freshmen Democrats who rode into the House on Watergate's coattails. He survived by a slim margin in an effort to replace him with Frank Thompson, Jr., of New Jersey.

As chairman of the accounts subcommittee which is supposed to at least scan the vouchers submitted for payment by the Representatives, Thompson is now thumbing through the payrolls.

The FBI started prowling around the day following The Post's story came out and conceivably the House Ethics Committee might look into the matter. If it does, it will be Ethics' first effort of any magnitude since its creation.

The FBI and the CIA which have been the object of extensive, well drilled Senate investigations must view the case with more than detachment.

They are not the only Washington outfits in the undercover business.

'Non-Words' Confusing The English Language

A non-word is a perfectly good English word with a clear dictionary definition that from frequent misuse finally comes to have a confused meaning. Non-words are increasing rapidly.

Some teachers have been known to tell their classes that they were not much concerned about grammar; it was getting the idea across that mattered. This is an invitation to sloppiness in sentence construction and the use of fuzzy words whose vagueness has to be excused with "well, you know what I mean."

To make a table a cabinetmaker needs a tool chest. Similarly, to express his ideas a student must be equipped with the rules of his language and its vocabulary.

For years the "king size," jumbo size, "economy size," and "family size" nonsense has been going on. These are all non-words of the "well, you know what I mean" kind. Kings are supposed to be important and elephants are big, but wouldn't economy size in contrast be rather small?

No, surprisingly, because one is supposed to "save" by buying more. But how can it be that in order to save one has to spend? But how can it be that in order to save one has to spend? These two words formerly meant the opposite, but by some semantic legerdemain each now disguises itself as the other.

"Debt" has become "credit," which is easier to live with. Artists no longer are merely talented, they are "geniuses," even if all they can do is shout into a microphone. So genius is joining the non-words.

Perhaps someday someone will attempt a dictionary of non-words. That should be the ultimate of verbal confusion.

He's Spreading Good Word About Twin Cities Hospitals

Editor,

I have recently had the opportunity to be a patient in each of our Twin City hospitals. We are lucky to have both Mercy and Memorial hospitals in our area. Each hospital has certain special qualities or services we all should be grateful for. In most communities of our size a patient and his family would have no choice but to travel to a remote brand name hospital for specialized care.

We are indeed fortunate that this community has the capabilities to treat mental health problems, cancer disease, heart and cardiovascular disorders, neurosurgical ailments, and even the routine care of patients requiring kidney or hemodialysis treatment. In this letter I would like to accomplish three things.

First, I would like to thank the boards of trustees of both Mercy and Memorial hospitals for having the insight to develop the many special services over and above the routine general hospital services.

I would like to thank the administrators for directing the quality of care. I would also like to thank the physicians, nurses, aides and many supportive employees who really have the "I care" and "We can" attitudes. Thank you all — Bettys, Susies, Marys, Bobs, Marks and Vernons.

Thanks also goes to the personnel managers for the great job of selecting these fine people. The list of those to thank is endless.

Secondly, I would urge other citizens who have experienced good care to speak up and spread the word both verbally and by letters to the editor of his newspaper.

Thirdly, I hope that the readers of this message will become better informed about our hospitals. When serious illness hits you or your loved one, ask your doctor about the facilities available locally to treat your particular circumstances.

If still in doubt, get a second opinion. That second opinion may save you and your family a lot of grief.

In closing it gives me a great deal of pride to know first hand that we do in fact have two very fine brand name hospitals serving the Twin City area.

Yet having reached that time when soon I shall at last be entirely alone, it pleases me to offer some observations on the back side of this Ava Gardner photograph.

Let it not be taken as an apology. I am as allergic to guilt as I am to ground level, or for that matter mankind. I regret nothing of the fortune I have accumulated, the women I have purchased. My intention is to explain my nature and by that my purpose of these years I have spent in what some call isolation.

Isolation? Far from it. I have been surrounded, that is to say infested, with the same mean life as those less able to afford the top floor of the Acapulco Princess Hotel. I refer of course to insects, and here I reach the substance of this yellowing document: beware the bugs, I say beware — they are out to be the earth's dominant species.

I discovered this many years ago. Wherever I was, there also were the beetles and the spiders and the earwigs. I recall at age 35 seeing a cockroach at Bonwit Teller. The Real Issue Being Ignored

WASHINGTON — The presidential campaign thus far is a dreary disappointment, full of hints, innuendoes and red herrings. Not one of the major candidates of either party has marched forward to talk directly about the real issue underlying this election.

That issue is Richard Nixon, the ghost of politics past, and what he did to us and what we should do about it.

President Ford, who was Nixon's choice as his replacement and who rewarded that generosity with a full criminal pardon, has only lately in campaign speeches begun to indicate there was anything wrong with the presidency when he took it over. It took several primary defeats before he reached this remarkable level of candor. Until he went under bad in Texas, Ford thought he could just ignore the preceding six years. On the eve of Ronald Reagan's big breakthrough, Ford observed that he never mentioned Nixon by name because "it is better for all of us just not to remind ourselves" of the Watergate era.

Fiddlesticks, who could forget it? The gripping story of Nixon's last months in the White House, "Final Days," by reporters Bob Woodward and Carl Bernstein, is on the best-seller list. "All the President's Men," starring Robert Redford, is packing them in at movie houses across the country. Julie Eisenhower had a full-page column in Newsweek last week defending her mother's behavior as Nixon's disgrace became inevitable. J. Edgar Ehrlichman, once Nixon's chief domestic affairs adviser, has just lost his appeal of a conviction for conspiring to violate the civil rights of Daniel Ellsberg's former psychiatrist with a 1971 office break-in. So did G. Gordon Liddy, who worked for the Nixon White House and the 1972 Nixon re-election campaign and was Ehrlichman's co-defendant.

Nixon himself is in the headlines periodically with suggestions from visitors that he would like to re-enter public life or new court moves in his continuing struggle to regain control of his tapes and papers. His former vice president, Spiro Agnew, who was forced to resign on official charges of tax evasion, amidst allegations of illegal payoffs, is all over the television talk shows peddling a novel. Ehrlichman, too, has a novel to be published soon.

The spectre of Nixon hangs over this campaign, whether the candidates want to face up to it directly or not. That is what Jimmy Carter is talking about when he denounces Washington habits. That is why Reagan rushed to correct an impression he may have left with reporters that he would consider a role in his administration for Nixon. That is what all the references to "credibility" are about. It even underlies Secretary of State Henry Kissinger's growing unpopularity.

But Ford, Reagan, Carter, et al. are bravely being positive, looking forward, not backward. They are studiously avoiding the obvious.

EPA Eyes Truck Smoke

WASHINGTON (AP) — Those buses and heavy-duty trucks that sometimes seem to envelop you in clouds of noxious black smoke would be subject to tighter air pollution controls in the future under rules proposed by the Environmental Protection Agency. Roger Stralow, the EPA's assistant administrator for air and waste management, said heavy vehicles are a relatively small percentage of the nation's vehicle population but a large contributor to its air pollution. "Although only 5 per cent of all vehicles on the road today are heavy trucks and buses, unless further controlled their emissions could exceed those from all other vehicles by 1980," he said.

"Well, I'll be a nattering nabob of negativism — look who's back touting a book!"

Having Sex On The Taxpayers

NOW, the National Organization for Women, would dispute it to the death, but nothing can illuminate a man in high places more than for a story to circulate that he has another woman on the string.

Only last year Fanny Foxe, a burlesque queen, caused Rep. Wilbur Mills to resign as chairman of the House Taxation Committee and to forewear running for re-election this November.

Barbara Walters caused all manner of flap by asking Lady Bird Johnson on a TV interview about LBJ's penchant for the ladies.

Rumors of John F. Kennedy's dalliances circulated freely during his White House tenancy, but never made it into the public news until long after his assassination.

Warren G. Harding had a mistress, the wife of the owner of the major department store in his home town of Marion, Ohio, before and during his Presidency. Its disclosure following his death in 1923 for a while overshadowed the bribes taken by Albert Fall, his Interior Secretary, for favorable leases of the government's Teapot Dome oil reserves to private interests.

Andrew Jackson threatened to shoot political opponents casting aspersions on the legitimacy of his marriage to his second wife, Peg.

This week it is Cong. Wayne L. Hays' turn to join the illustrious parade.

Sunday's edition of The Washington Post carried a front page interview with Elizabeth, a shapely gal from Asheville, North Carolina, who says until being fired recently she was a $14,000 a year clerk on Hays' staff whose sole duty was to be available when he would come a calling to her apartment.

Liz described her lack of secretarial capability as being so complete as to not being able even to answer the telephone — at the office, that is.

Within hours of The Post hitting the streets, she was on TV repeating the story with the embellishments many interviewees feel essential to a satisfactory boob tube performance.

The cozy arrangement ended, she told the reporters, when Hays having shed his first wife took on his confidential secretary, Pat Peak, as Spouse No. 2.

The Congressman claims Liz is making up the story out of whole cloth, that the trysting is a fabrication by the woman scorned who is a formal mental patient to boot.

The two reporters on The Post contend they confirmed Liz's story by tapping telephone conversations between her and Wayne, and watching their conduct at luncheon and dinner meetings. "It was a warm relationship," they aver.

The Congressman's friends put down the incident as a publicity stunt by Liz. She is said to be authoring a paperback and following Sunday's news burst, Playboy's editors admitted her pitch to be a centerfold nude had improved considerably over other candidates.

As this is written, Hays is mulling whether to file a libel suit against The Post or to take some other maneuver to neutralize Liz.

He is up for re-election and while the 64-year-old veteran of many a Congressional battle has had little trouble in the primaries, Liz could be a helper to a Republican candidate in the general election.

Also at stake is his position in Congress.

He is chairman of the House Administration Committee.

A colleague seeking a good parking space, a junket to investigate something or other, a hefty, well paid staff, better be nice to Wayne. Those who have not been, catch the message.

Additionally, he is the boss of Washington's metropolitan police force. There is a chief, but he consults regularly with the chairman.

Last year he was the target of the 100 freshmen Democrats who rode into the House on Watergate's coattails. He survived by a slim margin an effort to replace him with Frank Thompson, Jr., of New Jersey.

As chairman of the accounts subcommittee which is supposed to at least scan the vouchers submitted for payment by the Representatives, Thompson is now thumbing through the payrolls.

Witnesses Link Trio To Baum Slaying

By NICK SMITH
Staff Writer

Three men indicted by the Berrien county citizens' grand jury on first degree murder charges were bound over to Circuit court Tuesday after key prosecution witnesses who previously refused to testify linked them to the 1973 shotgun slaying of Benton Harbor grocer Sam Baum. Bound over following preliminary examination in Fifth District court were Amos Ray, 26, of 370 Walnut avenue, Benton township; Anthony Johnson, 22, of 555 Pearl street, Benton Harbor, and Nathaniel Johnson, 21, of 695 McGuigan, Benton Harbor.

The three men had been arrested on murder charges following the April 23, 1973, shotgun murder of Baum. The charges later were dismissed when key witnesses refused to testify in District court. A policeman and five citizens testified yesterday in a court trium that was closed to all but the press, according to District Judge Hugh Black.

The court was cleared at the request of Prosecutor John Smietanka, who said one of the witnesses recently was threatened. As further protection, the judge and prosecutor requested that names of witnesses be withheld from the public until the defendants' trial.

One witness testified he drove the three defendants to Baum's grocery store at 431 Riford and heard two shots while waiting for the three in his car behind the store.

He also testified that one of them said "let's go get some money" before they entered the store and that while driving them to a house in Benton Harbor he saw a sawed-off shotgun in the back seat. Under cross examination by Defense Atty. David Peterson, the driver admitted that drinking may have clouded his memory of the day's events.

Smietanka said that the driver testified under immunity from prosecution for any offense in connection with the murder, but that he could be charged with perjury if it were discovered he lied under oath. Another witness identified the three defendants as the men she had seen coming from the store a short time after she heard shots, but neither she nor any of the other witnesses claimed to have seen the defendants inside the store at the time of the murder. About an hour before the shooting, according to testimony from another woman witness, Anthony Johnson was looking around inside the store and the other two defendants were outside, sitting on the hood of a car that matched the description of the witness-driver's auto. Sometime later, the woman testified, Anthony Johnson visited her and bragged that he'd killed Baum with a sawed-off shotgun. The admission was made after charges against the men had been dismissed in 1973, she testified.

Sgt. Dwight Claustre of the Benton Harbor police department told the court that when he arrived at the store Baum was lying near the door moaning. The man sustained a wound to his side from a shotgun blast, according to an autopsy report introduced as evidence yesterday. He died within a few hours of the shooting.

Black noted that witnesses yesterday did not appear to be afraid as they faced the defendants. Instead "they were almost belligerent to the defense attorney."

Evidence from the witnesses indicated that the three men intended to commit an armed robbery at the grocery, Black concluded. Nobody testified about what, if anything, was taken from the store, he added. The three men were returned to jail without bond.

Judge Bars Removal Of BH Records

Berrien Circuit Judge Julian Hughes Tuesday issued a preliminary injunction prohibiting former Benton Harbor Mayor Charles Joseph and other city officials from removing any public records from city hall or destroying any that were removed. The injunction was issued following a conference between the judge, Atty. Yvonne Hughes, the plaintiff in the case, and Atty. K. Morris Gavin, representing the defendants.

Atty. Hughes filed the suit seeking the injunction late on the night of last week's recall election which saw Joseph and Commissioners Barbara Huckaby, Charles Shepherd, and Winston Minott ousted. Others named as defendants include Commissioner Helen Ford, Mrs. Donna Cooke, assistant in the mayor-commission office, City Manager James Peoples, Jr., and their employees or agents. Judge Hughes said Gavin, during the hearing, denied any wrongdoing on the part of his clients and denied any public records had been removed. However, police reported 60 to 80 boxes of materials were removed from the mayor's office shortly after midnight on May 18. The injunction prohibits the defendants from "removing any public items, public records, or public files from city hall or any other buildings where such public records are housed except in the ordinary course of business." It also orders that anything that was removed is to be preserved.

Catholic High Names Its Honor Winners

Steve Gentry and Sue Meyers last night were announced as co-valedictorians of the Lake Michigan Catholic high school senior class of 1976 during class night ceremonies at St. Joseph Catholic church.

They share the top honor after attaining identical grade point averages of 3.93.

Miss Meyers is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Meyers, 1715 Niles avenue, St. Joseph, and plans to attend the University of Notre Dame.

Steve, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gentry, 1400 Furrus avenue, St. Joseph, plans to attend Central Michigan university.

No salutatorian was named. Miss Meyers and three other seniors were also singled out for other high honors last night. Tom Hanley was presented the Citizenship award, Mark Fish and Miss Meyers received the Leadership award and Jami DaDan won the Principal's award.

The Citizenship award is presented for all-round character and personality. The Leadership award honors students for initiative and inspiration and the Principal's award goes to the student who best typifies the ideals of the school.

Twenty-four sets of parents were honored by the graduating seniors as being especially helpful during their high school career.

Gary Cushing, a former religion teacher at Lake Michigan Catholic, addressed the students last night and emphasized the class theme "We Can Make It Happen." He is currently a religion teacher at a school in Connecticut.

Many of the 83 seniors who will graduate from Lake Michigan Catholic this spring were recognized last night for scholastic and citizenship accomplishments.

The scholarship list included: Tiscornia foundation, Sue Meyers; Chick Evans scholarship, Dave Flood; University of Wisconsin athletic scholarship, George Welch; Central Michigan university board of regents award, Steve Gentry; Michiana scholarship, Mary Beth Spear and Lita Masini; St. Joseph Beauty College, Cheryl Duran; Kalamazoo College Achievement scholarship in social studies, Ginni Gonzalez; Marian Guild, Sue Meyers; Elks scholarship, Lita Masini; University of Dayton athletic tender, Chris and John Kasmer, and Western Michigan University award, Theresa Seweyck.

St. Joseph-Benton Harbor Rotary club scholarship to Lake Michigan College, Liz Seoworoff; National Merit scholarship semifinalist, C.J. Petlick; Betty Crocker Family Leader of Tomorrow, Sue Meyers, and Emil Quattrin athletic scholarship, Sharie Johnson.

Scholastic department awards went to the following: science, Sue Meyers, Steve Gentry, Dave Flood and Jami DaDan; mathematics, Jim Brintnall and Mary Beth Spear; drafting, Don Letor; government, Jami DaDan; Spanish, Laurie Piggett; English, Jim Brintnall, C.J. Petlick and Sue Meyers

Ross Tower To Get New Weather Unit

The start of construction on a new remote weather monitoring installation at Ross Field was announced today by John Banyon, chairman of the Twin Cities Airport board. When completed, the weather installation will give the control tower the ability to constantly monitor wind direction, wind velocity and temperature and to automatically determine the cloud ceiling height.

Construction of the foundation and frangible tower in the center portion of the airfield is now underway and is expected to be completed in about 10 days, Banyon said. Installation of instruments will be completed at a later date. The installation, which is being paid for completely by the Federal Aviation Administration, is part of a continuing safety improvement program, Banyon said.

Around the clock with WOMEN

1976 Fathers Of The Year

NEW YORK — Eight famous American men were named 1976 Fathers of the Year here Tuesday in the 41st observance of the annual ceremony.

The awards were made by the National Father's Day committee in the Imperial ballroom of the Hotel Americana.

The recipients of the coveted awards were Senator Edward M. Kennedy, National Father of the Year; Governor Brendan T. Byrne, Gubernatorial Father of the Year; Jesse Owens, Olympic Father of the Year; Dr. Frank Field, Science Father; Hughes Rudd, Father of the Year for Communications; Dave DeBusschere, Sports Father, and John Cullum, Stage Father.

The presentations were made on behalf of the National Father's Day committee by Ray Hentherton, this year's host-master of ceremonies who received the DAD award from Theodore M. Kaufman, chairman.

Senator Ted Kennedy, singled out for honors as National Father of the Year, is the third of the three famous Kennedy brothers to be so honored. President John F. Kennedy was named to the honor in 1962 and Senator Robert F. Kennedy, before him, in 1960. Senator Ted Kennedy has demonstrated a love and understanding of not just his own children, but has accepted responsibility for all the Kennedy children, the sons and daughters of both

"President Jack" and "Senator Bob," according to Kaufman. His visions for the future of all American children make his designation as national father particularly appropriate as this country moves into its third century of historic destiny, Kaufman said.

Jesse Owens, one of America's outstanding and beloved athletic figures, has "fathered" not just his own family of two daughters, but has acted as surrogate father for thousands of aspiring Olympians over the past four decades both by example and inspiration.

Governor Brendan Byrne of New Jersey is not just an outstanding and visionary statesman, Kaufman said, but is the contemporary father of seven children. His hopes and plans for future Garden State citizens rank high among the aspirations of today's civic leaders.

Hughes Rudd, Father of the Year for Communications, is anchorman on the CBS Morning News on nationwide television. Kaufman said that Rudd's perceptive observations of the American scene, viewed objectively as only a news analyst can see society, has made him an important influence on the daily lives of families from coast to coast. He has one son, Jon, and resides in New York.

Dr. Frank Field, Science Father of the Year, has pioneered in medical reporting for television, bringing new knowledge through his interpretation of medical breakthroughs. A television award-winning science broadcaster, Dr. Field is the father of David and two daughters, Pamela Diane and Allison Carol.

The committee selected Dave DeBusschere as Sports Father of the Year, because he was not just an outstanding basketball star, but also pitched with the Chicago White Sox during basketball off-season until becoming commissioner of the American Basketball Association last year. He serves as national chairman of the Carnival Division of Muscular Dystrophy and is the father of three children.

John Cullum, named Stage Father for 1976, is currently starring in the Broadway musical "Shenandoah" for which he received a Tony Award. In "Shenandoah" his role as the strong, dedicated, sympathetic father figure makes his selection appropriate in the Bicentennial year, Kauf-

Germany's wine history dates back many centuries. It was the Romans who organized the planting of vineyards and establishment of towns like Trier and Neumagen in the Mosel Valley. In the Middle Ages, Germany was split into principalities, and under the feudal system, taxes were paid for the use of vineyards, often in the form of wine. Evidence of this period of history can be found on German wine labels today, in the heraldic coats of arms belonging to families who once held important posts in Germany's former principalities.

For a fantastic selection of domestic and imported wines head right for RITTER'S LIQUOR LOCKER, 3872 Red Arrow Hwy., 429-4921. In addition to our wines we also carry a complete line of beer available in cans, bottles, kegs and 1/2 & 1/2 sappers. We keep beer on "ice" ready to go. Open: Mon.-Sat. 10 am-11 pm, Sun. noon-9 pm.

WINE WISDOM

1976 Fathers Of The Year

NEW YORK — Eight famous American men were named 1976 Fathers of the Year here Tuesday in the 41st observance of the annual ceremony.

The awards were made by the National Father's Day committee in the Imperial ballroom of the Hotel Americana.

The recipients of the coveted awards were Senator Edward M. Kennedy, National Father of the Year; Governor Brendan T. Byrne, Gubernatorial Father of the Year; Jesse Owens, Olympic Father of the Year; Dr. Frank Field, Science Father; Hughes Rudd, Father of the Year for Communications; Dave DeBusschere, Sports Father, and John Cullum, Stage Father.

The presentations were made on behalf of the National Father's Day committee by Ray Heatherton, this year's host-master of ceremonies who received the DAD award from Theodore M. Kaufman, chairman.

Senator Ted Kennedy, singled out for honors as National Father of the Year, is the third of the three famous Kennedy brothers to be so honored. President John F. Kennedy was named to the honor in 1962 and Senator Robert F. Kennedy, before him, in 1960. Senator Ted Kennedy has demonstrated a love and understanding of not just his own children, but has accepted responsibility for all the Kennedy children, the sons and daughters of both

"President Jack" and "Senator Bob," according to Kaufman. His visions for the future of all American children make his designation as national father particularly appropriate as this country moves into its third century of historic destiny, Kaufman said.

Jesse Owens, one of America's outstanding and beloved athletic figures, has "fathered" not just his own family of two daughters, but has acted as surrogate father for thousands of aspiring Olympians over the past four decades both by example and inspiration.

Governor Brendan Byrne of New Jersey is not just an outstanding and visionary statesman, Kaufman said, but is the contemporary father of seven children. His hopes and plans for future Garden State citizens rank high among the aspirations of today's civic leaders.

Hughes Rudd, Father of the Year for Communications, is anchorman on the CBS Morning News on nationwide television. Kaufman said that Rudd's perceptive observations of the American scene, viewed objectively as only a news analyst can see society, has made him an important influence on the daily lives of families from coast to coast. He has one son, Jon, and resides in New York.

Dr. Frank Field, Science Father of the Year, has pioneered in medical reporting for television, bringing new knowledge through his interpretation of medical breakthroughs. A television award-winning science broadcaster, Dr. Field is the father of David and two daughters, Pamela Diane and Allison Carol.

The committee selected Dave DeBusschere as Sports Father of the Year, because he was not just an outstanding basketball star, but also pitched with the Chicago White Sox during basketball off-season until becoming commissioner of the American Basketball Association last year. He serves as national chairman of the Carnival Division of Muscular Dystrophy and is the father of three children.

John Cullum, named Stage Father for 1976, is currently starring in the Broadway musical "Shenandoah" for which he received a Tony Award. In "Shenandoah" his role as the strong, dedicated, sympathetic father figure makes his selection appropriate in the Bicentennial year. Kauf-

Graduation Ball

LAKE MICHIGAN COLLEGE: Delta Phi Psi sorority of Lake Michigan college will sponsor a graduation ball Saturday, May 29, from 9 p.m. to 2 a.m. at the Benton Harbor Holiday Inn. The event will feature live entertainment and refreshments. Admission is free for LMC students and is $2 for non-students. Proceeds will go to the sorority's scholarship fund and scholarship certificates will be awarded during the ball. Among those planned the event are Vera Singleton, left, and Erma Mons. (Staff photo) man said. He has one son.

Luis Tiant, 1976 Baseball Father of the Year, sparked the 1975 pitching drive that led to a Red Sox pennant. "His miraculous return from an arm injury was an inspiration to sports fans all over and was a demonstration of the kind of spirit that has made baseball the symbol of American sports dedication," Kaufman reported. Tiant has three children, Daniel, Isabel and Luis.

Monday Is Grand Opening Of Backyard Cookout

Memorial Day. . . Decoration Day. . . how ever you refer to it, undoubtedly will mark your first big cookout of the season, whether at home or at your favorite park.

Two new recipes will help you celebrate sensationally.

Saucy Burgers are a clever new variation on the popular burger theme. The special flavor of sloppy joes cooks up in the burgers and highlights the creamy sauce topping. It's especially easy to create the perfect flavor with an envelope of seasoning mix for sloppy joes. Serve the burgers topped with lettuce and tomato for an attractive and tasty outdoor feast.

Potato Salad is a traditional outdoor favorite but this new version eliminates the work and waste of using fresh potatoes. A package of dehydrated scalloped potatoes makes it quick and easy. The package of seasoning mix that comes with the packaged scalloped potatoes combines with oil and vinegar for a zippy, easy-to dress.

Complete your cookout menu with carrot sticks, cupcakes and ice cold lemonade for a memorable Memorial Day feast.

SAUCY BURGERS

One envelope (one and one-half ounce) seasoning mix for sloppy joes
One-fourth cup oil
One-fourth cup vinegar
One and one-half pounds ground beef
One-half cup mayonnaise
Six hamburger rolls
Lettuce, sliced tomatoes
Stir together contents of seasoning mix envelope, oil and vinegar; add half to the ground beef and mix lightly. Shape six patties. Grill over hot coals or broil about 10 minutes, turning to cook both sides, until done.

Combine remaining seasoning mixture with mayonnaise. Serve burgers on rolls, topped with seasoned mayonnaise, lettuce and tomatoes. Makes six servings.

POTATO SALAD

One package (five and five-eighths ounce) scalloped potatoes
Three hard-cooked eggs
One cup chopped celery
One-fourth cup chopped sweet pickle
One-fourth cup oil
One-fourth cup vinegar or pickle juice
Paprika
Simmer potato slices from package in salted water to cover 10 to 15 minutes, until tender; drain and chill. Chop two eggs; combine with celery, pickle and chilled potatoes. Stir together seasoning mix from package of potatoes, oil and vinegar; add to potato mixture and toss lightly. Slice remaining egg and arrange on top of salad for garnish. Sprinkle with paprika. Makes six servings.

It really isn't difficult to spread a little sunshine, all it takes is a pleasant smile or a thoughtful word. What better time to let the sunshine in than on the first big backyard bash of the season, your Memorial Day cookout.

Sunny Day Chicken cooks on the outdoor grill until it is nearly done. Don't glaze the chicken on the grill until the last few minutes to avoid charring. Then at just the proper time, brush on a sunny sweet and sour glaze easily made with prepared yellow mustard, lemonade concentrate and honey. The result is a sunshiny glow and a mouthwatering taste treat.

Tender Grilled Ribs first grill to a turn, then simmer in a delicious barbecue sauce until tender. The sauce is homemade and gets added zip from prepared yellow mustard. No burnt offerings here, since cooking in the sauce keeps the ribs moist and tender and prevents charring.

Serve either recipe with tossed salad, hot garlic bread, iced tea or lemonade and strawberry shortcake for a sunny Memorial Day cookout.

SUNNY DAY CHICKEN
One frying chicken, cut up
One-fourth cup prepared yellow mustard
One-fourth cup undiluted lemonade concentrate
One-fourth cup honey
Grill chicken over hot coals for about 30 minutes, turning several times. Stir together mustard, lemonade concentrate and honey; brush over partially cooked chicken. Continue to grill 20 to 30 minutes, until tender. Makes four to six servings.

TENDER GRILLED RIBS
Four to six pounds spare ribs
One and one-half cups water
One-half cup prepared yellow mustard
One can (eight ounce) tomato sauce
One-fourth cup firmly packed brown sugar

Two tablespoons soy sauce
Grill ribs over hot coals for 30 minutes, until brown, but not thoroughly cooked. Combine water, mustard, tomato sauce, brown sugar and soy sauce in large pan; bring to a boil. Add partially cooked ribs, cover and simmer on edge of coals for 30 to 60 minutes longer, turning frequently in sauce, until tender. Makes four to six servings.

Memorial Day weekend gives Americans a running start on their favorite summer activities. Even while working most feel in a constant holiday mood.

Long days give ample time to putter about the yard or city terrace and barbecues and hibachis are seen throughout the land.

Chicken remains a top choice for summer eating. A Midwestern favorite, chicken and dumplings, turns up in a West Indian guise. There's a sweet-sour harvest chicken using dried prunes and apricots for added zest and a California-style chicken featuring artichoke hearts. All three are good indoor or outdoor eating.

CHICKEN AND DUMPLINGS, WEST INDIAN STYLE

Six slices bacon, chopped
One onion, chopped
One stewing chicken, about five pounds, cut up
Salt and pepper
Two cans (ten and three-fourths ounces each) chicken broth, undiluted
Water
One tablespoon Angostura aromatic bitters
Three whole turnips, peeled and diced
Eighteen small white onions, peeled Six medium potatoes, peeled and cut into one-inch cubes
One cup (one pint) light cream or half and half
One-half cup flour

DUMPLINGS
Four eggs
One teaspoon salt
One-half cup milk
Two cups unsifted all-purpose flour (about)

In a kettle, fry bacon and onion until crisp. Add chicken pieces, which have been sprinkled with salt and pepper and brown pieces on all sides.

Add chicken broth and water to cover. Cover kettle and simmer gently for one to one and one-half hours or until chicken is tender. Add bitters and vegetables. Stir to blend and simmer covered for another 20 to 25 minutes or until vegetables are tender.

In a bowl, mix cream and flour. Pour mixture into chicken

SUNNY DAY CHICKEN

Three tablespoons cornstarch
Eight thin slices lemon
Cooked rice
In skillet, brown chicken in shortening; pour off fat. Add broth, prunes, preserves and allspice. Cover; cook over low heat 45 minutes or until tender. Stir occasionally. Mix water and cornstarch; gradually blend into chicken mixture. Cook, stirring until thickened. Add lemon; heat. Serve with rice. Makes four servings.

CHICKEN CALIFORNIA STYLE

One broiler-fryer chicken, cut in serving pieces
One-half cup flour
One and one-half teaspoons salt, divided
One teaspoon curry powder
One-fourth cup butter or shortening
Three-fourths cup chicken broth
Three-fourths cup dry sherry
One pkg. (nine ounce) frozen artichoke hearts
Two tomatoes, cut in wedges

One onion, sliced
One-half green pepper sliced
Coat chicken pieces with mixture of flour, one teaspoon salt and curry powder. Melt butter in skillet; add chicken and brown on both sides, turning once. Add chicken broth and sherry. Cover. Simmer 25 to 30 minutes, until chicken is almost tender.

Push chicken to side. Add artichoke hearts, tomatoes, onion and green pepper. Sprinkle vegetables with remaining one-half teaspoon salt. Cover. Cook just until artichokes are tender, five to ten minutes. Makes four servings.

Broil Lamb

There are two kinds of lamb shoulder chops — arm, with a small round bone, and blade, with portions of the blade and backbone. These, like the more costly chops, are eligible for broiling.

Span The Budget Gap

Trying to get from one week to another, stay within the budget and feed the family a hearty meal each and every night, make these the times that try a woman's soul! Pasta can help build the bridge over troubled budget waters and keep the family asking for more.

These two new recipes create meatless or little meat main dishes.

Sloppy Joe Pie looks too great to be budget, and wait till the family tastes this one-dish wonder! The "crust" is actually a combination of elbow macaroni, egg and cheese. Canned tomatoes, frozen peas and an envelope of sloppy joe seasoning mix create the zesty filling. It's hard to believe that a main dish, which looks and tastes so special is actually quick and easy to make.

Serve either recipe with a tossed salad garnished with hard-cooked eggs, crisp carrot sticks, peach cobbler for dessert, coffee and milk.

SLOPPY JOE PIE

Eight ounces uncooked elbow macaroni (two cups)
Six slices processed American cheese
One egg, slightly beaten
One envelope (one and one-half ounce) seasoning mix for sloppy joes
One can (one-pound) tomatoes
One package (ten-ounce) frozen peas, partially thawed

Cook and drain macaroni as directed on package. Finely dice four slices of the cheese; add to macaroni with egg and toss lightly to mix. Spoon into well-greased nine or ten-inch piepan to form a macaroni "crust." Bake at 400 degrees for 15 to 20 minutes, until lightly browned. Combine contents of envelope of seasoning mix, tomatoes and peas in saucepan. Simmer 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Spoon into baked crust. Cut remaining cheese into strips; arrange on top of pie. Bake at 400 degrees for five to ten minutes. Makes six servings.

SAUSAGE NOODLE RING WITH SPECIAL CHEESE SAUCE

Eight ounces uncooked egg

noodies

One package (ten-ounce) frozen chopped spinach, partially thawed
Three eggs
One and one-half cups milk
One teaspoon salt
One envelope (one and one-half ounce) cheese sauce mix
Two tablespoons drained pickle relish

Cook sausage in large skillet until brown and crumbly, about 15 minutes; do not drain off excess fat. Cook noodles in boiling salted water five minutes. Add spinach; cook five to ten minutes longer, until noodles are tender. Drain.

Lightly beat together eggs, milk and salt, add to noodles with cooked sausage and toss lightly. Spoon into well-greased 12-cup ring mold or nine-inch square pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 25 to 30 minutes, until knife inserted in center comes out clean. Prepare cheese sauce mix as directed on envelope; stir in pickle relish. Serve over baked noodles. Makes six servings.

Span The Budget Gap

Trying to get from one week to another, stay within the budget and feed the family a hearty meal each and every night, make these the times that try a woman's soul! Pasta can help build the bridge over troubled budget waters and keep the family asking for more.

These two new recipes create meatless or little meat main dishes.

Sloppy Joe Pie looks too great to be budget, and wait till the family tastes this one-dish wonder! The "crust" is actually a combination of elbow macaroni, egg and cheese. Canned tomatoes, frozen peas and an envelope of sloppy joe seasoning mix create the zesty filling. It's hard to believe that a main dish which looks and tastes so special is actually quick and easy to make.

Serve either recipe with a tossed salad garnished with hard-cooked eggs, crisp carrot sticks, peach cobbler for dessert, coffee and milk.

SLOPPY JOE PIE

Eight ounces uncooked elbow

macaroni (two cups)

Six slices process American cheese

One egg, slightly beaten

One envelope (one and one-half-ounce) seasoning mix for

frozen peas, partially thawed

Cook and drain macaroni as directed on package. Finely dice four slices of the cheese;

add to macaroni with egg and toss lightly to mix. Spoon into well-greased nine or ten-inch piepan to form a macaroni

"crust." Bake at 400 degrees for 15 to 20 minutes, until lightly browned. Combine contents of envelope of seasoning mix,

'Your Problems' By Ann Landers

Don't Put It In Writing

Dear Ann Landers: I've had it, but maybe I can spare some other numbskull from making the same foolish mistake. It was such a simple thing that did me in. Insufficient postage.

My business takes me all over the world. I've met some charming people in England, France and Germany. One person in particular, caught my fancy. She lives in Munich.

We had a few interesting times together and I became infatuated. She wrote marvelous letters. I wrote a few myself. Of course, I always used office stationery.

Last week I called my wife from Paris and asked her to pick up my office mail so I could read it over the weekend. I was arriving home on Saturday.

In the stack of letters she found one to the woman in Munich — returned for insufficient postage. Of course, she slit the envelope and read my letter. Which I thought was pretty tacky. Nevertheless, I caught plenty of hell.

So please, Ann, share my stupidity with your readers and warn them to check the postage. If they aren't sure, stick on an extra 30 cents. It's worth it. — Draydel Knip and they want the family name continued. (P.S. I'm ashamed to tell you this, but Sid was shot by a cop in a currency exchange holdup.) Please answer soon. — Hassled In Yuma

Dear Draydel: I think I can improve on your advice. Never put anything in writing.

Dear Yuma: Glad you added the P.S. It influenced my decision considerably.

Change their names. Your wishes should take precedence over your deceased husband's parents.

boost to dedicated teachers — and there are thousands.

According to a psychiatrist in California, an unprecedented number of teachers are showing signs of "battle fatigue," the same stress that soldiers suffer from in time of war. More statistics:

There were 70,000 assaults on teachers by students in 1975. These assaults ranged from a slap in the face to being stabbed with an icepick and shot in the classroom with a Saturday night special. Dreadful commentary, isn't it?

Name Change

Dear Ann: My husband died two years ago. Sid left me with four children, the oldest 12, the youngest three. They are all healthy and beautiful.

I met a man last August whose wife and two children were killed in a car accident. He is a wonderful, kind person and we are really in love. This man wants to marry me and be a father to my children. (The twin he lost were all he had. They were born within weeks of my oldest two. It's as if we were destined to meet.)

The problem: After we marry, I want to go to the courthouse and have my children's last name changed so it will be the same as ours. Sid's parents are against it. He was their only son

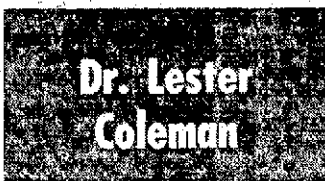

Real People

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 15-year-old girl who has something to say. I just wish the kids who read your column would open their eyes and see their teachers as people.

Up until now I never thought of teachers as human beings but something happened a few weeks ago that changed my whole outlook. I got into a little trouble and three teachers came forward to help me. It really blew my mind.

So please print my letter, Ann, and tell the students all over that it's more than a job with lots of them. They care. — New View

Dear View: Thank you for providing me with an opportunity to give a well-deserved

Dr. Lester Coleman

I consider myself a social drinker. I do wake up with a pretty good hangover that sometimes ruins the day's work. Each one of my friends has his own way of preventing hangovers. Do you have a good one? — Mr. R.L.O., Ohio

Dear Mr. O.:

There is, of course, a simple rule: If you don't want a hangover don't drink alcohol.

It must be recognized that the threshold of tolerance for alcohol varies from person to person. It also varies from time to time depending, for example, on whether one drinks on an empty or full stomach.

These thresholds are quickly learned by people who are truly "social drinkers." Consequently, hangovers rarely occur to them. And they are not in competition with their friends.

"Social drinkers," and you call yourself one, should sometimes re-evaluate their patterns of drinking. Far too often hard core alcoholics shield themselves by this misnomer.

Alcoholism is a subtle disease that flourishes almost before one is aware of its presence. True social drinkers rarely have hangovers. They know their limitations and adhere to them. These responsible social drinkers will never drive a car when they have exceeded their level of tolerance. The diminished reflexes that follow even "social drinking" make the automobile a lethal weapon for the destruction of the driver and for those unfortunate who cross his path.

Another aspect of hangovers that deserves consideration is the person who is truly allergic to certain mixtures of alcohol. It is an accepted fact that impurities, or "cogeners," can cause toxic reactions, and a hangover is a toxic reaction.

The teenager and the young adult, unfortunately, have, in recent years, been indulging in alcohol and excess drinking. The desire to "keep up with" the drinking habits of classmates and friends has made alcohol a distinct threat to the destiny of this younger generation.

Parents and educators must combine their forces and talents to reorienting young people if the social drinker is not to expand into the chronic alcoholic. The strictest possible rules must be established if the catastrophic counsel by automobile accidents, is ever to be reduced and eliminated.

I vividly recall the heartache of a family whose 17-year-old boy had just recovered from intricate open heart surgery. Four days later he was killed when the family car was struck by a group of "social drinking" teenagers.

The hangover of unhappiness of this family will last as long as they live.

BICENTENNIAL CAPSULE

Sights, Sounds, Smells

What have we become in 200 years?

If we were filling a Bicentennial time capsule to represent American life in 1976, what would we include?

TWA's Ambassador magazine took a poll of celebrities and got some interesting answers that ran the gamut from a Bible and a credit card to a Watergate tape and a Peanut cartoon.

No one asked me, but whenever I think of the sights, sounds, and smells of 1976, three things come to mind.

The smell of '76, of course, was the herbal. I'd put an herbal into the capsule. Don't ask me what an herbal looks like. All I know is we all smell like one. A day without herbal at our house is like a day without soap, shampoo, deodorant or air freshener.

Sometimes I feel like I am living on Christmas tree ridge.

A few years ago, we all smelled like lemon, but then long hair came in and people began to pucker every time a teenager walked into the room, so the shift went to herbal.

There is probably no other single item in our house that generates so much conversation as the herbal shampoo. Who has it? Who used it last? How much is left?

What would you put in the capsule for the sound of '76? A flick of a Bic? John Denver's voice wailing, "Far out"? Or the swooshing of a flip top off a billion beverage cans?

I opt for a long-playing recording of two million teenagers ending every sentence with the two words, "You know?" One of my sons was relating a movie he saw one night and I counted 138 "You knows?" The only trouble with 138 "You knows?" is that you feel bound to respond to them each time they're asked and at the end of the conversation my head bobbed like a runaway rocking chair.

The visible part of the Bicentennial year is easy. There is one item that has dominated the American scene and touched the life of every American: the T-shirt.

I have seen them on every form ever invented. Some T-shirts identify, some amuse, some offend, others instruct. Some are obscene. Some are signed by famous designers. Some advertise. I saw one on a rather "healthy" girl the other day that was worn to mold an opinion. (No one should be THAT opinionated.)

Whatever, cheap T-shirts never die, they just fade. Frankly, I'd give a fortune to see the citizen of 2076 take a T-shirt out of a capsule and ponder the message on it: "CLEAN UP THE WORLD TOMORROW. TODAY JUST DO YOUR ROOM!"

'Your Problems' By Ann Landers

Don't Put It In Writing

Dear Ann Landers: I've had it, but maybe I can spare some other numbskull from making the same foolish mistake. It was such a simple thing that did me in. Insufficient postage.

My business takes me all over the world. I've met some charming people in England, France and Germany. One person in particular, caught my fancy. She lives in Munich.

We had a few interesting times together and I became infatuated. She wrote marvelous letters. I wrote a few myself. Of course, I always used office stationery.

Last week I called my wife from Paris and asked her to pick up my office mail so I could read it over the weekend. I was arriving home on Saturday.

In the stack of letters she found one to the woman in Munich — returned for insufficient postage. Of course, she slit the envelope and read my letter. Which I thought was pretty tacky. Nevertheless, I caught plenty of hell.

So please, Ann, share my stupidity with your readers and warn them to check the postage. If they aren't sure, stick on an extra 30 cents. It's worth it. — Draydel Kaup

Dear Draydel: I think I can improve on your advice. Never put anything in writing.

Name Change

Dear Ann: My husband died two years ago. Sid left me with four children, the oldest 12, the youngest three. They are all healthy and beautiful.

I met a man last August whose wife and two children were killed in a car accident. He is a wonderful, kind person and we are really in love. This man wants to marry me and be a father to my children. (The two he lost were all he had. They were born within weeks of my oldest two. It's as if we were destined to meet.)

The problem: After we marry, I want to go to the courthouse and have my children's last name changed so it will be the same as ours. Sid's parents are against it. He was their only son

Real People

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 15-year-old girl who has something to say. I just wish the kids who read your column would open their eyes and see their teachers as people.

Up until now I never thought of teachers as human beings but something happened a few weeks ago that changed my whole outlook. I got into a little trouble and three teachers came forward to help me. It really blew my mind.

So please print my letter, Ann, and tell the students all over that it's more than a job with lots of them. They care. — New View boost to dedicated teachers — and there are thousands.

Dear View: Thank you for providing me with an opportunity to give a well-deserved

According to a psychiatrist in California, an unprecedented number of teachers are showing signs of "battle fatigue," the same stress that soldiers suffer from in time of war. More statistics:

There were 70,000 assaults on teachers by students in 1975. These assaults ranged from a slap in the face to being stabbed with an icepick and shot in the classroom with a Saturday night special. Dreadful commentary, isn't it?

"Sexual freedom" presents a difficult decision for teenagers and their parents. Ann Landers offers down-to-earth advice in her new booklet, "High School Sex And How To Deal With It — A Guide For Teens And Their Parents." Dr. Lester Coleman

I consider myself a social drinker. I do wake up with a pretty good hangover that sometimes ruins the day's work. Each one of my friends has his own way of preventing hangovers. Do you have a good one? — Mr. R.L.O., Ohio

Dear Mr. O:

There is, of course, a simple rule: If you don't want a hangover don't drink alcohol.

It must be recognized that the threshold of tolerance for alcohol varies from person to person. It also varies from time to time depending, for example, on whether one drinks on an empty or full stomach.

These thresholds are quickly learned by people who are truly "social drinkers." Consequently, hangovers rarely occur to them. And they are not in competition with their friends.

"Social drinkers," and you call yourself one, should sometimes re-evaluate their patterns of drinking. Far too often hard core alcoholics shield themselves by this misnomer.

Alcoholism is a subtle disease that flourishes almost before one is aware of its presence. True social drinkers rarely have hangovers. They know their limitations and adhere to them. These responsible social drinkers will never drive a car when they have exceeded their level of tolerance. The diminished reflexes that follow even "social drinking" make the automobile a lethal weapon for the destruction of the driver and for those unfortunates who cross his path.

Another aspect of hangovers that deserves consideration is the person who is truly allergic to certain mixtures of alcohol. It is an accepted fact that impurities, or "cogeners," can cause toxic reactions, and a hangover is a toxic reaction.

The teenager and the young adult, unfortunately, have, in recent years, been indulging in alcohol and excess drinking. The desire to "keep up with" the drinking habits of classmates and friends has made alcohol a distinct threat to the destiny of this younger generation.

Parents and educators must combine their forces and talents to reorienting young people if the social drinker is not to expand into the chronic alcoholic. The strictest possible rules must be established if the catastrophe caused by automobile accidents, is ever to be reduced and eliminated.

I vividly recall the heartache of a family whose 17-year-old boy had just recovered from intricate open heart surgery. Four days later he was killed when the family car was struck by a group of "social drinking" teenagers.

The hangover of unhappiness of this family will last as long as they live.

Make Cereal Crisp Again

If your cereal has lost its crispness (and it often does during hot, rainy or muggy days of summer), restore it by heating the cereal in a shallow baking pan in a 350 degree oven for about five to 10 minutes.

Then store it in tightly sealed containers and it will stay crisp for a much longer period of time.

BICENTENNIAL CAPSULE

Sights, Sounds, Smells

What have we become in 200 years?

If we were filling a Bicentennial time capsule to represent American life in 1976, what would we include?

TWA's Ambassador magazine took a poll of celebrities and got some interesting answers that ran the gamut from a Bible and a credit card to a Watergate tape and a Peanuts cartoon.

No one asked me, but whenever I think of the sights, sounds, and smells of 1976, three things come to mind.

The smell of '76, of course, was the herbal. I'd put an herbal into the capsule. Don't ask me what an herbal looks like. All I know is we all smell like one. A day without herbal at our house is like a day without soap, shampoo, deodorant or air freshener.

Sometimes I feel like I am living on Christmas tree ridge.

A few years ago, we all smelled like lemon, but then long hair came in and people began to pucker every time a teenager walked into the room, so the shift went to herbal.

There is probably no other single item in our house that generates so much conversation as the herbal shampoo. Who has it? Who used it last? How much is left?

What would you put in the capsule for the sound of '76? A flick of a Bic? John Denver's voice wailing, "Far out"? Or the swooshing of a flip top off a billion beverage cans?

I opt for a long-playing recording of two million teenagers ending every sentence with the two words, "You know?" One of my sons was relating a movie he saw one night and I counted 138 "You knows?" The only trouble with 138 "You knows?" is that you feel bound to respond to them each time they're asked and at the end of the conversation my head bobbed like a runaway rocking chair.

The visible part of the Bicentennial year is easy. There is one item that has dominated the

Schedule Six-Week Story Hours

Van Buren county library will conduct six-week story hours at the Mattawan, Covert and Gobles branches beginning June 2.

Youngsters four through eight are invited to attend. Advance registration is requested.

Theme of the story hours will be "Animal Friends" and will begin at 3:30 p.m. Wednesday, June 2, at the Mattawan branch; 3:30 p.m. Thursday, June 3, Covert, and at 3:30 p.m. Friday, Gobles.

Becky Covey, special services librarian, will present such films as "Madeline's Rescue" and "Danny and the Dinosaur" as well as read stories, play games and make crafts with the children.

Each child attending will receive a paperback book of one of the audio-visual stories. Other free books will be given away periodically throughout the six-week program to each child in attendance.

The free story hours are made possible through the Federal Library Services and Construction Act Grant to encourage reading interest in young children, according to Miss Covey.

Humphrey-Hawkins: Big Issue Of '76

By TOM BAUM
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the liveliest economic debates in Congress and on the presidential campaign trail is over the Humphrey-Hawkins bill, a measure that seeks to dramatically reduce unemployment by providing more jobs.

Sponsored by Sen. Hubert

Humphrey, D-Minn., and Rep. Augustus Hawkins, D-Calif., the bill is backed by Democratic leaders in Congress and most of the party's presidential contenders. Backers claim the bill will bring the nation "full employment" by 1980.

But critics, including the Ford administration and congressional conservatives, claim the legislation would be excessively expensive, inflationary and might disrupt the current economic recovery.

Both sides claim the measure has been widely misunderstood. Here are some of the most frequently asked questions on the controversial bill, along with an attempt at some answers:

Q — What would the bill do?

A — Broadly speaking, it would establish a new national economic planning process with the ultimate objective of guaranteeing a job to every adult willing and able to work.

Specifically, it sets a goal of 3 per cent adult unemployment to be reached within four years. The April jobless rate was 7.6 per cent.

Q — How would this goal be achieved?

A — First, the President, Congress and the Federal Reserve would take various steps aimed at stimulating private industry to produce new jobs. To further close the unemployment gap, there would be a public service jobs program to employ those unable to find work elsewhere.

Q — Why is it referred to as "full employment" legislation when it still envisions adult unemployment at 3 per cent?

A — Backers claim 3 per cent is about as close to achieving full adult employment as can be attained. They note that there will always be a degree of residual unemployment — including the hard-core "unemployables" and some persons who are in the process of going from one job to another.

Economists disagree on the 3 per cent figure, however. During the Kennedy-Johnson years, government economists generally considered a 4 per cent level as "full employment." But Alan Greenspan, chairman of President Ford's Council of Economic Advisers, claims setting any rate as "full employment" is foolhardy. Full employment is just "the highest level of productive employment which is sustainable over the long run," and the actual percentages will vary, he says.

Q — What would the legislation cost?

A — The Ford administration, which opposes it, says the program will cost as much as $30 billion annually. Sponsors say the cost will be considerably less and, in any event, they claim the benefits will outweigh the costs.

The difficulty in predicting the cost arises because it is impossible to tell in advance how many government public service jobs might be needed to achieve the 3 per cent figure.

Every percentage point of unemployment is roughly equivalent to about one million jobs.

The Congressional Budget Office has estimated that to provide one million public service jobs — and thus cut unemployment by 1 per cent — the government would have to spend between $8 billion and $14 billion.

But the costs of such jobs are partially offset by reductions in welfare and unemployment compensation costs and by increases in income tax revenues, the office noted.

Thus, it estimated the net annual cost of the Humphrey-Hawkins bill would probably be in the range of $8 billion to $16 billion — considerably less than that predicted by the administration.

State Migrant Agencies Plan Area Training Meet

Representatives from state agencies that deal with migrant laborers will hold a meeting in Benton township next month to explain and coordinate their services to migrants. The meeting will be held June 8 from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Ramada Inn, according to Luis Murrain, of the office of migrant services, Michigan Department of Social Services. Growers, migrants and other interested persons are invited in the session, said Murrain. Registration costs $5. The meeting is one of five slated around the state during the week of June 7.

But critics, including the Ford administration and congressional conservatives, claim the legislation would be enormously expensive, inflationary and might disrupt the current economic recovery.

Both sides claim the measure has been widely misunderstood.

Here are some of the most frequently asked questions on the controversial bill, along with an attempt at some answers:

Q — What would the bill do?

A — Broadly speaking, it would establish a new national economic planning process with the ultimate objective of guaranteeing a job to every adult willing and able to work.

Specifically, it sets a goal of 3 per cent adult unemployment to be reached within four years. The April jobless rate was 7.5 per cent.

Q — How would this goal be achieved?

A — First, the President, Congress and the Federal Reserve would take various steps aimed at stimulating private industry to produce new jobs. To further close the unemployment gap, there would be a public service jobs program to employ those unable to find work elsewhere.

Q — Why is it referred to as "full employment" legislation when it still envisions adult unemployment at 3 per cent?

A — Backers claim 3 per cent is about as close to achieving full adult employment as can be attained. They note that there will always be a degree of residual unemployment — including the hard-core "unemployables" and some persons who are in the process of going from one job to another.

Economists disagree on the 3 per cent figure, however. During the Kennedy-Johnson years, government economists generally considered a 4 per cent level as "full employment." But Alan Greenspan, chairman of President Ford's Council of Economic Advisers, claims setting any rate as "full employment" is foolhardy. Full employment is just "the highest level of productive employment which is sustainable over the long run," and the actual percentages will vary, he says.

Q — What would the legislation cost?

A — The Ford administration, which opposes it, says the program will cost as much as $30 billion annually. Sponsors say the cost will be considerably less and, in any event, they claim the benefits will outweigh the costs.

The difficulty in predicting the cost arises because it is impossible to tell in advance how many government public service jobs might be needed to achieve the 3 per cent figure.

Every percentage point of unemployment is roughly equivalent to about one million jobs.

The Congressional Budget Office has estimated that to provide one million public service jobs — and thus cut unemployment by 1 per cent — the government would have to spend between $8 billion and $14 billion.

But the costs of such jobs are partially offset by reductions in welfare and unemployment compensation costs and by increases in income tax revenues, the office noted.

Thus, it estimated the net annual cost of the Humphrey-Hawkins bill would probably be in the range of $8 billion to $16 billion — considerably less than that predicted by the administration.

COMMENT ON JOINT BILL: Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., left, and Rep. Augustus Hawkins, D-Calif., face newsmen in Washington Tuesday where they discussed a joint measure they are sponsoring which seeks to reduce unemployment. Democratic leaders in Congress say the legislation will bring the nation "full employment" by 1980. (AP Wirephoto)

State Migrant Agencies Plan Area Training Meet

Representatives from state agencies that deal with migrant laborers will hold a meeting in Benton township next month to explain and coordinate their services to migrants. The meeting will be held June 9 from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Ramada Inn, according to Luis Murrain, of the office of migrant services, Michigan Department of Social Services. Growers, migrants and other interested persons are invited to the session, said Murrain. Registration costs $5. The meeting is one of five slated around the state during the week of June 7.

Sinn To Leave Top Regional Planning Post

CASSOPOLIS — Thomas Sinn, executive director of the Southwestern Michigan Regional Planning Commission since the position was established two years ago, announced Tuesday he is resigning this summer to open a private consulting firm.

THOMAS SINN
Leaving Planning Post

Sinn, 35, submitted his formal resignation effective Aug. 1 at the regular monthly meeting of the planning commission in the Cass county commission chambers here.

The planning commission accepted the resignation with regret and established a committee to screen candidates for the director's position. The commission has nine employees on the planning staff.

Sinn said he planned to open a private planning consultant firm in the St. Joseph area and added that he already has an agreement with the city of Niles for some community planning activities.

Sinn previously served as Berrien county's first planning director from 1968 until April, 1974, when he resigned to accept the regional post. Before that he was planning director for the cities of Ithaca, N.Y., and East

Sinn is a native of St. Joseph and a 1956 graduate of St. Joseph high school. He received a bachelor's degree from the Michigan State University school of urban planning. He is married, has two children and lives at 3920 Duxer drive in St. Joseph township.

Regional Planners Clear $2.8 Million Grant Bids

CASSOPOLIS — The Southwestern Michigan Regional Planning Commission Tuesday cleared federal Community Development grant applications totaling more than $2.8 million from communities in Berrien and Cass counties.

The commission also went on record against the proposed state land use planning act that at last report was being considered by the House Appropriations committee.

Heading the list of grant applications, which were cleared with no negative comments, was a revised $1.4 million proposal from the City of Benton Harbor.

The original application from Benton Harbor included projects amounting to $335,000 that were declared ineligible for funding by the regional office of the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

The ineligible projects, which included controversial proposals for a mayor's newsletter and an ombudsman in city hall, are replaced by the amended application by other projects that the HUD office has indicated will be eligible for funding.

Other Community Development grants cleared by the planning commission included: Village and Township of Baroda, $150,000; City of Buchanan, $137,000; Village of Berrien Springs, $265,000; Village of Gallien, $250,000; Niles Township, $300,000; Village of Vandalia, $100,000; and the City of Dowagiac, $208,000.

Also cleared were a proposed $416,000 loan or grant from the Farmers Home Administration for a new water storage tank and pipeline for the Village of Three Oaks, an application for $117,438 in state and federal funds for replacing the Butter-nut street bridge in Watervliet, and an application in $15,871 in federal funds for upgrading signs on secondary roads in Cass county.

An application for almost $1.7 million in federal and state funds for development of a sanitary sewer collection and treatment system for the Indian Lake area of Silver Creek township in Cass county was passed on with unresolved negative comments from the City of Dowagiac and the Cass county planning commission concerning the area to be served and possible duplication of effort. The funds are being sought by the Cass county department of public works.

The planning commission also went on record as opposing the new proposed state land use planning act that at last report was being considered by the house appropriations committee.

The land use bill, introduced by Rep. Philip O. Mastin of Oakland county, would establish a nine-member state land use commission and 40-member advisory council to prepare and administer a state land use plan.

Local assistance planner David Holloman said the staff report adopted by the commission said criticism of the bill was based mainly on the addition of another agency to a growing state bureaucracy and infringement by state government on a matter of primarily local and regional responsibility.

Copies of the position adopted by the planning commission will be sent to the governor, legislators and local government officials from the tri-county area.

In other action yesterday, the planning commission:

— Received official notification of its designation as water control management agency for this area that paves the way for a possible $103,900 grant from the Environmental Protection Agency for a two-year study.

— Approved a contract with the Michigan Department of State Highways and Transportation for the regional part of a statewide transportation study at $18,000 for one year.

— Approved land use plans prepared with planning staff assistance for the townships of Bainbridge, Chikaming, Watervliet in Berrien county and Keeler township in Van Buren county.

The planning commissions recommendations are sent to federal and state agencies that make final decisions.

Delivery Man Hit By Thieves

CASSOPOLIS — A delivery man told Cass sheriff's deputies he surprised burglars in the Curve Inn restaurant on M-62 south of here about 5 a.m. today and was then struck on the head as they ran off.

Deputies said the man refused treatment for a minor head wound. He was identified as Ronald Smith, 35, of Elkhardt, a doughnut delivery man.

Officers said the thieves escaped with over $100 in cash from the restaurant before deputies arrived. Officers said Smith reported the incident on his citizens band radio.

WISCONSIN EYES REPEAL Teen Drinking Reviewed

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Even the tavern owners who profit from it say Wisconsin's lowered legal drinking age of 18 has become a nuisance and ought to be repealed.

Chris Siebert, a bartender at a tavern in the Marquette University neighborhood, said the teen-age liquor privilege has improved patronage, but that he would prefer to do without it.

"I wish they would raise it to 21," Siebert said. "Kids come in here and can't handle it. They aren't mature enough."

School officials and law enforcement authorities are particularly annoyed with the four-year-old law, saying it encourages drinking among eligible high school students who share their purchases with companions several years younger.

The pressure to increase the state's minimum age for buying alcoholic beverage was outlined in a recent series of hearings by a legislative committee chaired by Rep. Eugene Dorff, D-Kenosha.

The drinking age was reduced simultaneously with a nationwide move to lower the voting age from 21 to 18. Dorff said his committee is considering legislation to amend the drinking age at least to 19, reflecting attitudes expressed by other states.

For example, Illinois allows sale of beer and wine to persons at 18, but nothing at 16, he said.

Neighboring Minnesota recently increased its minimum to 19, creating a drinking-and-driving problem among 18-year-old motorists who now cross the border to drink in Wisconsin, a New Richmond police chief told Dorff's committee.

Five bills to raise the age to 19 died in the latest session of the legislature. Dorff said legislation to be introduced in 1977 could range from a new age limit to simply prohibiting sales to 18-year-olds before they graduate from high school.

At least one organization of tavern proprietors is already urging its members to refuse to serve non-graduates, he said. Another group, the Wisconsin Tavernkeepers Association, wants the age upped to 18.

A higher age would "put the interests of our youth ahead of business interests," Mrs. Norman Spear, vice president of the Wisconsin Parent-Teacher Association, said.

Chris Siebert, a bartender at a tavern in the Marquette University neighborhood, said the teen-age liquor privilege has improved patronage, but that he would prefer to do without it.

"I wish they would raise it to 21," Siebert said. "Kids come in here and can't handle it. They aren't mature enough."

School officials and law enforcement authorities are particularly annoyed with the four-year-old law, saying it encourages drinking among eligible high school students who share their purchases with companions several years younger.

The pressure to increase the state's minimum age for buying alcoholic beverage was outlined in a recent series of hearings by a legislative committee chaired by Rep. Eugene Dorff, D-Kenosha.

The drinking age was reduced simultaneously with a nationwide move to lower the voting age from 21 to 18. Dorff said his committee is considering legislation to amend the drinking age at least to 19, reflecting attitudes expressed by other states.

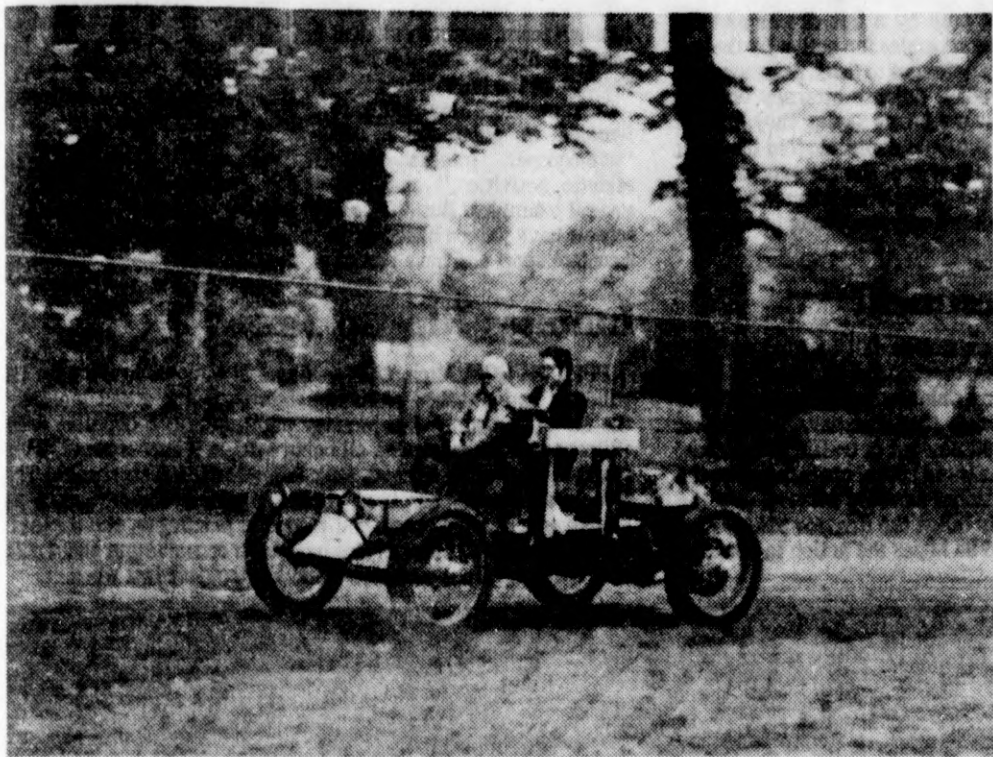

For example, Illinois allows sale of beer and wine to persons at 19, but nothing at 18, he said.

Neighboring Minnesota recently increased its minimum to 19, creating a drinking-and-driving problem among 18-year-old motorists who now cross the border to drink in Wisconsin, a New Richmond police chief told Dorff's committee.

Five bills to raise the age to 19 died in the latest session of the legislature. Dorff said legislation to be introduced in 1977 could range from a new age limit to simply prohibiting sales to 18-year-olds before they graduate from high school.

At least one organization of tavern proprietors is already urging its members to refuse to serve non-graduates, he said. Another group, the Wisconsin Tavernkeepers Association, wants the age upped to 19.

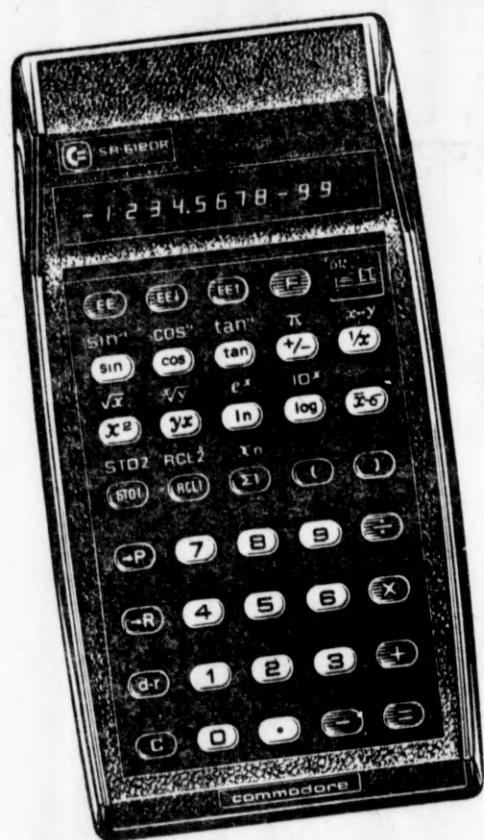

A higher age would "put the interests of our youth ahead of business interests," Mrs. Norman Spear, vice president of the Wisconsin Parent-Teacher Association, said.

Fitzsimmons' Son Loses Union Vote

DETROIT (AP) — Richard Fitzsimmons, son of international Teamsters president Frank Fitzsimmons, lost out Tuesday in a battle for control of the 18,000-member Teamsters Local 299.

On a 4-3 vote, the union's

executive board chose as its new president Robert Lins, a 50-year-old trustee and business agent.

Local 299 was once the power base of James R. Hoffa, the missing ex-Teamsters boss who vanished July 30.

Retiring President Dave Johnson cast the tie-breaking vote in favor of Lins, who is considered a compromise candidate between supporters of the Fitzsimmons faction of the union and another faction whose supporters had backed Hoffa before he disappeared.

Fitzsimmons, the local's vice president, received his own vote and those of two others.

Fitzsimmons was passed over in favor of Lins apparently because of longstanding discontent with him among the union's rank-and-file. That discontent boiled over in a demonstration before a union meeting Sunday.

The demonstration against Fitzsimmons was staged by about 100 members of a dissident group, Teamsters for a Decent Contract.

UAW Sounds Warning

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A United Auto Workers vice president has warned the union will take into consideration alleged interference by General Motors Corp. in UAW organizing when it picks a strike target in upcoming contract talks. "This is all part and parcel of what our final decision will be," Irving Bluestone said in Pittsburgh Tuesday following a meeting of the UAW's General Motors Council. Bluestone referred to what he called GM's southern strategy to keep the union out of six new plants it has built in the South. "GM should certainly be taking a lead in UAW thinking about who will be the target," he said. Bluestone claimed GM distributed leaflets to southern workers during organizing drives, calling the UAW "vultures down here to take your dues money." He called the leaflets "vicious anti-union, anti-UAW literature. How would they (GM) like it if we made Chevrolets and said the Chevy was a lousy car?" Bluestone promised council delegates the union would win contract language in the contract talks, which began July 19, to guarantee the company remains neutral in future southern organizing drives.

Headless Body Unearthed

DETROIT (AP) — Investigators have dug up the headless body of a woman in the continuing probe of the Wayne County Morgue, county officials say. Officials said Tuesday the body was unearthed Monday near Ann Arbor and taken to the Wayne County morgue for examination. They refused to say what was revealed by the examination. Officials said other bodies will be dug up in the probe of charges from Wayne County Medical Examiner Werner Spitz that his former assistant, Dr. Milford Bass, dismembered bodies and removed body parts from the morgue without authorization. Bass has denied the charges. He resigned from the Medical Examiner's Office last week and last was reported vacationing at an undisclosed site. The exhumed corpse was believed to be that of a 24-year-old Detroit woman who died in December 1974. Her death was listed as a heroin overdose. She was buried last August by the Perry Funeral Home after her body remained unclaimed for nearly nine months. John Lucnikar, an official of the Perry Funeral Home, said Wayne County Organized Crime Task Force investigators had asked him for a list of all the names of unclaimed bodies the home buried in August, 1975.

They Didn't Tell

DETROIT (AP) — Federal prosecutors say they agreed not to inform the news media about a guilty plea made by a Trix real estate man indicted in a federal housing case. Leo Donigan pled guilty to charges of paying off a federal appraiser. The agreement for the May 6 plea was made between Asst. U.S. Atty. Peter J. Kelley and James Finn, attorney for the indicted Donigan. Asked about the secrecy, Kelley said, "Finn asked that we not notify the press about Donigan's appearance to plead guilty to paying off Emmett R. Newell, a former appraiser for the Federal Housing Administration (FHA). I guess Finn wanted to avoid publicity about the guilty plea because it might endanger Donigan's license to practice law and sell real estate. It was a courtesy that many lawyers request for their clients," Kelley said. Finn, a former Oakland County assistant prosecutor and special prosecutor for the Wayne County citizens grand jury, was not available for comment. Donigan was indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of bribing two FHA appraisers and paying gratuities to two other FHA appraisers in 1970 and 1971. The government said that in return for the bribes, the two FHA appraisers gave favorable appraisals on houses that Donigan was selling.

Seafarer Bill Advances

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A bill permitting counties in the Upper Peninsula to hold public referenda on Project Seafarer in the August primary election is nearing final approval in the legislature. The bill was passed by the Senate Tuesday, 29-2, and sent to the House for agreement in minor changes. The Upper Peninsula has been mentioned as a possible site for the huge underground communications system, which would permit messages to be sent to submerged submarines. Dickinson, Iron, Ontonagon, Gogebic and Baraga county voters rejected the idea of Seafarer on the May 18 presidential primary ballot. Other counties in the U.P. did not put the question on the ballot then, and the bill approved Tuesday would permit them to place the question before voters on Aug. 3. In other action Tuesday, the Senate passed, 28-3, and sent to the House a bill to permit local credit unions to merge with state or federal credit unions under certain circumstances.

Mineral Spa Burns

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich. (AP) — A fire Tuesday night raged through the now-vacant Arctura Hotel, last of the hotels from the city's mineral bath era. Firemen fought the blaze for several hours as flames shot 75 feet above the three-story structure. Police said a man identified as Paul Lacroix, 23, New Baltimore, was found near the burning structure and was taken to a local hospital where he was treated for burns over 45 per cent of his body. A fireman also was taken to the hospital and treated for smoke inhalation. The hotel, built in 1914, had 54 rooms and a 40-bath bathhouse in the basement. In its heyday, the hotel gave 325 mineral baths a day, but it has been closed for the past two years. City officials last December hired independent appraisers to assess the value of the hotel and committed $750,000 to possible purchase.

50,000 Notices

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The State Police would have to notify 50,000 citizens that police have files on them under a bill now before the House. The House Civil Rights Committee Tuesday reported the bill out on a 6-3 vote. The measure, sponsored by Rep. Perry Bullard, D-Ann Arbor, is similar to a recommendation made by the attorney general. The files were collected by the now-defunct Special Investigations Unit of the State Police, known as the Red Squad because of its investigation of purported subversives. Earlier this year, an Ingham County Circuit Court judge declared the laws creating the unit unconstitutional and ordered the unit disbanded. Under Bullard's bill, citizens named in the files would have six months to request copies.

Upgrading Judges' Status

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The state legislature has given final approval to a bill upgrading the status of 14 part-time Northern Michigan probate court judges and increasing their salaries. The bill, passed in the Senate, 28-2, and sent to Gov. William Milliken, also would boost the salaries of other probate judges in small counties. Part-time probate judges would be barred from appearing as attorneys in probate courts. The bill is designed to help eliminate conflict of interest in probate courts by preventing judges from representing clients in court matters. Backers say it will also increase the quality and integrity of probate courts by making more judges full-time and better paid. The bill's sponsor, Rep. Paul Rosenbaum, D-Battle Creek, estimated the bill will cost the state $80,864 in fiscal 1976-77 and $121,152 for fiscal 1977-78.

'No Excuse Now ...'

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Claiming the state Supreme Court has removed the last barrier to re-enacting a political ethics package, Common Cause has called for quick legislative action to regulate political activity in Michigan. The citizens lobby organization on Tuesday asked for rapid approval of a package of political ethics bills to take the place of the comprehensive law, overturned by the court several weeks ago. The Michigan Supreme Court ruled the 1974 law was unconstitutional because it contained too many diverse elements. Last week, in an advisory opinion to the legislature, the court gave its informal ruling on the constitutionality of the individual provisions. Common Cause leaders, claiming the court upheld the major provisions of the law, said legislators have no excuse now not to approve political ethics laws.

Policewoman On Trial

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — Prosecution testimony was to begin today in the trial of a black Flint policewoman who is charged with shooting a white male officer in a dispute over who would drive their patrol car. A jury of four women and 10 men was selected Tuesday. Two of the women and two men are black. Madeline Fletcher, 20, is charged with assault with intent to do great bodily harm less than murder in the shooting of Walter Kallherer, 34, last Dec. 27. Defense attorney Kenneth Czekrel of Detroit said he would call police Officer Perry Hancock, who witnessed the shooting. Czekrel told the jury Hancock will testify he heard Kallherer use abusive language when he told Miss Fletcher to "move over" so he could drive the patrol car. Czekrel said Hancock will testify Kallherer was "taking steps" toward Miss Fletcher when she opened fire.

Jury Made A Mistake

MONROE, Mich. (AP) — A Monroe County Circuit Court judge, acting in what he called "an experience without parallel in my 20 years on the bench," has set aside a jury verdict and ordered a new trial in a 1969 accident involving a school bus and a funeral cortege. The action by Judge William Weipery came after it was established at a hearing Monday that a six-person jury made a mistake in rendering its decision at the close of a three-day trial in March. Following eight hours of deliberation, the jury on March 25 found in favor of three plaintiffs and against the Monroe school board and a school bus driver. The case involved the funeral procession right-of-way law. In the decision announced to the court, the jury found negligence both by a bus driver and the driver of the car. Although finding no cause for action by the car driver, the jury awarded $49,500 in damages to three passengers in the car. During the hearing Monday, defense attorney William Braunlich filed affidavits from the six jurors saying they had not meant to return a verdict against the defendants. He told the court that the jury meant to say that the driver of the car was guilty of negligence. He said the mistake was discovered when the jurors, after being discharged, wanted to know why the wrong person was smiling after the verdict.

Railroad Abandonment

BARAGA, Mich. (AP) — An application will be filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission to abandon 50 miles of lines north of Baraga to Lake Linden and Calumet in Michigan's Upper Peninsula. Soo Line Railway officials said Tuesday. Soo officials said there has been only a minimal amount of traffic in the area. They said one of the main expenses is the cost of operating over the Portage Lake trestle. Soo President Leonard Murray said the state highway department recently billed the firm for $348,000 for past operating costs. Leonard said he hopes the action to abandon goes through speedily.

Boy-Girl Baseball Bill Over Hurdle

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Schoolgirls could play baseball with boys under a bill nearing final approval in the state legislature.

The Senate voted 34-0 Tuesday and returned to the House a bill which includes baseball in a list of non-contact interscholastic sports in which girls can compete.

Even if a school had a girls' baseball team, a female student would be able to compete for a position on the boys' team.

Current state law permits females to participate in all "non-contact interscholastic athletic activities," and lists several examples. But different schools have judged baseball as a contact sport and have barred girls from the boys' team.

The bill returned to the House, which has already approved it, for agreement in minor amendments.

In other action Tuesday, the Senate:

—Passed, 23-2, and sent to the House a bill to require boat owners to purchase a title for crafts of more than 20 feet or if the boat has a permanent engine. Owners of boats of less than 20 feet could purchase a title for $5, if they wished to have proof of ownership.

—Passed, 33-1, and sent to the House a bill to include bicycle paths as an improvement which can be paid for by bond issues or a tax levy.

Inmates Rip Up Jail

PORT HURON, Mich. (AP) — Some 25 inmates broke over 140 windows and smashed plumbing fixtures in three cell blocks of the St. Clair County Jail Monday night, sheriff's deputies said. Officers said the prisoners, all being held on felony charges, were confined to the jail's drunk tank following the disturbance. The trouble apparently has been simmering since Sunday when an inmate was refused candy and cigarette privileges, the deputies said. Officers said inmates also have been complaining about cold cells resulting from a window-breaking incident last week.

The Senate voted 34-0 Tuesday and returned to the House a bill which includes baseball in a list of non-contact interscholastic sports in which girls can compete.

Even if a school had a girls' baseball team, a female student would be able to compete for a position on the boys' team.

Current state law permits females to participate in all "non-contact interscholastic athletic activities," and lists several examples. But different schools have judged baseball as a contact sport and have barred girls from the boys' team.

The bill returned to the House, which has already approved it, for agreement in minor amendments.

In other action Tuesday, the Senate:

—Passed, 23-2, and sent to the House a bill to require boat owners to purchase a title for crafts of more than 20 feet or if the boat has a permanent engine. Owners of boats of less than 20 feet could purchase a title, for $5, if they wished to have proof of ownership.

—Passed, 33-1, and sent to the House a bill to include bicycle paths as an improvement which can be paid for by bond issues or a tax levy.

Inmates Rip Up Jail

PORT HURON, Mich. (AP) — Some 25 inmates broke over 130 windows and smashed plumbing fixtures in three cell blocks of the St. Clair County Jail Monday night, sheriff's deputies said. Officers said the prisoners, all being held on felony charges, were confined to the jail's drunk tank following the disturbance. The trouble apparently has been simmering since Sunday when an inmate was refused candy and cigarette privileges, the deputies said. Officers said inmates also have been complaining about cold cells resulting from a window-breaking incident last week.

PRESSURED BY QUOTAS

Marine Recruiter Signed Misfits

WASHINGTON (AP) — Marine recruiters have been pressured into filling their enlistment quotas with unqualified men whose shortcomings quickly make them targets of abuse from boot camp drill instructors, according to testimony before a House subcommittee.

The villain of this scenario, the House panel was told Tuesday, is the concept of an all-volunteer military that forces recruiters who must meet quotas to cheat on standards when signing up enlistees.

Marine Commandant Louis H. Wilson and his manpower deputy, Lt. Gen. Robert H. Barrow, were scheduled to testify today before the House military subcommittee conducting the probe.

A former Marine recruiter from Detroit told the panel Tuesday that recruiters cheat and sign up men who do not meet the corps' mental, moral and physical standards in order to get enough volunteers.

And a former recruit told the panel he tried to commit suicide because his learning disability and slowness made drill instructors in San Diego so angry that one threatened to kill him.

The former recruit, Ronald Bannister, 17, of Mill Valley, Calif., said a drill instructor threatened to dump him in San Diego Bay and report him absent without leave, he said drill instructors called him crazy when he was unable to do simple jobs like bringing them coffee.

"It made me feel very put down, like dirt," Bannister testified. "It was not my fault I could not bring the coffee back. It was not my fault because the mess hall was closed and the dishes and everything were put away."

Bannister's uncle, Preston Bannister, said he asked the subcommittee to let his nephew testify because the young man's case was similar to that of Lynn E. McClure, a mentally deficient recruit whose death in a mock bayonet exercise at the San Diego Marine Training Center lashed off the probe.

Former Marine recruiter Kenneth Bannister said, "I would have signed Bannister up in a minute and I would have signed McClure up in a flash." Taylor said he bent rules to sign up unfit recruits and that he "maneuvered" police records.

"I would say that to succeed as a recruiter in today's environment, you have to cheat," Taylor testified. He cited "tremendous pressure" the all-volunteer military has put on recruiters to meet their quotas now that there is no draft to motivate men to join the Marines before being called into the Army.

The real problem began when the all-volunteer force began," Taylor said. "The real problem began when Vietnam ended."

As an example of "maneuvering" police records, he said that if an applicant's name was McClure, a recruiter might ask police to check the name "Clure." After police returned forms saying they could find no record for "Clure" the recruiter would restore the name "McClure" to the forms and send them in.

Asked if he had done that, Taylor replied, "Well, sure." He said probably more than half the recruits he signed did not meet all Marine requirements and that he and other recruiters signed up known mental and medical rejects without regard to whether they would be able to stay in the Marines.

Also Tuesday the House panel was told of abuses by Marine Pvt. Harry Hiscock. He said he was pushed and hit by drill instructors before being shot in the hand with a rifle bullet.

LOBBYING AT GOLF AND TENNIS: Members of the Twin Cities Area Chamber of Commerce board of directors and legislative committee in cooperation with the Michigan Manufacturers association sponsored a tennis and golf outing yesterday at Point O' Woods Country club for business people and state government officials to get better acquainted. Among those attending, from left: George Van Peursem president, Michigan Manufacturer's association; Charles (Bud) Kerlikowske, Bud Kerley Sales, Inc., and a Chamber director; J. Martin Taylor, director, Michigan Employment Security commission and Gary Calkis, of the Michigan Department of Labor. They were among 50 local business and state government officials at the outing.

Army Recruits Crippled Youth

DETROIT (AP) — A local Army recruiter sent 19-year-old William Rugg to basic training last week, even though the youth suffers from an incurable crippling disease, according to a Detroit newspaper.

Rugg arrived at Ft. Dix in New Jersey last Tuesday, an Army spokesman said, but was kept from beginning recruit training because of a pronounced limp.

"The only question is, how did he get this far, past the recruiters and the AFES (Armed Forces Entrance and Examining Station)," an Army spokesman said.

The spokesman said Rugg probably would be released from the Army within two weeks after an appearance before a military medical review board to decide if he is fit for military service.

Doctors at University of Michigan hospital, where Rugg was treated in 1972, said he suffered from a disease known as Charcot-Marie-Tooth. There is no known cure or treatment for the disease which attacks the nerves and muscles.

According to the Detroit Free Press, Rugg, of suburban Livonia, was recruited by Sgt. Duane Sanders.

Sanders denied knowing about Rugg's disability. "I never noticed at any time that he was physically incapacitated," Sanders said. "I never noticed an obvious limp on Bill. I only saw him at close range. He never indicated to me that he had any physical problems."

But Rugg's parents disagree, saying the recruiter knew about the limp. They said Sanders discussed the youth's physical condition with Joanne Goode, a counselor at Rugg's high school. "He knew," Ann Rugg said. "All the recruiters knew about it. They said they talked about it."

Mrs. Goode confirmed the Ruggs' story. "I was concerned about him being able to meet the physical requirements," she said. "He has an obvious limp. He said that would be up to the doctors."

"I don't know if he was aware of what the disease would do, but he knew he had something," Mrs. Rugg said she almost "dropped dead" when her son told her he had been accepted.

"I feel sorry for Bill," she said.

"He felt so good about going in. Now he's going to have to come home humiliated."

"They had no concern for his feeling and what this would do to him ... What they did to him was wrong. He was just one more head, another number."

12 Students Arrested

DETROIT (AP) — Police arrested 12 Cody High School students Tuesday in the second day of troubles around the west side school. Charges, police said, ranged from assault and battery to disorderly conduct. Police said the incident began when the school's 4,000 students were dismissed for a faculty planning day. About 500 students lingered near the school, tossing rocks at cars. One of the students arrested carried a starter pistol and another had knife sticks, police said. On Monday, five students were arrested when two groups, one black and one white, taunted one another. This school is one of those involved in a busing program, started last January.

Bodies Recovered From Barge

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Three bodies trapped inside a sunken barge near the mouth of the Mississippi River have been brought to the surface after a floating crane turned the barge upright. The 70-ton Tri-Lift II capsized Sunday during efforts to free it from a sandbar. Seven persons were aboard. Three were rescued. Bodies recovered Tuesday were those of Mrs. Gerald Rogers, wife of the barge owner; Mrs. Merwin Taff, wife of the barge captain, and crewman John Stuart.

Edison To Seek New Rate Hike

By SUSAN AGER
Associated Press Writer
LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Detroit Edison Co. was expected to ask the state Public Service Commission for permission to raise rates again, by about $200 million a year.

Edison also was expected to announce today an agreement it has reached with two Michigan electric cooperatives which will provide capital for an Edison nuclear plant and receive power in return from the plant.

A source close to the Detroit utility said the agreement would be the first such joint venture in Michigan utility history.

According to the source, Northern Michigan Electric Cooperatives and Wolverine Electric Cooperative will buy a part interest in Edison's partially completed Fermi II nuclear generating plant near Monroe.

In return, according to the source, the cooperatives would receive nuclear power from the plant when it becomes operational in the early 1980s.

Detroit Edison officials were not immediately available for comment.

The cooperatives currently generate power that is distributed to seven smaller cooperatives. These serve a total of 104,000 customers in 38 Michigan counties, most in the central and northern Lower Peninsula.

Edison has complained that the $82.4 million rate increase it received in March from the state Public Service Commission was inadequate for it to continue construction on its Fermi plant and its Greenwood oil-burning plant. Work has been stalled on both since 1974.

Edison had sought a $178 million rate hike. Last week the Ingham County Circuit Court ordered another $13.8 million in rates be granted, part of a total $107 million Edison is asking in a court suit it filed shortly after the PSC decision. The $82.4 million increase raised monthly electric bills for residential customers from 3 to 10 per cent.

The new joint venture would benefit Edison by bringing in more capital, acquired by the cooperatives at an interest rate lower than what Edison would have to pay.

Cuba Was Pressured Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pressure from many African countries and possibly the Soviet Union prompted Cuba's decision to begin removing its 15,000 troops from Angola, U.S. officials say.

The Cuban pullout, to be conducted at the rate of about 200 a week, is viewed here as an effort by Cuba to recoup some of the diplomatic ground it appears to have lost in Africa as a result of continuing military involvement.

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger told a news conference Tuesday in Luxembourg that the Cuban decision was a "positive development."

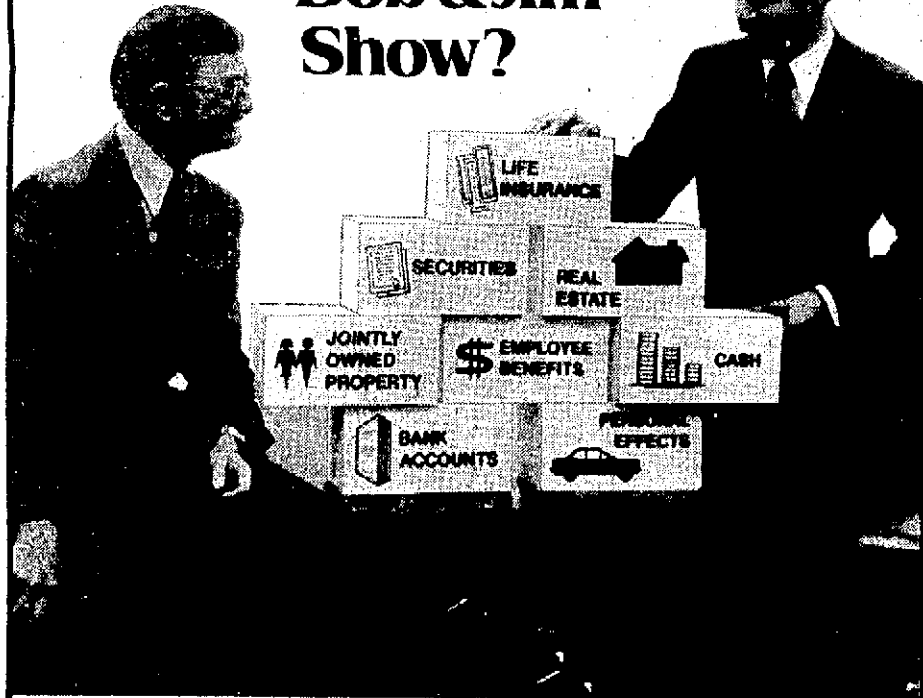

A partial Cuban withdrawal from Angola would be insufficient and there was no possibility of any renewed U.S. interest in normalizing relations with Havana until all

Cuban troops have gone home, he said.

Swedish Prime Minister Olof Palme told Kissinger Monday of Cuba's plans.

Two months ago, there was widespread belief in official circles here that Cuba, using Angola as a springboard, was poised to assist Rhodesian rebels in their struggle against the white supremacist regime of Prime Minister Ian Smith.

Cuba Was Pressured Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pressure from many African countries and possibly the Soviet Union prompted Cuba's decision to begin removing its 15,000 troops from Angola, U.S. officials say.

The Cuban pullout, to be conducted at the rate of about 200 a week, is viewed here as an effort by Cuba to recoup some of the diplomatic ground it appears to have lost in Africa as a result of continuing military involvement.

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger told a news conference Tuesday in Luxembourg that the Cuban decision was a "positive development."

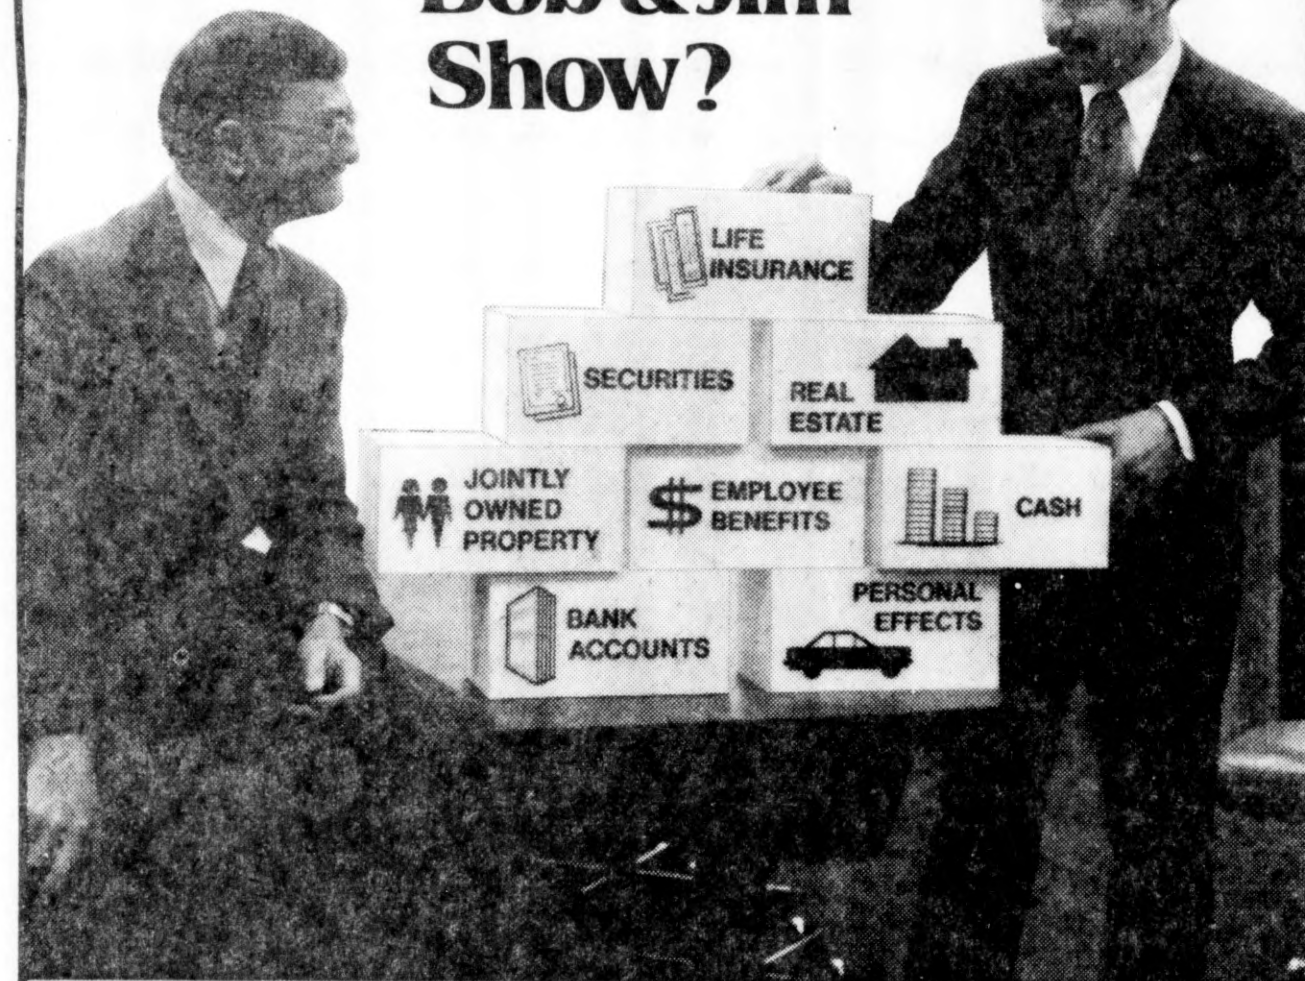

A partial Cuban withdrawal from Angola would be insufficient and there was no possibility of any renewed U.S. interest in normalizing relations with Havana until all

Cuban troops have gone home, he said.

Swedish Prime Minister Olof Palme told Kissinger Monday of Cuba's plans.

Two months ago, there was widespread belief in official circles here that Cuba, using Angola as a springboard, was poised to assist Rhodesian rebels in their struggle against the white supremacist regime of Prime Minister Ian Smith.

Ford Blunts Reagan's Day; Jimmy Carter Posts Gain

By DAVE GOLDBERG
Associated Press Writer

The heaviest presidential primary day in American history is over with President Ford holding off Ronald Reagan on what might have been a big Reagan day and Democratic front-runner Jimmy Carter increasing his delegate lead.

There were six primaries on Tuesday, three in southern or border states and three in the far west, areas that are the cornerstone of Reagan's Sun Belt strategy.

But Ford managed a split in the popular vote, winning as expected in Oregon and beating Reagan by narrow margins in Tennessee and Kentucky. And while Reagan's bigger wins in Nevada, Idaho and Arkansas gave him a net gain of 20 delegates on the day, the President still leads, 779 delegates to 642 for Reagan in the race for the GOP presidential nomination.

Carter won Arkansas, Kentucky and Tennessee, but lost Oregon, considered the day's main event, to Sen. Frank Church. Church also won in his home state of Idaho, California Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr. easily captured the Nevada primary.

But Carter, despite the mixed results, won a total of 136 delegates, combining those picked up in primaries with 28 more in district conventions in Missouri and two in an Alabama runoff. That puts the former Georgia governor past the halfway mark with 876 of the 1,503 delegates needed for the Democratic nomination.

Rep. Morris K. Udall of Arizona, who picked up a scattered six delegates Tuesday, remains second with 298.5. There is also a bloc of 363.5 uncommitted votes.

Reagan had predicted he would win at least four of the six and it looked for a while like he might squeeze out a win in Tennessee to make his prediction good. Ford's margin was narrow through much of the evening, and Reagan pulled to within 123 votes with about 50 precincts left to report.

But those precincts were in the Knoxville area, where Ford had done well all night and when they were finally counted, the President had squeezed through to a 1,500-vote victory, although he lost the delegate race 22-21 because of weighting by Congressional districts.

Stuart Spencer, Ford's deputy campaign manager, said the President was happy with the results. "This is the night Reagan had to make a big comeback," Spencer said. "He didn't do it."

Reagan said he was pleased with his wins in Arkansas, Idaho and Nevada. He said of Kentucky and Tennessee, "I feel good doing as well as I did in these border states."

Church called the Oregon and Idaho wins "a quantum leap forward for my campaign." And he added: "The results tonight show people are taking a second look at Jimmy Carter."

But Carter emphasized his delegate harvest and that he has won half the primaries he has entered in May.

Udall, who won only six delegates Tuesday, said he was still in the race. "I won delegates in Arkansas and Kentucky," he said. "Mo Udall is a national candidate."

"Obviously I like to win," said Brown, a winner last week in Maryland, of the results in Oregon, where he was a write-in candidate. "But a write-in requires a commitment far greater than just punching a hole by the candidate's name."

He added: "If tonight means anything, it means the process is continuing to expand and open. The California primary is critical."

Here are the returns from Tuesday's contests:

Oregon
With 73 per cent of the precincts counted:
Ford 88,241 or 52 per cent and 17 delegates.

Reagan 78,729 or 48 per cent and 13 delegates.

Among the Democrats:
Church 78,069 or 38 per cent and 15 delegates.

Carter 62,201 or 28 per cent and 12 delegates.

Brown 50,195 or 21 per cent and 7 delegates.

The rest were scattered.

Tennessee
With 89 per cent of the precincts reported:
Ford 119,162 or 50 per cent and 21 delegates.

Reagan 117,641 or 49 per cent and 22 delegates.

On the Democratic side:
Carter 255,315 or 78 per cent and 36 delegates.

Wallace 38,169 or 11 per cent and one delegate.

The rest of the vote was split seven ways and nine uncommitted delegates were chosen.

Kentucky
With 99 per cent of the precincts counted:
Ford 67,658 or 51 per cent and 19 delegates.

Reagan 62,225 or 47 per cent and 18 delegates.

The rest was cast for a minor local candidate and on the uncommitted line.

Among the Democrats, it was:
Carter 181,303 or 59 per cent and 37 delegates.

Wallace 51,925 or 17 per cent and 7 delegates.

Rep. Morris K. Udall of Arizona 23,164 or 11 per cent and 2 delegates.

Anti-abortion candidate Ellen McCormack had 5 per cent, and the rest was scattered.

Arkansas
With 96 per cent of the Republican precincts counted:
Reagan 19,949 or 63 per cent and 17 delegates.

Ford 11,224 or 36 per cent and 10 delegates.

On the Democratic side, with 96 per cent reported:
Carter 291,587 or 62 per cent and 17 delegates.

Wallace 77,289 or 17 per cent and 5 delegates.

The rest was scattered. Udall had one delegate and three were uncommitted.

Idaho
With 89 per cent of the precincts tallied:
Reagan 65,831 or 74 per cent and 16 delegates.

Ford 22,111 or 25 per cent and 5 delegates.

That had Reagan ahead for 16 delegates, Ford for 5.

In the Democratic primary:
Church 57,770 or 80 per cent and 14 delegates.

Carter 8,741 or 12 per cent and 2 delegates.

The balance of the vote was scattered.

Nevada
With 88 per cent of the precincts reported:
Reagan 26,780 or 65 per cent and 12 delegates.

Ford 12,099 or 30 per cent and 5 delegates.

Among the Democrats there:
Brown 36,264 or 83 per cent and 6 delegates.

Carter 15,828 or 23 per cent and 3 delegates.

Church 6,152 or 9 per cent and 1 delegate.

One delegate was uncommitted.

SHAKE: President Gerald Ford is greeted by well-wishers following a campaign rally Tuesday afternoon in Walnut Creek, Calif. A crowd estimated at 20,000 gave Ford an enthusiastic welcome during the rally in the main square. (AP Wirephoto)

Missouri
In Democratic district conventions in Missouri, Carter picked up 28 delegates, Udall 3, Jackson 1, McCormack 1 and 21 were uncommitted.

Alabama
In runoff elections for eight Democratic delegate seats, Wallace won four, Carter two and two were uncommitted.

European Brought Bomb To Israel

By DAVID LANCASHIRE
Associated Press Writer
TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — A blond European arriving on a foreign airline carried the suitcase bomb that killed himself and a woman guard and injured 10 Israelis at Israel's international airport Tuesday, the airport manager told a news conference.

Airport police said the man carried a Dutch passport bearing the name of Hugo Miller. A second suitcase bomb went off half an hour later as police were dragging it from the arrival hall of Ben-Gurion International Airport. It caused no damage or casualties. The police blew open a third suitcase with detonators, but it contained only clothes.

In Beirut, the radical Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine (PFLP) claimed it was responsible for the bombings. But its account differed considerably from what happened.

(A small package exploded in the New Delhi airport early today, but the explosion caused no injuries or damage. A spokesman for Japan Air Lines said the package came from Indonesia via Singapore and Bangkok and was addressed to the office of Aeroflot, the Soviet airline, in the Indian capital.) Airport security officials said the suitcase bombs arrived on an Austrian airliner from Vienna. Another source said they came on a Lufthansa jet from Frankfurt. A third said they came by El Al, the Israeli airline, from Tehran, Iran.

One official said the woman guard who was killed "suffered a much greater tragedy." He said when she became suspicious of the blond man, she took him from the crowded arrival hall into a special search area before she ordered him to open his bag. When he did, the bomb went off, killing both of them.

The explosion shattered the thick glass security shield around the search booth. A security guard who was nearby was critically burned. A girl's hair and clothes caught fire, and a customs man smothered the flames with his body. Glass cut the face of a man in a wheelchair.

Smoke filled the terminal building as hundreds of workers and travelers rushed out. Loudspeakers warned everyone to keep away from the bombed area.

The Palestinian version of the bombing said: "An assault group of PFLP fighters broke in to the airport and managed to explode heavy explosive charges that resulted in great numbers of killed and wounded."

It was the first major terrorist attack at the airport since May 30, 1972, when three arriving Japanese attacked the crowded arrival hall with automatic rifles and hand grenades. Twenty-six persons were killed, including two of the Japanese. The terrorists were members of the Japanese Red Army working for a Palestinian guerrilla group.

Forty-nine persons have been killed by bombs in Israel in the past 13 months.

BLAST VICTIM: Wounded man covers his face with an arm Tuesday as Israeli soldier and male nurse wheel him from terminal at Tel Aviv's Ben Gurion airport in wake of explosion that killed 2 and injured 10 persons. Explosion came after woman security guard ordered man to open his luggage. Ensuing blast killed both. (AP Wirephoto)

State Officials Side With 'Chief'

ST. IGNACE, Mich. (AP) — State officials say the blackhulled train ferry Chief Wawatam, a familiar figure on the Straits of Mackinac for 65 years, will continue to sail if they have their way.

The ship's owners — the Penn Central and San Line railroads — have sought permission to abandon the vessel at various times since the 1950s. So far, they have not been successful.

The latest state official to come to the aid of the St. Ignace-to-Mackinaw City ferry is Richard Anderson, manager of rail freight subsidies for the state's Department of Highways and Transportation, which oversees railroad operations in the state.

"Our plan calls for it to continue operating," he said, adding that state officials hope to come up with a $700,000 subsidy as part of the nation's new federal-state financed Conrail system.

A new contract to operate the ferry is being negotiated, he said.

The ferry has both its advocates and its critics. The former say the ferry, which has a capacity of 20 freighter cars, is playing an important part in the economy of the Lower and Upper Peninsulas.

Its critics say the smoke trailing from the stack of the coal-burning ferry is a major pollutant.

Anderson said, however, there have been no formal complaints about the smoke pollution. He added there are no plans to convert to oil or other fuel which would be less polluting.

There has been some discussion of getting a new ship, one that would not only provide rail service across the Straits, but also would open a new route for passengers and cars between St. Ignace and Manitowish Island on Canada's Georgian Bay in northern Lake Huron. Officials said the proposal is still in the preliminary stages.

In the meantime, Capt. Roderick Graham of the Wawatam said, "We are all rather confused about who will operate the Chief."

He said the ferry line has been 20 and 30 employees.

European Brought Bomb To Israel

By DAVID LANCASHIRE
Associated Press Writer

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — A blond European arriving on a foreign airline carried the suitcase bomb that killed himself and a woman guard and injured 10 Israelis at Israel's international airport Tuesday, the airport manager told a news conference.

Airport police said the man carried a Dutch passport bearing the name of Hugo Miller.

A second suitcase bomb went off half an hour later as police were dragging it from the arrival hall of Ben-Gurion International Airport. It caused no damage or casualties. The police blew open a third suitcase with detonators, but it contained only clothes.

In Beirut, the radical Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine (PFLP) claimed it was responsible for the bombings. But its account differed considerably from what happened.

(A small package exploded in the New Delhi airport early today, but the explosion caused no injuries or damage. A spokesman for Japan Air Lines said the package came from Indonesia via Singapore and Bangkok and was addressed to the office of Aeroflot, the Soviet airline, in the Indian capital.)

Airport security officials said the suitcase bombs arrived on an Austrian airliner from Vienna. Another source said they came on a Lufthansa jet from Frankfurt. A third said they came by El Al, the Israeli airline, from Tehran, Iran.

One official said the woman guard who was killed "averted a much greater tragedy." He said when she became suspicious of the blond man, she took him from the crowded arrival hall into a special search area before she ordered him to open his bag. When he did, the bomb went off, killing both of them.

The explosion shattered the thick glass security shield around the search booth. A security guard who was nearby was critically burned. A girl's hair and clothes caught fire, and a customs man smothered the flames with his body. Glass cut the face of a man in a wheelchair.

Smoke filled the terminal building as hundreds of workers and travelers rushed out. Loudspeakers warned everyone to keep away from the bombed area.

The Palestinian version of the bombing said: "An assault group of PFLP fighters broke in to the airport and managed to explode heavy explosive charges that resulted in great numbers of killed and wounded."

It was the first major terrorist attack at the airport since May 30, 1972, when three arriving Japanese attacked the crowded arrival hall with automatic rifles and hand grenades. Twenty-six persons were killed, including two of the Japanese. The terrorists were members of the Japanese Red Army working for a Palestinian guerrilla group.

Forty-nine persons have been killed by bombs in Israel in the past 13 months.

BLAST VICTIM: Wounded man covers his face with an arm Tuesday as Israeli soldier and male nurse wheel him from terminal at Tel Aviv's Ben Gurion airport in wake of explosion that killed 2 and injured 10 persons. Explosion came after woman security guard ordered man to open his luggage. Ensuing blast killed both. (AP Wirephoto)

State Officials Side With 'Chief'

ST. IGNACE, Mich. (AP) — State officials say the blackhulled train-ferry Chief Wawatam, a familiar figure on the Straits of Mackinac for 65 years, will continue to sail if they have their way.

The ship's owners — the Penn Central and Soo Line railroads — have sought permission to abandon the vessel at various times since the 1950s. So far, they have not been successful.

The latest state official to come to the aid of the St. Ignace-to-Mackinaw City ferry is Richard Anderson, manager of rail freight subsidies for the state's Department of Highways and Transportation, which oversees railroad operations in the state.

"Our plan calls for it to continue operating," he said, adding that state officials hope to come up with a $700,000 subsidy as part of the nation's new federal-state financed ConRail system.

A new contract to operate the ferry is being negotiated, he said.

The ferry has both its advocates and its critics. The former say the ferry, which has a capacity of 20 freight cars, is playing an important part in the economy of the Lower and Upper Peninsulas.

Its critics say the smoke trailing from the stack of the coal-burning ferry is a major pollutant.

Anderson said, however, there have been no formal complaints about the smoke pollution. He added there are no plans to convert to oil or other fuel which would be less polluting.

There has been some discussion of getting a new ship, one that would not only provide rail service across the Straits but also would open a new route for passengers and cars between St. Ignace and Manitow Island on Canada's Georgian Bay in northern Lake Huron. Officials said the proposal is still in the preliminary stages.

In the meantime, Capt. Roderick Graham of the Wawatam said, "We are all rather confused about who will operate the Chief."

He said the ferry line has been 20 and 30 employees.

Entries Readied For 'Royalty'

COLOMA — Entry forms for children age five to seven who want to compete in the 1976 Gladiolus Prince and Princess contest will be available throughout June at the Coloma township hall during regular business hours.

A maximum of 15 entries for each position will be accepted, according to Mrs. Brona Hutchins, contest chairman.

Voting by penny votes in containers located at Hilltop Foods, Harding's and Badt's drug store beginning July 3, will be used to determine the three finalists for the prince and princess.

Three judges, residents from outside the Coloma vicinity, will select the 1976 Prince and Princess to reign during the Gladiolus festival. The winners will be crowned, Wednesday, Aug. 4, at 6:30 p.m., in Baker park, during the week-long festival activities.

According to Mrs. Hutchins, there is no entry fee.

Ex-Bank Teller Gets Probation

GRAND RAPIDS — Mrs. Denise M. Hoag, 22, who worked as a teller for the Citizens Trust and Savings bank, South Haven, has been sentenced to two years of probation after pleading guilty to an embezzling charge. U.S. Magistrate Stephen Karr passed sentence in federal district court here May 10, according to the office of U.S. Attorney Frank Spies.

Mrs. Hoag, of 124 North Shore drive, South Haven, pleaded guilty on March 23 to a reduced charge of embezzlement not exceeding $100. The charge stemmed from a complaint the bank filed with the FBI of a $700 cash shortage which occurred between Jan. 28 and Feb. 4.

All the missing money was paid back, court officials said. Mrs. Hoag was the third woman teller from the bank within the past four years to plead guilty to embezzling charges.

One woman charged with embezzling $14,393 was sentenced to one year in prison and the other was given a year of probation after pleading guilty to a reduced charge of embezzlement not exceeding $100.

Sales Of Cars Zoom In May

DETROIT (AP) — A record performance by General Motors Corp. during the middle 10 days of this month has boosted domestic new-car sales to the second highest levels for a mid-May in industry history.

The nation's four automakers reported Tuesday that sales in the May 11-20 period were up 53 per cent from the depressed levels of a year ago, based on the daily selling rate. They fell just 5 per cent short of the mid-May record set in the boom year of 1973.

Northern Land Sale Bill Wins Approval In State

By MALCOLM JOHNSON Associated Press Writer LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A bill to permit the possible sale of thousands of acres of public land in northern Michigan has cleared the Senate after alterations to guard against wholesale loss of prime property.

Under the bill, certain public land in the Upper Peninsula and northern Lower Michigan could be sold if the director of the Department of Commerce, the Natural Resources Commission and the legislature agreed it was needed for industrial or agricultural development.

The Senate approved the bill 25-11 Tuesday and sent it to the House. But before the vote, lawmakers adopted several amendments to reduce the acreage which could be sold, exempt certain lands and provide for legislative approval of all sales.

The bill was sponsored by Sen. Joseph Mack, D-Ironwood, who argued public land is needed for job development in the economically depressed U.P.

Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co., located in Mack's district, is seeking up to 10,000 acres of public land to expand its mining operations.

As originally written, Mack's bill would have opened up some 220,000 acres of land the state obtained for non-payment of taxes in northern Lower Michigan, and about 250,000 of such public land in the U.P.

The Department of Natural Resources opposes the bill, saying such sale of public land should not be allowed until a state land-use program is adopted. The governor's office also expressed doubts.

Under amendments adopted Tuesday, the bill: —Requires legislative approval of all land sales under the proposed law; —Reduces the acreage available for sale to some 35,000 acres, divided more or less equally between the U.P. and the northern Lower Peninsula; —Exempts wide areas of key environmental land from possible sale, such as state-designated natural rivers, certain shoreline areas, wilderness areas and scenic lands; —Includes a "reverter clause," limiting the industrial development to the type applied for. Otherwise, the land reverts to the state.

"Revenue only comes from employed people," Mack said in arguing for the bill. But other lawmakers said that while more flexibility is needed in current land dealings, Mack's bill was not the way to go.

"We're catering to special interests," said Sen. Kerry Kammer, D-Pontiac. "It's an ill-conceived bill. It has too much potential for abuse."

The money from the land sales would go into a proposed fund to purchase other needed public land in urban areas. Kammer is the sponsor of a bill to establish such a fund.

Memorial Day Rites

South Haven Planning Parade

SOUTH HAVEN — The annual Memorial Day parade in South Haven will step off through the downtown business district at 9 a.m. Monday.

Immediately following the parade there will be a memorial service at Lakeview cemetery with State Rep. Ed Fredricks of Holland delivering the keynote address.

Parade marshals will be James McLaughlin and Duane Dewey while honorary marshals will include Chris Jensen, Glenn Higgs, Franklin Torp and William Hinz. Participating in the cemetery service will be members of V.F.W. Post 687, World War II Mothers, American Legion Post 49 and the senior high school band. Tim Greenman will read the Gettysburg address. In case of rain, the service will be held in the L. C. Mohr high school gymnasium at 9:30 a.m.

Services are scheduled at other South Haven area cemeteries as follows: McDowell, 10:30 a.m.; Stephenson, 11 a.m.; and Chambers, 11:30 a.m.

Income Changes Should Be Reported

People receiving government supplemental security income payments should promptly report changes in their other income and resources to Social Security, according to Harry Gelandner, Social Security district manager at Benton Harbor.

The supplemental security income program makes monthly payments to people with little or no income and limited resources who are 65 or over or blind or disabled.

Increases or decreases in income, changes or expected changes in wages, self-employment earnings, or veterans' pension payments should be reported promptly to the Benton Harbor Social Security office, Gelandner said.

Changes of address, marriage, separation, and any other circumstances that might affect payments should also be reported immediately.

Gelandner emphasized that failure to report these changes right away might result in overpayments or missed benefits and might delay future payments under the program. He urged people who think they might qualify for supplemental security income or know of someone who might qualify, to get in touch with the Benton Harbor Social Security office in the lower mall below Goldblatt's department store, Fairplain Plaza.

Huge Potato Default Shakes U.S. Commodity System

By MARY CAMPBELL
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Failure by speculators to deliver nearly 50 million pounds of Maine potatoes has rocked the 104-year-old New York Mercantile Exchange. One broker says that if those who caused the default get away unpunished it could "destroy the traditional fabric of the commodity futures trading system."

It was clear that default on the potato contracts could have widespread ramifications on the exchange that gives farmers and others a chance to gamble on future production of several types of raw materials against price fluctuation.

Some brokers estimated the default could cost the exchange $4 million or more. The consumer potato market, though, appeared safe, since supply is adequate.

Default on 987 contracts for delivery of 49.85 million pounds of potatoes was official at 3 p.m. Tuesday. Within hours after the default, officials of both the Mercantile Exchange and the Commodity Futures Trading Commission, the federal agency that regulates such trading, had ordered inquiries.

But because default is so rare on the exchange, the industry was without precedent as it considered recovery. Calls for swift action — and promises of it — were without specifics.

"The magnitude of the default raises serious questions concerning ... application, compliance and enforcement of the rules of the New York Mercantile Exchange," said William T. Bagley, chairman of the federal regulatory agency. "It is obvious that there is something drastically wrong with that marketplace," he said. "We have told that exchange at the very least there will have to be major changes and very soon so that trading doesn't go on under the present circumstances."

Robert Cornfeld, a spokesman for the Mercantile Exchange, said, "This is a very serious matter. The exchange doesn't permit default. Not even one. Action will be severe. The position of the exchange is that even a single default is a serious violation of exchange rules and regulations."

Cornfeld estimated 15 to 20 persons or firms held the contracts involved, but he wouldn't speculate where the investigation would begin. All were subject to severe financial and legal penalties.

The exchange had been concerned since trading on May delivery of Maine potatoes closed May 7 with 1,011 contracts — 95.55 million pounds — outstanding, and had tried to enforce delivery on all of them, Cornfeld said.

The potato market for May had experienced wide price movement, and speculative activity was intense. Richard Levine, president of the exchange who called the default "as rare as hailstones in India," heard charges of unethical — maybe illegal — trading practices by speculators and their brokers as the deadline passed.

There were charges, among others, that certain elements in the industry had tied up available railroad cars in an effort to prevent delivery of the Maine potatoes and of an effort by some buyers to squeeze supply by rejecting acceptable deliveries as inferior.

Bagley, in Washington, said, "If some of the allegations (of trading practices) prove true, then some people are going to find themselves stripped of trading privileges ... perhaps forever."

"We have told that exchange that, either by agreement our by our edicts, at the very last there will have to be major changes in the potato contract very soon," he said. "I'm talking about this July 1."

Get-Tough Plan On Rent Eyed At South Haven

By TOM RENNER
South Haven Correspondent

SOUTH HAVEN — A possible get-tough policy with tenants of South Haven's public housing program who are habitually tardy in paying rent was discussed by South Haven housing commission members during their regular monthly meeting last night.

Executive Director Dennis

DeVinney reported that his staff was being faced with excessive paperwork by some tenants who delay paying their rent right up to the point of facing the threat of eviction.

DeVinney was directed to explore the feasibility of making it grounds for eviction if a tenant is habitually late in paying rent without a legitimate reason. Commission members also volunteered to visit with problem tenants to stress the importance of prompt rental payment.

In other matters, a new dwelling agreement was adopted. Most changes involved procedural matters, although the new agreement specifically states that it will be the tenant's responsibility to maintain the yard around the house.

A revised budget for the current fiscal year which ends June 30 was approved. The revised budget projects income of $88,200 as opposed to $57,140 in the first budget adopted at the beginning of the year. Expenditures are now estimated to be $74,350 as opposed to an earlier $71,360 projection.

DeVinney noted that a recent increase in rent should allow the South Haven program to be self-supporting in the near future, making a subsidy from the federal government unnecessary. The South Haven program received a $10,000 subsidy from HUD this past year.

DeVinney reported that a marketing survey is being conducted of the South Haven area to determine the need for additional public housing for the elderly. The commission earlier this year authorized the Vanderveen construction company of Kalamazoo to develop feasibility plans for the housing through the Michigan state housing authority.

The commission voted not to exercise an option to purchase two parcels of land near Center and Cartwright streets from Mrs. Joseph Kent for a proposed lot.

DeVinney reported the modernization program in the family housing program is 50 per cent complete.

The commission set June 10 for a special meeting to act on the budget for fiscal 1976-77.

Tot's Condition Critical In Cycle Crash

BERRIEN SPRINGS — A three-year-old Oronoko township girl was hospitalized last night after she was struck by a motorcycle while playing near her home west of here. Listed in critical condition this morning at Memorial hospital, St. Joseph, was Michelle Cox, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Cox, 2711 Wilho drive, Berrien Springs. Berrien Springs village-Oronoko township police said the Cox child was struck shortly after 8 p.m. by a motorcycle being driven by Nancy Freeman, 15, 2715 Wilho drive. Police said the motorcycle was headed west on Wilho drive when the brakes apparently locked as it approached a circle turn-around at the end of the road. The cycle skidded across a grass island in the circle and then struck the child, who was playing on the pavement on the other side of the circle, police said. Police said investigation of the accident is continuing. The accident report will be turned over to the Berrien county prosecutor's office to determine if any charges will be filed against the driver, police said.

Two Ask Hearings In District Court

A man charged with possession of the drug PCP May 24 in New Buffalo demanded preliminary examination Tuesday in Berrien Fifth District court.

Jailed under $2,500 bond following arraignment was Bert A. Dolph, 19, of Maxwell, Iowa.

Also demanding examination yesterday was Sherwin Bowers, 17, of Chicago, charged with larceny of a cash box containing items together valued over $100, from Schultz's Standard station, Watervliet, May 24. He was jailed in lieu of $3,500 bail.

Bound over to Circuit court was Raymond L. Terlisner, 28, of Church street, Coloma, charged with attempting to break into a safe, with intent to commit larceny, Nov. 9, 1970, in Oronoko township. He waived examination and continued in jail under $15,000 bond.

Sentenced were: Gregory E. Neal, 21, of 1859 Broadway, Benton Harbor, fine and costs of $121 for petty larceny of sliced ham May 24 at Jewel Foods, Benton township.

Steven L. Milneick, 17, of 181 Beachwood, Watervliet, $50 or 10 days in jail for use of marijuana in Coloma May 25.

Floyd L. Totzke, 43, of 2765 Orange, Niles, $152 and six months probation for impaired driving April 16 in Chikaming township.

Murder Trial Jury Selected

By DENNIS COGSWELL
Paw Paw Bureau

PAW PAW — Opening arguments in the first-degree murder trial of Ronnie L. Wilson were scheduled to get underway this morning in Van Buren circuit court.

Wilson, 27, of Gary, Ind., is charged with the fatal shooting of Mrs. Arretta Lou Ingraham, wife of South Haven city Councilman Wilbur Ingraham, during a hold-up at the couple's neighborhood grocery store Dec. 1.

All of yesterday's opening session of the trial was devoted to jury selection, with eight men and six women (the jury includes two alternates), picked to decide Wilson's guilt or innocence.

During the session, which was adjourned at 4:15 p.m., Prosecutor Frank D. Willis used challenges five times to dismiss jurors, and defense Atty. John Szamanski of Bangor challenged 11 prospective jurors. Wilson appeared to take an active part in his defense, consulting many times with Szamanski.

June 2 Hearing For Mattawan Man

RAW PAW — Jesse Lee Rouse, 42, route 1, 58th avenue, Mattawan, was released on his own recognizance Tuesday after demanding preliminary examination in Van Buren Seventh district court here on a charge of first-degree criminal sexual conduct.

Rouse was taken into custody in connection with a May 8 complaint by a Kalamazoo woman that her 10-year-old daughter was sexually assaulted. A June 2 hearing was scheduled.

In other cases, Wayne A. Smith, 20, Lawton, was ordered held on $1,200 bond after demanding preliminary examination on a charge of delivery of marijuana. The hearing was scheduled for June 2.

Bound over to Van Buren circuit court after waiving preliminary examination were: Steven Elston, 17, 53rd street, Grand Junction, on a charge of breaking and entering a garage in Waverly township May 4.

Harry E. Chappas, 50, Oregon, Ill., on three counts of passing no account checks totaling $873 between Aug. 30 and Sept. 11, 1975.

Kevin F. Letzau, 19, 102 East St. Joseph, Paw Paw, on a charge of breaking and entering a Columbia township residence on May 16, 1975.

Robert Beer, 24, route 2, Grand Junction, on a charge of larceny in a building stemming from the theft of a package of cheese from the Village Market, Bloomingdale, on May 2.

Sharon R. Cook, 21, Detroit, on a charge of unlawfully driving away an automobile from Detroit May 5. He was arrested near Mattawan after a man allegedly failed to pay for some gas at a service station.

BH Man Acquitted On Break-In Count

A Benton Harbor man was acquitted Tuesday in Berrien Circuit court when Judge Chester J. Byrns directed the jury to return a "not guilty" verdict to a charge of breaking and entering.

Freed following the one-day trial was Laverne Sam Jenkins, 20, of 1157 Bishop street. He had been accused of breaking into the residence of Patricia Green, at 791 Pearl street, Benton Harbor, on Jan. 8.

Byrns ordered the directed verdict after ruling there was not enough evidence to send the case to the jury after Assistant Prosecutor Quentin Fulcher had finished presenting the prosecution's case. Defense counsel in the trial was St. Joseph Atty.

Stanley White.

Hayes Confesses He Did Have 'Relationship'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Following Rep. Wayne Hays' admission that he had a "personal relationship" with a woman employee, the question remaining in dispute is whether she received $14,000 a year as taxpayer expense to be his mistress or whether she was a productive employee of Congress. The Justice Department is trying to resolve that question and the little-used House ethics committee may make an effort, too.

Hays, in an emotional speech before the full House on Tuesday, admitted he lied when he denied having a relationship with Elizabeth Ray, a shapely clerk on the payroll of his House Administration Committee. But he contended he was telling the truth when he said he did not keep her on the government payroll at $14,000 a year just for her sexual services.

FBI agents were reportedly continuing their investigation for the Justice Department of Hays' relationship with Miss Ray as the House ethics committee was receiving strong pressure to open its own probe.

Twenty-eight House members, in a letter to ethics committee chairman John J. Flynt, urged the panel to launch an investigation "in order to guarantee the integrity of the House of Representatives, its members and its committees."

Flynt was campaigning in his home state of Georgia as Hays made his speech admitting his relationship with Miss Ray, but said he was flying to Washington immediately. He said all of the requests for an investigation, including a telephoned request from Hays himself, were "informal," noting his panel could act only on a formal request.

Four of the 28 members who signed the letter asking for the ethics committee investigation also sent a letter to Speaker Carl Albert. Albert and other House leaders were in London to accept a loan of the Magna Carta for the Bicentennial celebration.

In his confession before the crowded House chamber, the 55-year-old Hays denied keeping Miss Ray, 33, on the government payroll as his mistress. He said he lied about his relationship with her because he did not want his new wife to find out about it.

"Six weeks ago, I was married to the woman I love more than any other person or thing in this world Prior to this time, and for an extended period of time, I did have a relationship with Elizabeth Ray. I was legally separated and single. It was voluntary on her part and mine," Hays said.

He said he ended the relationship before his remarriage. He was divorced from his first wife in January.

Hays insisted that Miss Ray performed office duties for her pay, despite her contention that she could not type or handle telephones and that she did not do any work for Hays' committee.

Miss Ray, who says she was on the payroll only to be available for sex with Hays, denied Tuesday that her relationship with the congressman ended with his remarriage. She said she had seen him four times since his marriage and that they had been intimate twice.

"I'm not taking anything back. I'm telling the truth," she said.

Meanwhile, the Washington Post said it found that Miss Ray's name was not included on a list of House Administration Committee employees in monthly reports from November 1975 to February 1976. Hays was required to file the reports under House rules requiring that all committee employees be named.

The report for November 1975, signed by Hays on Dec. 15, does not list Miss Ray's name. Her name does appear on House payroll records.

Failure to list Miss Ray in the committee staff reports for four months had the effect of keeping her employment secret until payroll records were published in the Congressional Record on April 1. The Post quoted a congressional source as saying:

"In admitting he lied about his relationship with Miss Ray, Hays told his colleagues in the House chamber, 'I now realize that I committed a grievous error in not presenting all the facts.'"

But, he said, "I stand by my previous denial of Miss Ray's allegation that she was hired to be my mistress. I further stand by my statement that Miss Ray is a seriously disturbed young lady, and I deeply regret that our relationship, and its termination, has apparently greatly aggravated her emotional and psychological problems."

Hays said that when he decided to marry Patricia Peak, who was in charge of his Ohio office, he told Miss Ray their relationship would have to end and that made her hysterical. He said she threatened suicide and blackmail.

Get-Tough Plan On Rent Eyed At South Haven

South Haven Correspondent

SOUTH HAVEN — A possible get-tough policy with tenants of South Haven's public housing program who are habitually tardy in paying rent was discussed by South Haven housing commission members during their regular monthly meeting last night.

Executive Director Dennis DeVinney reported that his staff was being faced with excessive paperwork by some tenants who delay paying their rent right up to the point of facing the threat of eviction.

DeVinney was directed to explore the feasibility of making it grounds for eviction if a tenant is habitually late in paying rent without a legitimate reason. Commission members also volunteered to visit with problem tenants to stress the importance of prompt rental payment.

In other matters, a new dwelling agreement was adopted. Most changes involved procedural matters, although the new agreement specifically states that it will be the tenant's responsibility to maintain the yard around the house.

A revised budget for the current fiscal year which ends June 30 was approved. The revised budget projects income of $89,200 as opposed to $57,140 in the first budget adopted at the beginning of the year. Expenditures are now estimated to be $74,350 as opposed to an earlier $71,360 projection.

DeVinney noted that a recent increase in rent should allow the South Haven program to be self-supporting in the near future, making a subsidy from the federal government unnecessary. The South Haven program received a $19,002 subsidy from HUD this past year.

DeVinney reported that a marketing survey is being conducted of the South Haven area to determine the need for additional public housing for the elderly. The commission earlier this year authorized the VanderVeon construction company of Kalamazoo to develop feasibility plans for the housing through the Michigan state housing authority.

The commission voted not to exercise an option to purchase two parcels of land near Center and Cartwright streets from Mrs. Joseph Kent for a proposed lot.

DeVinney reported the modernization program in the family housing program is 50 per cent complete.

The commission set June 10 for a special meeting to act on the budget for fiscal 1976-77.

Tot's Condition Critical In Cycle Crash

BERRIEN SPRINGS — A three-year-old Oronoko township girl was hospitalized last night after she was struck by a motorcycle while playing near her home west of here. Listed in critical condition this morning at Memorial hospital, St. Joseph, was Michelle Cox, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Cox, 2711 Willo drive, Berrien Springs. Berrien Springs village-Oronoko township police said the Cox child was struck shortly after 6 p.m. by a motorcycle being driven by Nancy Freeman, 15, 2715 Willo drive. Police said the motorcycle was headed west on Willo drive when the brakes apparently locked as it approached a circle turn-around at the end of the road. The cycle skidded across a grass island in the circle and then struck the child, who was playing on the pavement on the other side of the circle, police said. Police said investigation of the accident is continuing. The accident report will be turned over to the Berrien county prosecutor's office to determine if any charges will be filed against the driver, police said.

Murder Trial Jury Selected

By DENNIS COGSWELL
Paw Paw Bureau

PAW PAW — Opening arguments in the first-degree murder trial of Ronnie L. Wilson were scheduled to get underway this morning in Van Buren circuit court.

Wilson, 27, of Gary, Ind., is charged with the fatal shooting of Mrs. Arretta Lou Inghram, wife of South Haven city Councilman Wilbur Inghram, during a hold-up at the couple's neighborhood grocery store Dec. 1.

All of yesterday's opening session of the trial was devoted to jury selection, with eight men and six women (the jury includes two alternates) picked to decide Wilson's guilt or innocence.

During the session, which was adjourned at 4:15 p.m., Prosecutor Frank D. Willis used challenges five times to dismiss jurors, and defense Atty. John Szymanski of Bangor challenged 11 prospective jurors. Wilson appeared to take an active part in his defense, consulting many times with Szymanski.

June 2 Hearing For Mattawan Man

PAW PAW — Jesse Lee Rouse, 32, route 1, 58th avenue, Mattawan, was released on his own recognizance Tuesday after demanding preliminary examination in Van Buren Seventh district court here on a charge of first-degree criminal sexual conduct.

Rouse was taken into custody in connection with a May 8 complaint by a Kalamazoo woman that her 10-year-old daughter was sexually assaulted. A June 2 hearing was scheduled.

In other cases, Wayne A. Smith, 20, Lawton, was ordered held on $1,200 bond after demanding preliminary examination on a charge of delivery of marijuana. The hearing was scheduled for June 2.

Bound over to Van Buren circuit court after waiving preliminary examination were: Steven Elston, 17, 53rd street, Grand Junction, on a charge of breaking and entering a garage in Waverly township May 4.

Harry E. Clapper, 50, Oregon, Ill., on three counts of passing no account checks totaling $873 between Aug. 30 and Sept. 11, 1975.

Kevin F. Letzau, 19, 102 East St. Joseph, Paw Paw, on a charge of breaking and entering a Columbia township residence on May 16, 1975.

Robert Beer, 24, route 2, Grand Junction, on a charge of larceny in a building stemming from the theft of a package of cheese from the Village Market, Bloomingdale, on May 2.

Sharon R. Cook, 23, Detroit, on a charge of unlawfully driving away an automobile from Detroit May 5. He was arrested near Mattawan after a man allegedly failed to pay for some gas at a service station.

BH Man Acquitted On Break-In Count

A Benton Harbor man was acquitted Tuesday in Berrien Circuit court when Judge Chester J. Byrns directed the jury to return a "not guilty" verdict to a charge of breaking and entering.

Freed following the one-day trial was Laverne Sam Jenkins, 20, of 1157 Bishop street. He had been accused of breaking into the residence of Patricia Green, at 793 Pearl street, Benton Harbor, on Jan. 8.

Byrns ordered the directed verdict after ruling there was not enough evidence to send the case to the jury after Assistant Prosecutor Quentin Fulcher had finished presenting the prosecution's case. Defense counsel in the trial was St. Joseph Atty. Stanley White.

Hayes Confesses He Did Have 'Relationship'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Following Rep. Wayne Hays' admission that he had a "personal relationship" with a woman employee, the question remaining in dispute is whether she received $14,000 a year at taxpayer expense to be his mistress or whether she was a productive employee of Congress. The Justice Department is trying to resolve that question and the little-used House ethics committee may make an effort, too.

Hays, in an emotional speech before the full House on Tuesday, admitted he lied when he denied having a relationship with Elizabeth Ray, a shapely clerk on the payroll of his House Administration Committee. But he contended he was telling the truth when he said he did not keep her on the government payroll at $14,000 a year just for her sexual services.

FBI agents were reportedly continuing their investigation for the Justice Department of Hays' relationship with Miss Ray as the House ethics committee was receiving strong pressure to open its own probe.

Twenty-eight House members, in a letter to ethics committee chairman John J. Flynt, urged the panel to launch an investigation "in order to guarantee the integrity of the House of Representatives, its members and its committees."

Flynt was campaigning in his home state of Georgia as Hays made his speech admitting his relationship with Miss Ray, but said he was flying to Washington immediately. He said all of the requests for an investigation, including a telephoned request from Hays himself, were "informal," noting his panel could act only on a formal request.

Four of the 28 members who signed the letter asking for the ethics committee investigation also sent a letter to Speaker Carl Albert. Albert and other House leaders were in London to accept a loan of the Magna Carta for the Bicentennial celebration.

In his confession before the crowded House chamber, the 65-year-old Hays denied keeping Miss Ray, 33, on the government payroll as his mistress. He said he lied about his relationship with her because he did not want his new wife to find out about it.

"Six weeks ago, I was married to the woman I love more than any other person or thing in this world Prior to this time, and for an extended period of time, I did have a relationship with Elizabeth Ray. I was legally separated and single. It was voluntary on her part and mine," Hays said.

He said he ended the relationship before his remarriage. He was divorced from his first wife in January.

Hays insisted that Miss Ray performed office duties for her pay, despite her contention that she could not type or handle telephones and that she did not do any work for Hays' committee.

Miss Ray, who says she was on the payroll only to be available for sex with Hays, denied Tuesday that her relationship with the congressman ended with his remarriage. She said she had seen him four times since his marriage and that they had been intimate twice.

"I'm not taking anything back. I'm telling the truth," she said.

Meanwhile, the Washington Post said it found that Miss Ray's name was not included on a list of House Administration Committee employees in monthly reports from November 1975 to February 1976. Hays was required to file the reports under House rules requiring that all committee employees be named.

The report for November 1975, signed by Hays on Dec. 15, does not list Miss Ray's name. Her name does appear on House payroll records.

Failure to list Miss Ray in the committee staff reports for four months had the effect of keeping her employment secret until payroll records were published in the Congressional Record on April 1, the Post quoted a congressional source as saying.

In admitting he lied about his relationship with Miss Ray, Hays told his colleagues in the House chamber, "I now realize that I committed a grievous error in not presenting all the facts."

But, he said, "I stand by my previous denial of Miss Ray's allegation that she was hired to be my mistress. I further stand by my statement that Miss Ray is a seriously disturbed young lady, and I deeply regret that our relationship, and its termination, has apparently greatly aggravated her emotional and psychological problems."

Hays said that when he decided to marry Patricia Peak, who was in charge of his Ohio office, he told Miss Ray their relationship would have to end and that made her hysterical. He said she threatened suicide and blackmail.

Gets 15 Years

NAPLES, Fla. (AP) — An 18-year-old Michigan youth pleaded guilty to second-degree murder Tuesday and was sentenced to 15 years in prison for the slaying of his teen-age date.

Circuit Judge Harold S. Smith handed down the sentence after Richard A. Woodrick Jr. of Grand Rapids, Mich., entered his guilty plea in the death of Linda Greenbaum, 16, of Shaker Heights, Ohio.

The plea was negotiated by defense and prosecution attorneys "by and with the participation of the court," Judge Smith said.

New Hilltop Department Store Opens At Coloma

COLOMA — The new $1 million plus Coloma Hilltop center at 877 Paw Paw avenue here, opened for business today. John Sassano, president of the new family center and supermarket store, in addition to centers in Benton Harbor and St. Joseph, said a grand opening of the new store would be held in late June. Construction of the center started last Nov. 3.

The 36,700 square foot modern air-conditioned glass and vertical grooved block building is located on a 17-acre tract of land between Paw Paw Lake road and Paw Paw avenue.

According to Sassano, the supermarket and family center with equipment and inventory represents an investment of over $1 million.

The family center features complete one-stop shopping for all members of the family.

Colored lines at the entrance of the store show shoppers where they may locate food, frozen foods, non-foods, dairy, meat and produce without wasting shopping time.

For the electronic buff, the store features a Radio Shack store and record department. For the first time, Coloma area shoppers are offered a delicatessen, offering a fine assortment of ready prepared food and desserts.

The shopping center offers housewares, men and boys department, women's and children's department, home furnishings, small appliances, gifts, electrical and hardware items, a complete fabric and sewing center, automotive supplies, sporting goods, cosmetics and toys.

The general contractor for the new complex was Pearson Construction.

Van Buren To Consider Landfill Tax Levy, Bond

By DENNIS COGSWELL

Paw Paw Bureau
PAW PAW — The Van Buren county board of commissioners is expected to act at its next meeting to put a 1.2-mill property tax levy and an $825,000 bond issue for a county-wide solid waste system on the Aug. 3 ballot.

Commissioners agreed informally last night to take the action following a presentation by Paul Kaiser, county highway engineer-manager, who has been spearheading plans for the project. The board meets again June 8.

The $825,000 bond issue would be to acquire sites for the system and make necessary improvements. Kaiser indicated the issue would be paid off over a 10-year period and would require a levy of about three-tenths of a mill.

The 1.2 mill levy would generate about $330,000 annually to operate and maintain the system.

The county has been working on various solid waste plans since 1967. Kaiser said the latest plan calls for a central landfill site located on a 96-acre site off 42nd avenue in Arlington township, which will be leased. In addition, there will be 10 transfer stations which will serve as intermediate drop-off points from where trash will be taken to the central landfill.

Five of the transfer sites will include compactors, and five will have bulk boxes for drop-offs. Under the system, Kaiser said, any county resident may drop off residential trash for free at one of the 10 sites.

Kaiser said a private firm(s) will be contracted to run the landfill and transfer stations. A fee will be charged to industrial and commercial operators to use the system.

Kaiser said money gained from the industrial and commercial users will then be applied to offset the annual operation cost. He estimated that in the first year revenue would be $55,000, and would grow to the point where all the 1.2 mills for operation might not have to be levied in the future.

The system does not provide for door-to-door pickup, at county expense. However, Kaiser said, money which municipalities are now using to operate their own dumps might be re-channelled to contract for door-to-door service for their residents.

Kaiser said commercial haulers are enthusiastic about the plan because it will reduce the distances they must drive to dump trash. He said haulers have told him they will be able to extend their services to rural areas because they will have less "down time" formerly caused by long hauling.

Kaiser said he had met with 18 of the 18 townships and that all were in favor of a county solid waste program. He said, however, that two townships, Hartford and Lawrence, opposed an August election date because they also had local millage proposals which were already on the ballot.

Kaiser said delaying until the November election would mean that spreading of the additional millage on the tax rolls could not be done in September, and would delay implementation of the plan by a year.

He also added that getting all 28 of the county's municipal units to handle financing on a local basis would be too cumbersome and selling bonds would be difficult.

In other areas, board Chairman Walter Sticksel announced that funding for all employees under the CETA program in the county has been extended until the end of this year. Funding for all but about 30 of the 110 CETA positions in the county had been expected to have been cut off July 1.

Sticksel said that in anticipation of the cuts, 17 of the workers had been put on the regular payroll of the agencies that employed them.

The board voted to place a two-year renewal of the four-tenths mill levy for county ambulance operations on the Aug. 3 ballot. The levy was first approved by county voters in 1972, and renewed for another two years in 1974. If approved in August, it would generate an estimated $129,403.

Commissioners also presented Mrs. Audine Pearce, a register in the county probate court, with a resolution thanking her for her 19 years of service to the county. She is retiring Friday.

Commissioner James Wellington also reported on a meeting of the Michigan Association of Counties he attended in which opposition to statewide land use planning was voiced.

Allegan Cuts Pay For Two Positions

ALLEGAN — Allegan county's next probate judge and next register of deeds to be elected this November will not receive as much pay as their predecessors.

Recognizing that the incumbents in both offices are not seeking re-election, the county board of commissioners last night voted a reduction in pay for the replacements to be elected this November.

The replacement for Probate Judge Dwight Cheever will take office with a new annual salary of $27,500, an amount $3,840 less than Cheever's present salary of $31,340. The state pays $20,188 towards the judge's salary.

The replacement for Howard Strandt, register of deeds, will receive $12,564. That is 12 per cent less than Strandt's present $14,500 salary. Before the board voted to reduce salaries, an attempt was made to eliminate the office of register of deeds and give the duties to the clerk's office, but the motion failed by a 3 to 7 vote.

Last night was Commissioner Ralph Senese's second attempt to have the office eliminated. Two months ago, the Otsego commissioner saw the same motion fail with all but himself voting against it.

Senese's motion called for the office to be closed down at the end of the year when Strandt's present term expires.

Voting in favor with Senese were Anthony Wykstra of Martin and Chairman Jerry Lohman of Hamilton. Dennis Nickels of Wayland abstained and Vernon Sill of rural Smith Haven was absent.

Voting against the motion were Walter Bray Jr., Hamilton; John Vogelzang, Holland; John Funk, Dorr township; Louis TerAvest, Allegan; James Ruff, Allegan; Ralph Slettna, Wayland; and Arthur Popp, Plainwell.

In another area, the board considered a variety of requests from county department heads seeking some of an estimated $302,521 federal revenue sharing payment due the county. The requests, exclusive of the road commission, totaled $321,715. The road commission asked for $1.19 million it said it needs to complete a resurfacing program on county roads.

All requests were tabled for consideration by the board's five-member revenue sharing committee which is to make recommendations at the June meeting. The committee is headed by Bray.

Niles Officer Files For Cass Sheriff

NILES — Max Shephardson, 43, a lieutenant with the city police here yesterday filed nominating petitions for sheriff of Cass county on the Democratic ticket.

LL Shephardson of 1657 Thompson road, in Cass county's Howard township, has been a member of the Niles police force for 19 years. He becomes the third Democratic candidate to enter the race. Two Republicans, including incumbent Sheriff James Northrop are also candidates. Other Democrats seeking the post are Andrew Chavous of Cassopolis and Frank Harrington of Dowagiac. Howard Shelton of Marcellus is the other Republican.

Shephardson said he decided to run for sheriff "to provide people with courteous and effective law enforcement." A graduate of Niles high school, he lived in Niles all his life before moving to Howard township six years ago. He has attended various police training schools and seminars and is a member of the International Association for Identification; the Fraternal Order of Police, and First Church of Christ, Niles.

He and his wife, Sandra, have four children.

Buchanan Principal To Quit And Enter Private Business

BUCHANAN — Richard Proud, Buchanan middle school principal, announced yesterday that he would resign the post next month to go into private business here.

In his third year as middle school principal, Proud said his resignation would be effective June 30. Supt. Richard Dougherty received Proud's letter of resignation yesterday, but the school board has taken no formal action on the resignation.

Proud said he will own and operate a new sporting goods venture in Buchanan to be called The Sport Center Inc., at 320 North Red Bud Trail, Buchanan.

The new firm, now open on nights and weekends, will rent space at the Red Bud Trail address from Kayak Specialties, Inc. Proud will rent and sell the kayaks and canoes manufactured by Kayak Specialties owner William Snook of Buchanan.

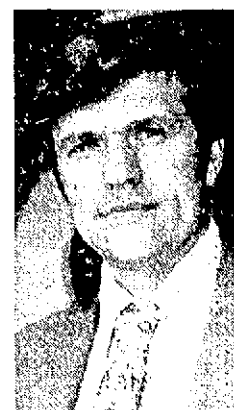

Proud said he is leaving education, "because I've wanted to go into business all my life."

He will have served the Buchanan school district a total of 14 years at the end of the current school year. He was assistant middle school principal for one year before being named principal.

Proud was also Ottawa elementary school principal for four years and has been an elementary and middle school teacher.

Mr. and Mrs. Proud live at 214 Huron drive, Buchanan. They have two children.

White Sox Surge To Ninth Consecutive Triumph

From Associated Press
ANAHEIM (AP) — Catcher Brian Downing delivered his second game-winning hit in as many nights Tuesday to back the six-hit pitching of Rick Gossage and give the surging Chicago White Sox their ninth straight victory, a 7-1 decision over the California Angels.

Downing lined a two-out eighth-inning single to snap a 1-1 tie and saddle Angels' starter Gary Ross with his sixth loss in seven decisions.

Monday, Downing drove in four runs, including three with a game-breaking double, in a 5-3 Chicago win.

The first three White Sox runs were unearned as a result of two California errors. The biggest was Dave Chalk's misplay of Jim Spencer's grounder which prolonged the eighth inning.

Ralph Garr began the inning with a single and took second on a sacrifice. With two out, Chalk fell down as he tried to field Spencer's bouncer. After Spencer stole second, Downing drilled his game-winning single to right.

The White Sox added four ninth-inning runs. After Buddy Bradford singled, Pat Kelly slammed a two-run homer. Garr then followed with a single, reliever Dick Drago walked Bucky Dent and an error by Bruce Buckle loaded the bases. Jim Spencer's single to center scored Brad Garr and Dent.

Gossage won his third game in six decisions by striking out nine and walking four.

The White Sox' winning streak is their longest since 1973 when they also won nine in a row.

Dock Ellis gave up only four hits, struck out four and walked just one ... but.

"I'm paid to win, not just to pitch well," the New York Yankees right-hander said.

"Tonight, the other guy was better."

The "other guy" was Milwaukee left-hander Bill Travers. He limited the Yanks to four hits, struck out seven and walked two as the Brewers nipped New York 1-0.

"From what I've seen of the left-handers in this league, there's (California's Frank) Tanana and Travers and pick anyone you want for the third spot," said Milwaukee Manager Alex Grammas after Travers hurled his first major league shutout.

"It was my best-pitched game ever," Travers said. "It's taken me six years to get everything together."

In other American League games Tuesday night, Boston blanked Detroit 2-0, Cleveland nipped Baltimore 3-1, and Oakland stopped Minnesota 8-1. Kansas City at Texas was postponed by rain.

The game's only run came in the fourth when Darrell Porter led off with a double, took third on Bob Hansen's grounder and scored on George Scott's sacrifice fly.

Carl Yastrzemski's two-run homer and Luis Tiant's second shutout of the season gave the surging Boston Red Sox their win over Detroit and their 11th victory in their last 14 games. Yastrzemski's roundtripper in

Phoenix Needs Westphal Form

By BERT ROSENTHAL
AP Sports Writer
BOSTON (AP) — Plunging into the Valley of the Suns has helped Paul Westphal reach his peak in professional basketball.

But one of the few downfalls he has encountered during his first season with the Phoenix Suns was last Sunday's opening game of the National Basketball Association's nationally televised best-of-seven championship series against the Boston Celtics. In that game, a 98-87 loss to his former teammates, Westphal, the Suns' leading scorer, hit only four of 17 field goal attempts and scored eight points.

Boston Coach Tom Heinsohn, however, is quite cognizant of Westphal's capabilities and doesn't figure the Suns' hard-driving guard to have such a poor showing in Thursday night's Game Two at the Boston Garden.

"They'll be looking to go to Westy," said Heinsohn. "He's a big part of their offense. He could break out. He's a good shooter, and he could come back and hit 10 of 17."

Heinsohn's decision to put Jo Jo White on Westphal was credited with adversely affecting the play of the Suns' backcourt man. During the regular season, Westphal had been guarded by Charlie Scott, the player he had been traded for a year ago.

Heinsohn explained that he made the change because he wanted Scott guarding the Phoenix player bringing the ball upcourt. In this case, rookie Ricky Sobers. That job had been Westphal's earlier in the season, but when Dick Van Arsdale suffered a broken bone in his left arm, Sobers took his place in the lineup and has been there ever since.

While also had been familiar with Westphal, having played against him during practice for three years.

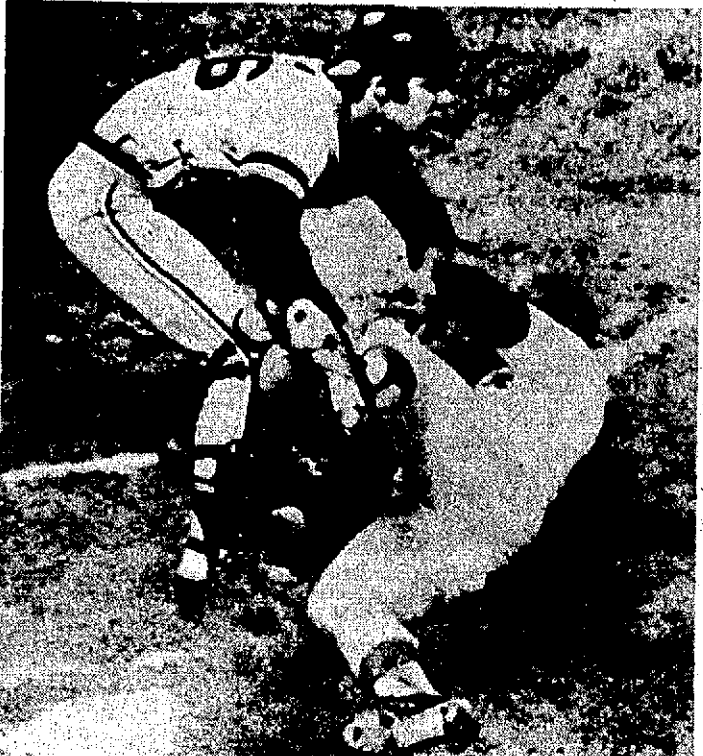

The Suns basically are a pattern offensive team, using a lot of picks and cuts in attempts to set up open shots, and under the system, the quick Westphal is the player they go to most often.

Because of his former association with the Celtics, Westphal has been under extreme pressure since it was determined a week ago that it would be a Boston-Phoenix final.

"I think there has to be a lot of pressure on Paul," said Van Arsdale. "I know I would feel it if I were in his place."

Westphal has been trying to relax and maintain his stamina during the long spell between games by playing tennis.

But he still harbors some bitter feelings towards the Celtics and is hoping to make amends for his poor opening game with a better performance Thursday night.

Pistons Eyeing College Stars

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Pistons have a rare first-round draft pick this year, and the National Basketball Association team says it's looking at Rich Washington and Marques Johnson of UCLA as well as Leon Douglas of Alabama.

However, the Pistons are being sure that when they draft a player, they won't run into problems and lose him. That's partly because they haven't had a first-round pick since 1974, and due to trades and the like, won't have another until at least 1978.

Coach Herb Brown says he feels both Washington and Johnson "would be agreeable to playing in Detroit," adding he got "the same feeling" after talking with Douglas.

The Pistons draft fourth this year behind Atlanta, Chicago and Kansas City, despite their surprising showing in the playoffs when they gave Golden State a tough fight in the quarterfinals.

"We are interested in what players are like as individuals, whether they will be compatible with the players we have and whether they will fit in with the philosophy we're trying to endue here," said Brown.

Brown said the Pistons are interested in any offers the players may have gotten from the rival American Basketball Association, and whether the two UCLA players might withdraw from hardship status.

King Has Three Cars In Indy 500

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Grant King figures his chances of winning Sunday's Indianapolis 500 are 11-1, but his odds are also three times greater of blowing an engine or crashing.

King, whose three-car team is the largest in the race, said: "Having three cars in the field is a lot harder on me, but it's also very rewarding."

Even if all three of his machines — two 1976 Dragons and a 1974 Kingfish — fail to complete even one lap, the Clermont, Ind., car builder and mechanic figures the least he can collect in prize money is $45,000, since even last place in the 33-car field pays a minimum of $14,000.

"My chances of winning are something like 11-1, but we also have three times the chance of crashing a car or three times the chance of blowing engines."

"It's three times the problems or more. I've spent the last couple of days just working on fueling systems — new hoses, couplings, valves, nozzles, everything."

"Each one of the cars has a lot of stuff that needs to be gone through — engines, radins and so forth.

"I've got to find fire clothes, pit crew uniforms, tickets, pit passes ..."

As for pit crewmen, "I have to have 33 people just to service the three race cars, you know, three scorers, three signalmen on the wall, three holding the fuel vent valve ... It just goes on and on."

Still, King feels rewarded for all the years he came here with two cars and only got one in the show.

"I've suffered quite a few setbacks here, and I've missed the race enough to know how it feels," he said. "I feel like we've really accomplished something."

He added wryly, "The cash don't hurt either."

From Associated Press

ANAHEIM (AP) — Catcher Brian Downing delivered his second game-winning hit in as many nights Tuesday to back the six-hit pitching of Rick Gossage and give the surging Chicago White Sox their ninth straight victory, a 7-1 decision over the California Angels.

Downing lined a two-out eighth-inning single to snap a 1-1 tie and saddle Angels' starter Gary Ross with his sixth loss in seven decisions.

Monday, Downing drove in four runs, including three with a game-breaking double, in a 5-3 Chicago win.

The first three White Sox runs were unearned as a result of two California errors. The biggest was Dave Chalk's misplay of Jim Spencer's grounder which prolonged the eighth inning.

Ralph Garr began the inning with a single and took second on a sacrifice. With two out, Chalk fell down as he tried to field Spencer's bouncer. After Spencer stole second, Downing drilled his game-winning single to right.

The White Sox added four ninth-inning runs. After Buddy Bradford singled, Pat Kelly slammed a two-run homer. Garr then followed with a single, reliever Dick Drago walked Bucky Dent and an error by Bruce Bochte loaded the bases. Jim Spencer's single to center scored Brad Garr and Dent.

Gossage won his third game in six decisions by striking out nine and walking four.

The White Sox' winning streak is their longest since 1973 when they also won nine in a row.

Dock Ellis gave up only four hits, struck out four and walked just one ... but.

"I'm paid to win, not just to pitch well," the New York

Yankees right-hander said. "Tonight, the other guy was better."

The "other guy" was Milwaukee left-hander Bill Travers. He limited the Yanks to four hits, struck out seven and walked two as the Brewers nipped New York 1-0.

"From what I've seen of the left-handers in this league, there's (California's) Frank Tanana and Travers and pick anyone you want for the third spot," said Milwaukee Manager Alex Grammas after Travers hurled his first major league shutout.

In other American League games Tuesday night, Boston blanked Detroit 2-0, Cleveland nipped Baltimore 3-1, and Oakland stopped Minnesota 6-1. Kansas City at Texas was postponed by rain.

The game's only run came in the fourth when Darrell Porter led off with a double, took third on Bob Hansen's grounder and scored on George Scott's sacrifice fly.

Carl Yastrzemski's two-run homer and Luis Tiant's second shutout of the season gave the surging Boston Red Sox their win over Detroit and their 11th victory in their last 14 games. Yastrzemski's roundtripper in the fourth scored Carlton Fisk who had opened the inning with a walk.

Tiant was masterful, scattering seven hits, striking out eight, including slugger Will Horton three times, and walking none.

Vida Blue's eight-hit pitcher was backed by Sal Bando's two-run homer and Billy Williams' two runs batted-in as Oakland's shacked Minnesota. Blue had shutout until the eighth when he issued his only two walks of game and gave up a run-scoring single to Dan Ford.

Bando's sixth homer of the season in the second inning at Williams' single with the bases loaded in the third were more than enough for the Oakland left-hander. Phil Garner hit three of the A's 11 hits while Twins rookie Butch Wynegar had two of the hits off Blue, 4 to raise his batting average .300.

Phoenix Needs Westphal Form

By BERT ROSENTHAL
AP Sports Writer

BOSTON (AP) — Plunging into the Valley of the Suns has helped Paul Westphal reach his peak in professional basketball. But one of the few downfalls he has encountered during his first season with the Phoenix Suns was last Sunday's opening game of the National Basketball Association's nationally televised best-of-seven championship series against the Boston Celtics. In that game, a 98-87 loss to his former teammates, Westphal, the Suns' leading scorer, hit only four of 17 field goal attempts and scored eight points.

Boston Coach Tom Heinsohn, however, is quite cognizant of Westphal's capabilities and doesn't figure the Suns' hard-driving guard to have such a poor showing in Thursday night's Game Two at the Boston Garden.

"They'll be looking to go to Westy," said Heinsohn. "He's a big part of their offense. He could break out. He's a good shooter, and he could come back and hit 10 of 17."

Heinsohn's decision to put Jo Jo White on Westphal was credited with adversely affecting the play of the Suns' backcourt man. During the regular season, Westphal had been guarded by Charlie Scott, the player he had been traded for a year ago.

Heinsohn explained that he made the change because he wanted Scott guarding the Phoenix player bringing the ball upcourt, in this case, rookie Ricky Sobers. That job had been Westphal's earlier in the season, but when Dick Van Arsdale suffered a broken bone in his left arm, Sobers took his place in the lineup and has been there ever since.

White also had been familiar with Westphal, having played against him during practice for three years.

The Suns basically are a pattern offensive team, using a lot of picks and cuts in attempts to set up open shots, and under the system, the quick Westphal is the player they go to most often.

Because of his former association with the Celtics, Westphal has been under extreme pressure since it was determined a week ago that it would be a Boston-Phoenix final.

"I think there has to be a lot of pressure on Paul," said Van Arsdale. "I know I would feel it if I were in his place."

Westphal has been trying to relax and maintain his stamina during the long spell between games by playing tennis.

But he still harbors some bitter feelings towards the Celtics and is hoping to make amends for his poor opening game with a better performance Thursday night.

"The Celtics have this provincial attitude," said Westphal. "They say, 'We made the kid a player. I resent that a little.'"

"I definitely feel I didn't have a chance at Boston, but I don't really blame anybody. They like to bring guys up slowly."

Pistons Eyeing College Stars

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Pistons have a rare first-round draft pick this year, and the National Basketball Association team says it's looking at Rich Washington and Marques Johnson of UCLA as well as Leon Douglas of Alabama.

However, the Pistons are being sure that when they draft a player, they won't run into problems and lose him. That's partly because they haven't had a first-round pick since 1974, and due to trades and the like, won't have another until at least 1979.

Coach Herb Brown says he feels both Washington and Johnson "would be agreeable to playing in Detroit," adding he got "the same feeling" after talking with Douglas.

The Pistons draft fourth this year behind Atlanta, Chicago and Kansas City, despite their surprising showing in the playoffs when they gave Golden State a tough fight in the quarterfinals.

"We are interested in what players are like as individuals, whether they will be compatible with the players we have and whether they will fit in with the philosophy we're trying to endure here," said Brown.

Brown said the Pistons are interested in any offers the players may have gotten from the rival American Basketball Association, and whether the two UCLA players might withdraw from hardship status.

"We want to find out what they know about Detroit," he said. "We want them to know what kind of town it is and how we were received here in the playoffs."

Mike Rosinski got the winning hit in the seventh to key the Jets over the Tigers 6-5. Robach had two doubles for the Tigers.

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Grant King figures his chances of winning Sunday's Indianapolis 500 are 11-1, but his odds are also three times greater of blowing an engine or crashing.

King, whose three-car team is the largest in the race, said: "Having three cars in the field is a lot harder on me, but it's also very rewarding."

Even if all three of his machines — two 1976 Dragons and a 1974 Kingfish — fail to complete even one lap, the Clermont, Ind., car builder and mechanic figures the least he can collect in prize money is $45,000, since even last place in the 33-car field pays a minimum of $14,000.

"My chances of winning are something like 11-1, but we also have three times the chance of crashing a car or three times the chance of blowing engines."

"It's three times the problems or more. I've spent the last couple of days just working on fueling systems — new hoses, couplings, valves, nozzles, everything."

"Each one of the cars has a lot of stuff that needs to be gone through — engines, radios and so forth.

"I've got to find fire clothes, pit crew uniforms, tickets, pit passes ..."

As for pit crewmen, "I have to have 33 people just to service the three race cars, you know, three scorers, three signalmen on the wall, three holding the fuel vent valve ... it just goes on and on."

Still, King feels rewarded for all the years he came here with two cars and only got one in the show.

"I've suffered quite a few setbacks here, and I've missed the race enough to know how it feels," he said. "I feel like we've really accomplished something."

He added wryly, "The cash doesn't hurt either."

There was a time when it looked like none of King's cars would make the race this year.

John Martin qualified on the second attempt, on the second day of time trials, at 182.417 miles an hour in a Dragon.

Bob Harkey put the Kingfish in on the third day of qualifying at 181.141 m.p.h. and Sheldon Kinser got the other Dragon in later the same day at 181.114 m.p.h., which turned out being the slowest speed in the field.

"That car is faster. In fact, they're all capable of going faster," King said. "We barely got the two new cars done in time for the speedway, and I really feel pretty good about how well they worked right out of the box."

"Everybody else is like an arms-length ahead of us in testing and development."

Howe Captures Race Victory

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — Ed Howe of Beaverton edged past defending champion John Roberts of Coleman Tuesday to take the first Circuit of Champions auto race of the season.

Howe won $1,000 by driving his 1976 Camaro to an unofficial speed of 65.3 miles per hour in the 75-lap race on a three-eighths mile Auto City track.

Dale Woolworth of Flint was second and took home $800, while Roberts won $600 for third place. This year's season includes 16 more dates.

Edwards, Lancers Bud Girls Champs

Nine Records Fall In Meet

By JOHN VANDEN HEED

THREE OAKS — Rhonda Edwards and her Lakeshore teammates set five league records and won six events while repeating as conference champions in the second annual girls Blossomland track and field meet here Tuesday evening.

And the record smashing — nine were broken overall Tuesday — is likely to continue over the next few years, because there's plenty of talented underclassmen among the Blossomland girls.

Edwards, just a junior, was Tuesday's outstanding individual as Lakeshore rolled up 69 team points and comfortable 27-point margin over second-place Dowagiac. She won three events with record efforts — long jump (18' 11"), 100 dash (11.5) and 220 dash (25.8).

Others with plenty of eligibility left were also in on the victories, including freshmen Cindy Culver of Coloma and Janel Root of Lakeshore. Culver won the 440 dash and ran a leg on the winning Comet mile relay team and Root captured the 880 run in a record 2:28.0.

Lakeshore's other first and other record came from Marlene Peldys. She took the high jump with a record leap of 4 feet, 11 inches and also won the 110 low hurdles event.

"We expected that effort from Edwards... she's super," commented Lakeshore assistant coach Marty Scherr on the overall outcome. "But one of the big things was in the high jump. We went one-two-three, and two girls went higher than they ever had before."

Other double winners were River Valley's Debbie Lundin in the shot put and discus and Dowagiac's Valerie Ward as anchor for winning 440 and 880 relay teams.

Lundin's discus effort is an automatic record because it's the first year for the event, and Ward and her teammates set a 440 relay mark of 52.2.

Other records Tuesday came from River Valley's Sue Varga (5:38.8) and Buchanan two-miler Susan Trull (12:48.6).

The improvement shown by Blossomland girls in their relatively new sport was also revealed by the fact that three defending champions finished no better than third Tuesday.

A fourth champion, Lakeshore's Peggy Root, couldn't defend her 440 title because of an injury. But that heartbreak was topped by another disappointment in the next to last event of the evening.

She was allowed to run the anchor leg on the mile relay team, and Lakeshore won easily with a swift 4:17.4, but another contestant pointed out to officials she was wearing a ring (a no, no in the rules book), so the Lancers were disqualified.

Lakeshore had previously won the dual meet portion of the Bud track title with a 6-1 record.

Collier Gets Honor

First baseman Mike Collier is St. Joseph's only representative on the all-Big Seven baseball team, announced today by league coaches.

Champion Niles has four all-stars, including pitchers Tim Given and Arnie Whitehead infielders Tim Savada and Vern Radewald.

Other all-league selections of

Vanderbush Rips Apart Lakeshore

Wall Vanderbush pitched and batted Blossomland champ Buchanan to a 5-1 win over Lakeshore in the league finale for both teams Tuesday.

Vanderbush worked the first five innings on the mound to pick up his ninth win without a loss in league play. The senior right-hander gave up just two hits, while fanning nine and walking just one. Vanderbush struck out 122 batters in 59 league innings.

Nat Yost finished up for the Bucks and allowed just two hits over the final two frames.

Scott Kimball took the loss for the Lancers.

At the plate, Vanderbush belted a double and a single to pace the eight-hit Buchanan attack.

Gary Jones' two-run single in the third drove in what proved to be the winning runs.

Tom Frakes drove in the only Lakeshore run with a second-inning triple.

Stephens Standout In Harbor Victory

DOWAGIAC — Craig Stephens drove in four runs with three hits Tuesday to lead Benton Harbor to an 8-3 non-league baseball victory over Dowagiac here.

The Tigers, now 5-13, tallied four runs in the third and added three runs in the fourth to post the win. It was Stephens who cracked a three-run triple in the fourth to break the game open.

Stephens added a pair of singles to the Benton Harbor attack. Larry Bell chipped in a double and a single.

Mark McCoy and Marty Smallbone each collected a pair of singles for Dowagiac, now 18-7.

Terry McFarland pitched an eight-hitter for the win, while Jim Brosnan took the loss.

St. Joseph Girls Win League Title

Bear Depth Key To Success

BATTLE CREEK — Depth.

That one word probably best explains the success of St. Joseph's girls track team. And Tuesday the Bears proved it once again.

Though claiming just three firsts, St. Joe piled up enough points to win the Big Seven girls' conference track meet and clinch the league championship.

The Bears finished tied with Holland in dual meets, both capturing six of seven. But St. Joe took the title by outpointing the Dutch 64-60 in Tuesday's league meet.

"I'm very pleased with the title," St. Joe coach Joe Collins said. "The girls worked very hard and I felt they were very deserving."

Portage Northern finished a distant third with 46 points, followed by Kalamazoo, Loy Norrix (40), Niles and Battle Creek (38) and Portage Central (25).

"Depth was the key," Collins observed. "We knew we had it and with six places it would provide us with a chance to prove it."

"I was especially pleased with the high jumpers and the two-milers. We scored 11 points in the high jump and our second and third places in the two mile really turned it around."

St. Joe took first, third and sixth in the high jump to grab an early lead in the meet. And the Bears never relinquished it.

Sue Griswold won the event with a leap of 5' 2". Jill Ziebart came in third (4' 11") and Patty Koonitz took sixth (4' 10").

In the two mile, both Cindy Putnam and Doreena Dunning finished ahead of regional champ Janet Pierce of Portage Northern. Putnam was second with a time of 12:48.3 and Dunning third in 13:02.2.

Edwards, Lancers Bud Girls Champs

By JOHN VANDEN HEED

THREE OAKS — Rhonda Edwards and her Lakeshore teammates set five league records and won six events while repeating as conference champions in the second annual girls Blossomland track and field meet here Tuesday evening.

And the record smashing — nine were broken overall Tuesday — is likely to continue over the next few years, because there's plenty of talented underclassmen among the Blossomland girls.

Edwards, just a junior, was Tuesday's outstanding individual as Lakeshore rolled up 69 team points and comfortable 27-point margin over second-place Dowagiac. She won three events with record efforts — long jump (16' 11"), 100 dash (11.5) and 220 dash (25.9).

Others with plenty of eligibility left were also in on the victories, including freshmen Cindy Culver of Coloma and Janel Root of Lakeshore. Culver won the 440 dash and ran a leg on the winning Comet mile relay team and Root captured the 880 run in a record 2:28.0.

Lakeshore's other first and other record came from Marlene Peldys. She took the high jump with a record leap of 4 feet, 11 inches and also won the 110 low hurdles event.

"We expected that effort from Edwards... she's super," commented Lakeshore assistant coach Marty Scherr on the overall outcome. "But one of the big things was in the high jump. We went one-two-three, and two girls went higher than they ever had before."

Other double winners were River Valley's Debbie Lundin in the shot put and discus and Dowagiac's Valerie Ward as anchor for winning 440 and 880 relay teams.

Lundin's discus effort is an automatic record because it's the first year for the event, and Ward and her teammates set a 440 relay mark of 52.2.

Other records Tuesday came from River Valley miler Sue Varga (5:36.9) and Buchanan two-miler Susan Trull (12:48.6).

The improvement shown by Blossomland girls in their relatively new sport was also revealed by the fact that three defending champions finished no better than third Tuesday.

A fourth champion, Lakeshore's Peggy Root, couldn't defend her 440 title because of an injury. But that heartbreak was topped by another disappointment in the next to last event of the evening.

She was allowed to run the anchor leg on the mile relay team, and Lakeshore won easily with a swift 4:17.4, but another contestant pointed out to officials she was wearing a ring (a no, no in the rules book), so the Lancers were disqualified.

Lakeshore had previously won the dual meet portion of the Bud track title with a 6-0 record.

Collier Gets Honor

First baseman Mike Collier is St. Joseph's only representative on the all-Big Seven baseball team, announced today by league coaches.

Champion Niles has four all-stars, including pitchers Tim Gowen and Arnie Whitehead and infielders Tim Szewda and Vern Radewald.

Other all-league selections on

Vanderbush Rips Apart Lakeshore

Walt Vanderbush pitched and batted Blossomland champ Buchanan to a 5-4 win over Lakeshore in the league finale for both teams Tuesday.

Vanderbush worked the first five innings on the mound to pick up his ninth win without a loss in league play. The senior right-hander gave up just two hits, while fanning nine and walking just one. Vanderbush struck out 122 batters in 59 league innings.

Hal Yost finished up for the Bucks and allowed just two hits over the final two frames.

Scott Kimball took the loss for the Lancers.

At the plate, Vanderbush belted a double and a single to pace the eight-hit Buchanan attack.

Gary Jones' two-run single in the third drove in what proved to be the winning runs.

Tom Frakes drove in the only Lakeshore run with a second-inning triple.

Lutheran Wins

Jeff Klapp and Dan Brege hit homers and Gene Mantel picked up the pitching win as Christ Lutheran creamed Church Of God 18-1 in a St. Joseph Church league softball game Tuesday night.

Terry McFarland pitched an eight-hitter for the win, while Jim Brosnan took the loss.

Stephens Standout In Harbor Victory

DOWAGIAC — Craig Stephens drove in four runs with three hits Tuesday to lead Benton Harbor to an 8-3 non-league baseball victory over Dowagiac here.

The Tigers, now 5-13, tallied four runs in the third and added three runs in the fourth to post the win. It was Stephens who cracked a three-run triple in the fourth to break the game open.

Stephens added a pair of singles to the Benton Harbor attack. Larry Bell chipped in a double and a single.

Mark McCoy and Marty Smallbone each collected a pair of singles for Dowagiac, now 18-7.

Terry McFarland pitched an eight-hitter for the win, while Jim Brosnan took the loss.

St. Joseph Girls Win League Title

BATTLE CREEK — Depth.

That one word probably best explains the success of St. Joseph's girls track team. And Tuesday the Bears proved it once again.

Though claiming just three firsts, St. Joe piled up enough points to win the Big Seven girls' conference track meet and clinch the league championship.

The Bears finished tied with Holland in dual meets, both capturing six of seven. But St. Joe took the title by outpointing the Dutch 64-60 in Tuesday's league meet.

"I'm very pleased with the title," St. Joe coach Joe Collins said. "The girls worked very hard and I felt they were very deserving."

Portage Northern finished a distant third with 46 points, followed by Kalamazoo Loy Norrix (40), Niles and Battle Creek Lakeview (29) and Portage Central (25).

"Depth was the key," Collins observed. "We knew we had it and with six places it would provide us with a chance to prove it."

"I was especially pleased with the high jumpers and the two-milers. We scored 11 points in the high jump and our second and third places in the two mile really turned it around."

St. Joe took first, third and sixth in the high jump to grab an early lead in the meet. And the Bears never relinquished it.

Sue Griswold won the event with a leap of 5' 2". Jill Ziebart came in third (4' 11") and Patty Koontz took sixth (4' 10").

In the two mile, both Cindy Putnam and Dorena Dunning finished ahead of regional champ Janet Pierce of Portage Northern. Putnam was second with a time of 12:48.8 and Dunning third in 13:02.2.

Nan McLelland and Jean MacFarlane took the other two Bear firsts. McLelland won the mile in 5:43.9 and MacFarlane captured the low hurdles in 16.0.

In addition to the second place St. Joe efforts, the Bears also claimed six thirds. Besides the high jump and two-mile performances, the 440-yard dash efforts of Ruth DeVries and Martha Skinner stood out for St. Joe. DeVries finished second in a school record time of 1:01.7, while Skinner was third in 1:02.1.

Other Bear third place finishers were Joann Mahachek in the shot put (33' 6 1/2"), and Caren Vanderbee in the 880 (2:33.9).

Jackie Ziebart was fourth in the discus (90' 3") and fourth in the shot put (32' 11"), while Pam Bloom was fifth in the low hurdles and Nancy Noah was fifth in the mile. The Bear 880 relay team was fourth. 880 relay team was fourth.

Thelma Martin headed the Niles contingent, coming in second in the long jump and sixth in the 440. Robin Modt was second in the shot put and Laurie MacDonald was second in the mile among other high Viking finishers.

Bees Upset Shamrocks

End Berrien Springs' Undefeated Streak

The bubble finally burst for Berrien Springs' baseball team Tuesday.

And Bridgman's Bees are still buzzing about popping that bubble.

The Bees held on for a 4-3 win over the Shamrocks, handing Berrien its first loss of the year. The Rocks had entered Tuesday's game with a perfect 12-0

Red Arrow record and 16-0 overall slate. But that didn't phase Bridgman at all.

In other Red Arrow action Tuesday, Lake Michigan Catholic and Watervliet closed out the league season in a tie for second. The Lakers clipped Hartford 8-3, while the Panthers blasted Eau Claire 16-4 in five innings. New Buffalo clipped Gallen 7-3 in the other game.

"We were probably as stunned as anyone," Bridgman coach Gary Owen said after the game. "The kids went into the game with the idea of winning it, but we had lost Monday (to Michigan Lutheran 16-12) and hadn't been playing that well."

"We just played steady ball. You could see the excitement build up during the game and we just kept making the plays," Tom Meredith drove in two runs with a first-inning single and the Bees never trailed after that.

After Joe Lunneen doubled in a run for the Rocks in the third, Meredith scored the game's key run in the fourth. Meredith hit a ground ball to third baseman Rick Thiele. Thiele's throw to first went into rightfield and Meredith came all the way around to score.

Bob Weed singled in what proved to be the winning run in the seventh for the Bees to offset a Berrien comeback in the bottom of the final frame.

After two out in the Shamrock seventh, Rick Sanders singled, Tim Sunday doubled and Lunneen singled to trim the Bridgman lead to 4-3. But Tony Sammons popped out to the catcher to end the game.

Dan Kamrath scattered nine hits to post the win, while sophomore Mike Shennberger took the loss.

"The loss is going to be good for us," Berrien coach Jim Birmingham said. "We went in skyhigh and just got blown out. Records don't win games. Maybe this will bring us back to earth."

Bridgman closed out the season strong with five wins in their last seven games to finish 6-8 in the league and 7-19 overall.

Richard Maxwell pitched a six-hitter for Lake Michigan Catholic (10-4). Maxwell fanned 10 and walked five.

Jim Paskel took the loss for Hartford, now 4-9 in league play.

Paul Genovese batted out two singles, while Kevin Wheeler slapped a two-run double for the Lakers. Wheeler is Catholic's only .300 hitter with a .321 batting average.

Duane Toney paced the Indian attack with a pair of hits.

Watervliet exploded for nine runs in the third inning to rip Eau Claire (3-1). Frank Gargano picked up the win in relief for the Panthers (10-4).

Rick Sabadin, Gargano, George Keller and Mike Marvin each slammed two hits for Watervliet. Bill Lindenmann added a bases-loaded triple.

Al Flowers and Dan Briney each drove in two runs with a double and a single for the Beavers.

Ronnie Robinson hurled a three-hitter in New Buffalo's win. Robinson fanned seven and walked just three to help the Bees close the year with a 8-8 Red Arrow slate.

Carl Underwood, and Phil Kozs each collected two hits for New Buffalo.

Terry Sears took the mound loss for Gallen, which wound up 4-10 in the league.

Three Invited To Vol Classic

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — University of Tennessee has invited St. John's, Southern Methodist University and LaSalle to its 11th annual Volunteer Basketball Classic here Dec. 17-18.

In addition, the Vols will participate in the Utah Classic in Salt Lake City Dec. 10-11, according to Bob Woudruff, Tennessee athletic director. The University of Utah will be host and other teams are San Francisco and California.

Northern Stuns Niles

Bears Turn Back Loy Norris

Niles' dreams of an unbeaten Big Seven baseball season came to an abrupt halt Tuesday.

Penn Barton pitched a five-hitter to lead Portage Northern to a stunning 1-0 win over the Vikings at the Northern Field.

Tim Gowen was the hard luck loser for Niles (10-1), despite giving up just one hit. Gowen, now 6-2, fanned 10 but walked nine.

In another Big Seven game Tuesday, St. Joseph got by Kalamazoo Loy Norris 6-3.

The only Northern hit came in the sixth inning and it proved to be the difference in the game. With two out, Gowen walked two straight batters and Lee Hambricht then blooped a double down the rightfield to drive in the game's only run.

"We beat them in every statistic except in runs," Niles coach Dave Crouch said.

"The kids are down because they were looking forward to an unbeaten conference season. Barton pitched a great game and I have a hunch we'll see him again Saturday (in a pre-district game)."

"We can't keep relying on hitting and defense. If we don't hit, we probably won't win. We have to score runs."

Ron Hallis and Cory Benford combined to pitch St. Joe in its win.

The Bears raced out to a 4-0 lead in the first three innings and then held on for the win.

The Bears, now 9-5 in the Big Seven and 11-11 overall, scored what proved to be the winning runs with three tallies in the third inning.

With one out, Herb Ross walked, Mike Collier singled and Rick Dyer singled in Ross. Dyer took second on the throw to the plate. Paul Knuth then hit a sacrifice fly to rightfield and when the throw to the plate got by the Norris catcher, Dyer also scored.

Collier collected three singles to raise his batting average to .411.

Simmons Makes Olympic Team

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Brad Simmons, a Yale University sophomore, has qualified for the U.S. skeet shooting team that will go to the Summer Olympics, a Yale spokesman said Tuesday.

Simmons, of Tyler, Texas, recently tied with John Satter with to top 180 other competitors for the two team positions.

South Haven Ties For Diamond Title

For the second straight year the Wolverine baseball race has finished in a tie.

Vicksburg edged South Haven 3-1 Tuesday to tie the Rams for first place. Both teams finished with 12-4 league records. Olsego (11-4) can make it a three-way tie by beating Allegan in a makeup game later this week.

Paw Paw nipped Comstock 4-3 in another Wolverine game Tuesday.

"We've got a share of the title and no one expected us to," South Haven coach Jim McLoughan said. "We have a young team with 14 of our 19 players returning.

Tom Grubka pitched Vicksburg past the Rams Tuesday. Grubka gave up just seven hits, struck out five and walked just two. Frank Winter was the loser for South Haven. Winter gave up six hits, fanned seven and issued three walks.

The Rams tallied their only run in the final inning and by then it was too late.

Dave Branschler and Brad

Dickerson each collected a pair of hits for South Haven and Branschler drove in the only Ram run.

Paw Paw, now 5-11 in Wolverine play, raced out to a 4-0 lead in the first two innings and then held on to win.

Karl Kroschinsky picked up the win for the Redskins with seventh-inning relief help from Rod Atstien. Comstock scored all three of its runs in the seventh.

Dave Field belted a double and a single and scored what proved to be the winning run in the second inning. Kelly Price added a two-run double for the Redskins.

Bloomington, Decatur Meet In SAC Showdown

The SAC baseball race has come down to Thursday's Bloomington-Decatur contest.

Both the Cardinals and Raiders tuned up for the decisive clash with league victories Tuesday afternoon. Bloomington blanked Lawton

9-0 and Decatur took care of Martin 14-7. Lawrence nipped Marcellus 5-4 in the other SAC game Tuesday.

The Cardinals take an 8-1 SAC record into Thursday's game, while the Raiders enter the tilt with a 9-2 slate. The winner of the game, to be played at Decatur, will clinch at least a share of the league title.

"We'll know Thursday night one way or another," Bloomington coach Bill Weese said. "I'm glad it comes down to that. If we can't beat them, we don't deserve to win the title. If we're going to win it, we want to beat Decatur ourselves."

Decatur has already beaten Bloomington twice this year. The Raiders handed the Cardinals their only SAC loss with an 8-4 win May 4. Decatur also eliminated Bloomington from the state baseball tournament 5-2 last Wednesday.

Kevin Wilkinson, Bill Rowison and Jeff Melvin combined for Tuesday's shutout. John Leyley took the loss for Lawton, which finished 0-12.

A six-run fifth inning broke the game open for the winners. Pat Barnes collected a double and a single and Gene Allen slugged a pair of singles for Bloomington.

Decatur scored 13 runs in the first three innings and held on to beat Martin (5-4) in a wild game.

Mike High drove in four runs with a homer and two singles for Decatur. Kurt Weese belted a triple, a double and two singles and drove in two runs. Bob Moore added a double and a single.

Russ Jarvis and Ken Vandenberg each collected three hits for Martin.

Terry Elmore drove in two runs with three hits in Lawrence's victory. Winning pitcher Dave Congdon added two hits and two RBIs for the winners, now 6-5. Marcellus fell to 4-5 in SAC play.

Paw Paw Girls Fifth In League

PLAINWELL — Joyce Horne took four first places while leading Three Rivers to the Wolverine girls track and field championship here Tuesday evening.

Comstock's Brenda Ray was another individual standout with three firsts.

Paw Paw, which finished fifth in the team standings, was paced by seconds from Amy Firestone in the 800 run and the mile relay team (4:21.1). Smith Haven, which finished seventh, got a second in the high jump from Shirley Smith (4' 10").

Third places for Paw Paw went in Beth Woodward in the mile (5:53.7) and Gail Sutherland in the 220 (27.6).

South Haven's thirds included Carol Stezowski in the two-mile (13:01), Ann Ollgaard in the 440 (63.25) and the 440 relay team (53.1).

Seales Retains Crown

SEATTLE (AP) — Ray Seales, North American middleweight boxing champion, retained his title Tuesday with a fourth-round knockout of Rico Hoye of Kalamazoo, Mich.

Seales brought Hoye down with a tapping right jab followed by a left-hand explosion to the chin.

The Tacoma boxer had Hoye in trouble after the first minute of the second round when he connected to the head with a hard left. He landed a dozen more punches in the next two minutes. The bout had been scheduled for 12 rounds.

Lakers' Schmid Hurls Shutout

Shelley Schmid pitched a one-hitter Tuesday to lead Lake Michigan Catholic's girls softball team to a 12-0 victory over Hartford.

Carlyn Klein drove in four runs for the Lakers and Sue Spear slammed a pair of doubles.

Football Teams Set Exhibitions

KINGSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Football squads from Texas A&I and Henderson State of Arkansas will play June 1 in West Berlin in the first of six exhibition games in a 21-day tour of Europe.

The two teams will depart May 30 on their NAAIA-sponsored tour.

They'll play June 3 in Vienna, Austria; June 9 in Florence, Italy; June 13 in Rome; June 15 in Genoa, Italy, and June 18 in Paris.

Zeeland Drops Fennville

FENNIVILLE — Zeeland scored three runs in the third and added three more in the fourth to post a 7-4 win over Fennville in a non-league baseball win here Tuesday.

Fennville scored four runs in the second frame to grab a 4-1 lead before Zeeland took over. Paul Vandergragt slugged a two-run homer and Gary Bazan added a solo shot in the third to tie the game for Zeeland.

Two of the three Zeeland runs in the fourth were unearned.

Rick Bushee slammed a double and a single and Gary Morse added a two-run single for Fennville, now 10-8.

Kearns Named

SEATTLE (AP) — Bill Kearns, 49, former scout with the Los Angeles Dodgers and Kansas City Royals, has been named a part-time scout for Seattle's American League franchise, the club has announced.

Bees Upset Shamrocks

End Berrien Springs' Undefeated Streak

The bubble finally burst for Berrien Springs' baseball team Tuesday.

And Bridgman's Bees are still buzzing about popping that bubble.

The Bees held on for a 4-3 win over the Shamrocks, handing Berrien its first loss of the year. The Rocks had entered Tuesday's game with a perfect 12-0

Red Arrow record and 16-0 overall slate. But that didn't phase Bridgman at all.

In other Red Arrow action Tuesday, Lake Michigan Catholic and Watervliet closed out the league season in a tie for second. The Lakers ripped Hartford 8-3, while the Panthers blasted Eau Claire 16-4 in five innings. New Buffalo clipped Galen 7-3 in the other game.

"We were probably as stunned as anyone," Bridgman coach Gary Owen said after the game. "The kids went into the game with the idea of winning it, but we had lost Monday (to Michigan Lutheran 16-12) and hadn't been playing that well. "We just played steady ball. You could see the excitement build up during the game and we just kept making the plays."

Tom Meredith drove in two runs with a first-inning single and the Bees never trailed after that.

After Joe Lunneen doubled in a run for the Rocks in the third, Meredith scored the game's key run in the fourth. Meredith hit a ground ball to third baseman Rick Thiele. Thiele's throw to first went into rightfield and Meredith came all the way around to score.

Bob Weed singled in what proved to be the winning run in the seventh for the Bees to offset a Berrien comeback in the bottom of the final frame.

After two out in the Shamrock seventh, Rick Sanders singled, Tim Sunday doubled and Lunneen singled to trim the Bridgman lead to 4-3. But Tony Sammons popped out to the catcher to end the game.

Dan Kamradt scattered nine hits to post the win, while sophomore Mike Shembarger took the loss.

"The loss is going to be good for us," Berrien coach Jim Birmingham said. "We went in skyhigh and just got blown out. Records don't win games. Maybe this will bring us back to earth."

Bridgman closed out the season strong with five wins in their last seven games to finish 6-8 in the league and 7-14 overall.

Richard Maxwell pitched a six-hitter for Lake Michigan Catholic (10-4). Maxwell fanned 10 and walked five.

Jim Paskel took the loss for Hartford, now 4-9 in league play.

Paul Genovese banged out two singles, while Kevin Wheeler slapped a two-run double for the Lakers. Wheeler is Catholic's only .300 hitter with a .324 batting average.

Duane Toney paced the Indian attack with a pair of hits.

Watervliet exploded for nine runs in the third inning to rip Eau Claire (3-11). Frank Gargano picked up the win in relief for the Panthers (10-4).

Rick Sabadin, Gargano, George Keller and Mike Marvin each slammed two hits for Watervliet. Bill Lindemann added a bases-loaded triple.

Al Flowers and Dan Briney each drove in two runs with a double and a single for the Beavers.

Rennie Robinson hurled a three-hitter in New Buffalo's win. Robinson fanned seven and walked just three to help the Bisons close the year with a 6-8 Red Arrow slate.

Carl Underwood, and Phil Koza each collected two hits for New Buffalo.

Terry Sears took the mound loss for Galien, which wound up 4-10 in the league.

Three Invited To Vol Classic

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — University of Tennessee has invited St. John's, Southern Methodist University and LaSalle to its 11th annual Volunteer Basketball Classic here Dec. 17-18.

In addition, the Vols will participate in the Utah Classic in Salt Lake City Dec. 10-11, according to Bob Woodruff, Tennessee athletic director. The University of Utah will be host and other teams are San Francisco and California.

Northern Stuns Niles

Bears Turn Back Loy Norrix

Niles' dreams of an unbeaten Big Seven baseball season came to an abrupt halt Tuesday.

Penn Barton pitched a five-hitter to lead Portage Northern to a stunning 1-0 win over the Vikings at the Northern Field.

Tim Gowen was the hard luck loser for Niles (10-1), despite giving up just one hit. Gowen, now 6-2, fanned 10 but walked nine.

In another Big Seven game Tuesday, St. Joseph got by Kalamazoo Loy Norrix 6-3.

The only Northern hit came in the sixth inning and it proved to be the difference in the game. With two out, Gowen walked two straight batters and Lee Hambricht then blooped a double down the rightfield to drive in the game's only run.

"We beat them in every statistic except in runs," Niles coach Dave Crouch said. "The kids are down because they were looking forward to an unbeaten conference season. Barton pitched a great game and I have a hunch we'll see him again Saturday (in a pre-district game)."

"We can't keep relying on hitting and defense. If we don't hit, we probably won't win. We have to score runs."

Ron Hollis and Cory Benford combined to pitch St. Joe to its win.

The Bears raced out to a 4-0 lead in the first three innings and then held on for the win.

The Bears, now 6-5 in the Big Seven and 11-11 overall, scored what proved to be the winning runs with three tallies in the third inning.

With one out, Herb Ross walked, Mike Collier singled and Rick Dyer singled in Ross. Dyer took second on the throw to the plate. Paul Knuth then hit a sacrifice fly to rightfield and when the throw to the plate got by the Norrix catcher, Dyer also scored.

Collier collected three singles to raise his batting average to .411.

Simmons Makes Olympic Team

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Brad Simmons, a Yale University sophomore, has qualified for the U.S. skeet shooting team that will go to the Summer Olympics, a Yale spokesman said Tuesday.

Simmons, of Tyler, Texas, recently tied with John Satterwaith to top 160 other competitors for the two team positions.

South Haven Ties For Diamond Title

For the second straight year the Wolverine baseball race has finished in a tie.

Vicksburg edged South Haven 3-1 Tuesday to tie the Rams for first place. Both teams finished with 12-4 league records. Otsego (11-4) can make it a three-way deadlock by beating Allegan in a makeup game later this week.

Paw Paw nipped Comstock 4-3 in another Wolverine game Tuesday.

"We've got a share of the title and no one expected us to," South Haven coach Jim McLoughan said. "We have a young team with 14 of our 19 players returning.

Tom Grubka pitched Vicksburg past the Rams Tuesday. Grubka gave up just seven hits, struck out five and walked just two. Frank Winter was the loser for South Haven. Winter gave up six hits, fanned seven and issued three walks.

The Rams tallied their only run in the final inning and by then it was too late.

Dave Braschler and Brad

Dickerson each collected a pair of hits for South Haven and Braschler drove in the only Ram run.

Paw Paw, now 5-11 in Wolverine play, raced out to a 4-0 lead in the first two innings and then held on to win.

Karl Kroshinsky picked up the win for the Redskins with seventh-inning relief help from Rod Austin. Comstock scored all three of its runs in the seventh.

Dave Field belted a double and a single and scored what proved to be the winning run in the second inning. Kelly Price added a two-run double for the Redskins.

Bloomington, Decatur Meet In SAC Showdown

The SAC baseball race has come down to Thursday's Bloomington-Decatur contest.

Both the Cardinals and Raiders tuned up for the decisive clash with league victories Tuesday afternoon. Bloomington blanked Lawton

9-0 and Decatur took care of Martin 14-7. Lawrence nipped Marcellus 5-4 in the other SAC game Tuesday.

The Cardinals take an 8-1 SAC record into Thursday's game, while the Raiders enter the tilt with a 9-2 slate. The winner of the game, to be played at Decatur, will clinch at least a share of the league title.

"We'll know Thursday night one way or another," Bloomington coach Bill Weese said. "I'm glad it comes down to that. If we can't beat them, we don't deserve to win the title. If we're going to win it, we want to beat Decatur ourselves."

Decatur has already beaten Bloomington twice this year. The Raiders handed the Cardinals their only SAC loss with an 8-4 win May 4. Decatur also eliminated Bloomington from the state baseball tournament 5-2 last Wednesday.

Kevin Wilkinson, Bill Rowilson and Jeff Melvin combined for Tuesday's shutout. John Lepley took the loss for Lawton, which finished 0-12.

A six-run fifth inning broke the game open for the winners. Pat Barnes collected a double and a single and Gene Allen slammed a pair of singles for Bloomington.

Decatur scored 13 runs in the first three innings and held on to beat Martin (5-4) in a wild game.

Mike High drove in four runs with a homer and two singles for Decatur. Kurt Wiese belted a triple, a double and two singles and drove in two runs. Bob Moore added a double and a single.

Russ Jarvis and Ken Vandenberg each collected three hits for Martin.

Terry Elmore drove in two runs with three hits in Lawrence's victory. Winning pitcher Dave Congdon added two hits and two RBIs for the winners, now 6-5. Marcellus fell to 4-5 in SAC play.

Paw Paw Girls Fifth In League

PLAINWELL — Joyce Horne took four first places while leading Three Rivers to the Wolverine girls track and field championship here Tuesday evening.

Comstock's Brenda Ray was another individual standout with three firsts.

Paw Paw, which finished fifth in the team standings, was paced by seconds from Amy Firestone in the 880 run and the mile relay team (4:21.1). South Haven, which finished seventh, got a second in the high jump from Shirley Smith (4' 10").

Third places for Paw Paw went to Beth Woodward in the mile (5:53.7) and Gail Sutherland in the 220 (27.6).

South Haven's thirds included Carol Stezowski in the two-mile (13:01), Ann Ollgaard in the 440 (63.25) and the 440 relay team (53.1).

Seales Retains Crown

SEATTLE (AP) — Ray Seales, North American middleweight boxing champion, retained his title Tuesday with a fourth-round knockout of Rico Hoya of Kalamazoo, Mich.

Seales brought Hoya down with a tapping right jab followed by a left-hand explosion to the chin.

The Tacoma boxer had Hoya in trouble after the first minute of the second round when he connected to the head with a hard left. He landed a dozen more punches in the next two minutes. The bout had been scheduled for 12 rounds.

Lakers' Schmid Hurls Shutout

Shelley Schmid pitched a one-hitter Tuesday to lead Lake Michigan Catholic's girls softball team to a 12-0 victory over Hartford.

Carlyn Klemm drove in four runs for the Lakers and Sue Spear slammed a pair of doubles.

Football Teams Set Exhibitions

KINGSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Football squads from Texas A&I and Henderson State of Arkansas will play June 1 in West Berlin in the first of six exhibition games in a 21-day tour of Europe.

The two teams will depart May 30 on their NALA-sponsored tour.

They'll play June 3 in Vienna, Austria; June 9 in Florence, Italy; June 13 in Rome; June 15 in Genoa, Italy, and June 18 in Paris.

FENNVILLE — Zeeland scored three runs in the third and added three more in the fourth to post a 7-4 win over Fennville in a non-league baseball win here Tuesday.

Fennville scored four runs in the second frame to grab a 4-1 lead before Zeeland took over. Paul Vanderjagt slugged a two-run homer and Gary Bazan added a solo shot in the third to tie the game for Zeeland.

Two of the three Zeeland runs in the fourth were unearned.

Rick Bushee slammed a double and a single and Gary Morse added a two-run single for Fennville, now 10-6.

Kearns Named

SEATTLE (AP) — Bill Kearns, 49, former scout with the Los Angeles Dodgers and Kansas City Royals, has been named a part-time scout for Seattle's American League franchise, the club has announced.

Hot Phillies Top Ace Seaver Again

Cards' Crawford Beats Cubs

From Associated Press
Tom Seaver has learned how to pitch to the Philadelphia Phillies — very carefully.

One of the hottest teams in baseball, the Phillies have beaten Seaver two times in the last week, including Tuesday night's 8-4 decision over the New York Mets.

"They're an extremely hot team — as hot as they can be," said Seaver. "That's about as hot a club as I've seen in a long time. Everything they hit was in exactly the right place."

The Phillies' victory was their 24th in 30 games and boosted their lead to 5½ games in the National League East over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Seaver, a three-time Cy Young winner, continued to be treated with little respect by Tommy Hutton. He had three hits Tuesday night to boost his lifetime mark against Seaver to 324. Hutton has 14 career hits in 33 appearances and 11 RBI against the right-hander.

While the Phillies continued to roll, Seaver continued to reel. The loss was his fourth straight after four victories at the start of the season.

In the other National League games, the Cincinnati Reds whipped the Atlanta Braves 10-4; the San Diego Padres stopped the Los Angeles Dodgers 5-2; the Montreal Expos' triumphed the Pittsburgh Pirates 6-3 in 11 innings; the St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Chicago Cubs 5-2 and the San Francisco Giants beat the Houston Astros 7-6.

Hutton shared the offensive load with Jay Johnstone, who slugged four hits, including a home run, drove in two runs and scored three. The Phillies rallied from a 3-0 first-inning deficit to help ambivalent Jim Lomborg earn his seventh victory. The Phillies raked Seaver for seven runs on 14 hits before he left for a pinch hitter in the seventh.

George Foster homered twice and drove in five runs for the second straight game, helping unheralded rookie Santo Alcala win his fourth game in Cincinnati's victory over Atlanta.

Foster had a three-run homer in the seventh, a solo shot in the third, and a run-scoring single in the first. His production gave him 35 RBI for the season, second highest in the National League to Dave Kingman's 36.

Doug Rader drove in four runs with a double and a three-run homer to spark San Diego left-hander Randy Jones past Los Angeles for his ninth victory. The decision was the fourth straight this season by the Padres over the National League West-leading Dodgers. Jones, the winningest pitcher in baseball, is now 9-2 with a 2.24 ERA.

Larry Parrish hit a two-run double in a four-run fifth inning to give Montreal its victory over Pittsburgh. With the game tied 2-2 through 10 innings, the Expos scored all their go-ahead runs off Pirate relief pitcher Bob Moose, unscathed upon in all 13 of his prior relief appearances this season.

Willie Crawford drove in three runs with a two-run homer and a double and set up another with a single to power the Cardinals to a victory over the Cubs.

Crawford wiped out a 2-1 Cubs lead by smashing his third homer of the season with two out in the sixth inning after Babe McBride had been hit by a Ray Burris pitch. Crawford also doubled home a run and scored on a single by Ron Fairly when the Cardinals clinched the game with two more runs in the eighth inning.

The Cubs took a 1-0 lead in the second on a double by Larry Bittner and a single by Steve Swisher.

The Cardinals tied it in the fourth. Ted Simmons singled for his 3,000th major league hit, went to third on a single by Crawford and scored on a single by Fairly.

Chicago took its final lead in the fifth when Jose Cardenal walked with two outs and scored on Bill Madlock's double.

Lynn McGlothlin, hurling his fourth complete game in nine starts, boosted his record to 5-3. Burris, 1-6, was the loser.

Willie Montanez's fourth hit of the game, a two-run homer in the eighth inning, lifted San Francisco over Houston. Bobby Murcer cracked his third career grand slam in a five-run, fifth inning rally that erased a 3-0 Houston lead and put the Giants ahead 5-3.

But the Astros scored an unearned run in the seventh and went ahead on Wilbur Howard's first home run in two years, a two-run shot in the top of the eighth for a 6-5 lead. Murcer's one-out single off Astros' relief ace Ken Forsch, 1-1, started the Giants' winning rally. With two down, Montanez hammered his second homer of the season into the right field stands.

Nilsson Super In Jet Victory

WINNIPEG (AP) — Center Ulf Nilsson has played some super hockey games for the Winnipeg Jets, but perhaps none as impressive or as important as Tuesday night.

The Swedish-born Nilsson scored three goals, one in each period, to spark Winnipeg to a key 6-3 triumph over the Houston Aeros and a commanding 3-1 lead in the World Hockey Association championship.

The Jets can capture their first-ever playoff title with a victory at home Thursday night. "It was a super performance," Winnipeg Coach Bobby Kromm said of his forward. "You couldn't ask a player to do anything more than he did tonight."

"He played super hockey, offense and defense, killed penalties, scored goals and hit people. What else is there to do?" Nilsson victimized Gordie Howe on his first two goals and scored the vital third-period goal to give Winnipeg a four-goal lead that enabled them to coast home.

Anders Hedberg, Veli Kotela and Peter Sullivan scored the other Winnipeg goals with Don Larway getting two and Mark Howe one for Houston. Winnipeg held period leads of 4-1 and 5-2 and outshot Houston 25-18 before a capacity crowd of 10,384.

Nilsson not only scored, but he also played one of his strongest defensive games as a Jet and handed out some crushing body checks not expected of him. And on more than one occasion he glared steadily into the eyes of Aeros' players, prepared to drop the gloves if necessary.

"That's not usually my game but it's all part of the game, the hard checks," the soft-spoken playmaker said of a tremendous body check he leveled on Houston captain Ted Taylor

Scouts' Fate In Limbo

CHICAGO (AP) — The fate of the Kansas City Scouts of the National Hockey League remains in limbo, but city officials hope a 10-day extension for their efforts to secure a buyer will prove fruitful.

The NHL's Board of Governors "served notice" Tuesday that the team's franchise would be terminated if an acceptable arrangement to keep hockey in Kansas City is not submitted before the board's June 7 meeting in Montreal.

NHL President Clarence Campbell said the Scouts had received a complaint note from the league informing the club that it had failed to pay dues and also had failed to repay a $300,000 loan secured from the league to complete the 1975-76 season.

Campbell said that while the franchise was "technically" terminated Tuesday, official termination "presumably" would take place in Montreal if the team is not sold.

The NHL official said Kansas City owner Edwin Thompson had told the league that the Scouts' present ownership is "unable to continue operations and that it has no desire to try to reorganize its finances."

Campbell added that the league had no intention of assuming operation of the Scouts.

Discussion of the Kansas City situation and of the proposed sale of the California Golden Seals were the chief items on the board of governors' agenda.

Campbell said Seals' owner Mel Swig has informed the league of his intentions either to sell the club or to move it from Oakland, but that the status of his negotiations remains uncertain.

The Seals have had money problems under several owners since the team was admitted in the league in 1967.

The 10-day extension was granted to Kansas City Mayor Charles Wheeler and five other members of a six-man delegation who attended the board session to "express their desire to keep the team in Kansas City," Campbell said.

Campbell said Wheeler told the NHL that he is "interested in taking whatever action is necessary to help to retain the club."

"He didn't say he and his staff would be successful, but he said he felt the people of Kansas City want hockey."

Wheeler told reporters that he was pleased to receive the extension and expressed confidence that the franchise could be saved.

The league had been expected to terminate the franchise after the Kansas City Kings of the National Basketball Association withdrew an offer to purchase the Scouts.

Hot Phillies Top Ace Seaver Again

Cards' Crawford Beats Cubs

From Associated Press

Tom Seaver has learned how to pitch to the Philadelphia Phillies — very carefully.

One of the hottest teams in baseball, the Phillies have beaten Seaver two times in the last week, including Tuesday night's 8-4 decision over the New York Mets.

"They're an extremely hot team — as hot as they can be," said Seaver. "That's about as hot a club as I've seen in a long time. Everything they hit was in exactly the right place."

The Phillies' victory was their 24th in 30 games and boosted their lead to 5½ games in the National League East over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Seaver, a three-time Cy Young winner, continued to be treated with little respect by Tommy Hutton. He had three hits Tuesday night to boost his lifetime mark against Seaver to .424. Hutton has 14 career hits in 33 appearances and 11 RBI against the right-hander.

While the Phillies continued to roll, Seaver continued to reel. The loss was his fourth straight after four victories at the start of the season.

In the other National League games, the Cincinnati Reds whipped the Atlanta Braves 10-4; the San Diego Padres stopped the Los Angeles Dodgers 5-2; the Montreal Expos trimmed the Pittsburgh Pirates 6-3 in 11 innings; the St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Chicago Cubs 5-2 and the San Francisco Giants beat the Houston Astros 7-6.

Hutton shared the offensive load with Jay Johnstone, who slammed four hits, including a home run, drove in two runs and scored three. The Phillies rallied from a 3-0 first-inning deficit to help unbeaten Jim Lonborg earn his seventh victory. The Phillies raked Seaver for seven runs on 14 hits before he left for a pinch hitter in the seventh.

George Foster homered twice and drove in five runs for the second straight game, helping unbeaten rookie Santo Alcala win his fourth game in Cincinnati's victory over Atlanta.

Foster had a three-run homer in the seventh, a solo shot in the third, and a run-scoring single in the fourth. His production gave him 35 RBI for the season, second highest in the National League to Dave Kingman's 36.

Doug Rader drove in four runs with a double and a three-run homer to spark San Diego left-hander Randy Jones past Los Angeles for his ninth victory. The decision was the fourth straight this season by the Padres over the National League West-leading Dodgers. Jones, the winningest pitcher in baseball, is now 9-2 with a 2.24 ERA.

Larry Parrish hit a two-run double in a four-run 11th inning to give Montreal its victory over Pittsburgh. With the game tied 2-2 through 10 innings, the Expos scored all their go-ahead runs off Pirate relief pitcher Bob Moose, unscathed upon in all 13 of his prior relief appearances this season.

Willie Crawford drove in three runs with a two-run homer and a double and set up another with a single to power the Cardinals to a victory over the Cubs.

Crawford wiped out a 2-1 Cubs lead by smashing his third homer of the season with two out in the sixth inning after Bake McBride had been hit by a Ray Burris pitch. Crawford also doubled home a run and scored on a single by Ron Fairly when the Cardinals clinched the game with two more runs in the eighth inning.

The Cubs took a 1-0 lead in the second on a double by Larry Bittner and a single by Steve Swisher.

The Cardinals tied it in the fourth. Ted Simmons singled for his 1,000th major league hit, went to third on a single by Crawford and scored on a single by Fairly.

Chicago took its final lead in the fifth when Jose Cardenal walked with two outs and scored on Bill Madlock's double.

Lynn McGlothen, hurling his fourth complete game in nine starts, boosted his record to 5-3. Burris, 1-6, was the loser.

Willie Montanez's fourth hit of the game, a two-run homer in the eighth inning, lifted San Francisco over Houston. Bobby Murcer cracked his third career grand slam in a five-run, fifth inning rally that erased a 3-0 Houston lead and put the Giants ahead 5-3.

But the Astros scored an unearned run in the seventh and went ahead on Wilbur Howard's first home run in two years, a two-run shot in the top of the eighth for a 6-5 lead. Murcer's one-out single off Astros' relief ace Ken Forsch, 1-1, started the Giants' winning rally. With two down, Montanez hammered his second homer of the season into the right field stands.

First MAC Crown In Five Years WMU Takes Track Title

OXFORD, Ohio (AP) — Western Michigan's young mile relay foursome finished second in the final event over the weekend to bring the Broncos from behind for their first Mid-American Conference track title in five years.

Western Michigan trailed Eastern Michigan by five points going into the closing relay. The Broncos' second place slipped them by the Hurons with 110 points to 107.

Eastern Michigan, failing to score a point in the closing event in the three-day meet in Miami Stadium, held onto to second place, however.

Defending champion Kent State finished third with 90

points, Bowling Green was fourth with 72 1-3 and Central Michigan fifth with 70. Then came Ohio University with 64, Miami with 60, Ball State with 40 2-3, Northern Illinois 20 and Toledo 16.

The Broncos' depth, along with four first places, returned Western Michigan to the dominance it enjoyed over the conference a decade ago. Western won 13 of 14 MAC track championships, beginning in 1958.

"Our mile relay knew what it had to do. I didn't have to say anything to them. We weren't that worried about Eastern Michigan," said Western Coach Jack Shaw.

The Broncos' unit of freshman Mark Dameritt, sophomores Jim Todd and Bill Yeo and junior Bob Cornwell ran a strong second behind Central Michigan's victorious mile relay time of 3:15.4 to clinch the crown.

Despite a third straight day of brilliant weather, only two conference records fell.

Mike Winsor of Central Michigan high jumped 7-1 to wipe out an 18-year-old MAC record set by Miami's Ted Downing. Mike Mimms of Ohio University tripled jumped 51-9/16, bettering the old mark of 50-11 set by Aaron Hopkins of Toledo, also in 1958.

A third MAC record had fallen Friday when Bruno Pauletta of Central Michigan put the shot 60'4."

The coaches voted Jim Howell of Ball State the outstanding performer in the meet.

Howell, a senior from LaPorte, Ind., won the testing 10-event decathlon, finished fifth in the high hurdles and ran a leg on the Cardinals' fifth-place mile relay unit for 12 1/2 points.

There were no double winners and just two 1975 champions, Dan Dutton of Bowling Green and Mimms, could keep their crowns Saturday. Dave Smith of Eastern Michigan in the six-mile run and Mike Irmen of Kent State had defended their championships earlier.

Dutton ran the 880 in 1:51.7.

TOP STUDENT-ATHLETE: Phil Merrill of Benton Harbor has been awarded the Dale B. Lake award at Kalamazoo Valley Community College, signifying him as the top student-athlete for the recent school year. Merrill had a 3.3 grade point average and was a catcher on the Cougars' baseball team. He batted .290 in the league and threw out 32 of 39 men trying to steal.

Miami MAC Net Champ

OXFORD, OHIO (AP) — Steve Kendall knocked off defending singles champion Tony Lamerato of Western Michigan to give champion Miami one of its four singles crowns over the weekend in the 30th Mid-American Conference tennis tournament.

Kendall, a senior from Short Hills, N.J., disposed of Lamerato, Western Michigan's ace who had won the last two No. 1 singles titles, in three sets 3-6, 6-4, 6-4. The victory marked the third league championship for Kendall, who won the No. 3 singles the past two seasons.

Western Michigan won two of the three doubles titles with No. 1 Bob Learman and Lamerato, and No. 2 Jim Buck and Fritz Dwyer. Bowling Green captured the No. 3 doubles honors.

Kendall's performance helped Miami win its third straight team title with 27 points. Western Michigan finished second with 20, and Toledo third with 15.

Ball State and Bowling Green

had 14 each, Ohio University 13, Kent State and Northern Illinois 4 apiece, Eastern Michigan 3, and Central Michigan 1.

Another Redskin star, Bob Gardner, won his second crown in a row. Gardner whipped Tom Olson of Bowling Green 60, 6-2 for the No. 2 singles laurels.

The other Miami singles champions were Craig Whittus at No. 3, a 6-4, 6-4 victor over Jim Donke of Ohio University, and No. 5 Steve Bogdanoff, who mastered Doug Dennis of Bowling Green 6-4, 6-2.

The only players to break host Miami's singles domination were No. 4 Mark Starkey of Toledo and No. 6 Tom Mitchell of Western Michigan. Starkey beat Steve Elkus of Ohio University 7-6, 6-2 while Mitchell defeated Steve Lazar.

Stackhouse Signs

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Penguins have signed veteran defenseman Ron Stackhouse to a new multi-year contract.

Three-Way Tie In SAC Track

Bloomington, Decatur and Marcellus will share the SAC track and field championship.

The title, based on the league meet and dual action, is the second in a row for Bloomington and Marcellus, which shared the crown last season.

Decatur won the league meet with Marcellus second and Bloomington third. But in dual meets Bloomington was tops at 6-0. Marcellus finished 5-1 and Decatur 4-2.

First MAC Crown In Five Years WMU Takes Track Title

OXFORD, Ohio (AP) — Western Michigan's young mile relay foursome finished second in the final event over the weekend to bring the Broncos from behind for their first Mid-American Conference track title in five years.

Western Michigan trailed Eastern Michigan by five points going into the closing relay. The Broncos' second place slipped them by the Hurons with 110 points to 107.

Eastern Michigan, failing to score a point in the closing event in the three-day meet in Miami Stadium, held onto second place, however.

Defending champion Kent State finished third with 90

points. Bowling Green was fourth with 72 1-3 and Central Michigan fifth with 70. Then came Ohio University with 64, Miami with 60, Ball State with 40 2-3, Northern Illinois 20 and Toledo 16.

The Broncos' depth, along with four first places, returned Western Michigan to the dominance it enjoyed over the conference a decade ago. Western won 13 of 14 MAC track championships, beginning in 1958.

"Our mile relay knew what it had to do. I didn't have to say anything to them. We weren't that worried about Eastern Michigan," said Western Coach Jack Shaw.

The Broncos' unit of freshman Mark Domeritt, sophomores Jim Todd and Bill Yeo and junior Bob Cornwell ran a strong second behind Central Michigan's victorious mile relay time of 3:15.4 to clinch the crown.

Despite a third straight day of brilliant weather, only two conference records fell.

Mike Winsor of Central Michigan high jumped 7-1 to wipe out an 18-year-old MAC record set by Miami's Ted Downing. Mike Mimms of Ohio University tripled jumped 51-9½, bettering the old mark of 50-11 set by Aaron Hopkins of Toledo, also in 1958.

A third MAC record had fallen Friday when Bruno Pauletto of Central Michigan put the shot 60½.

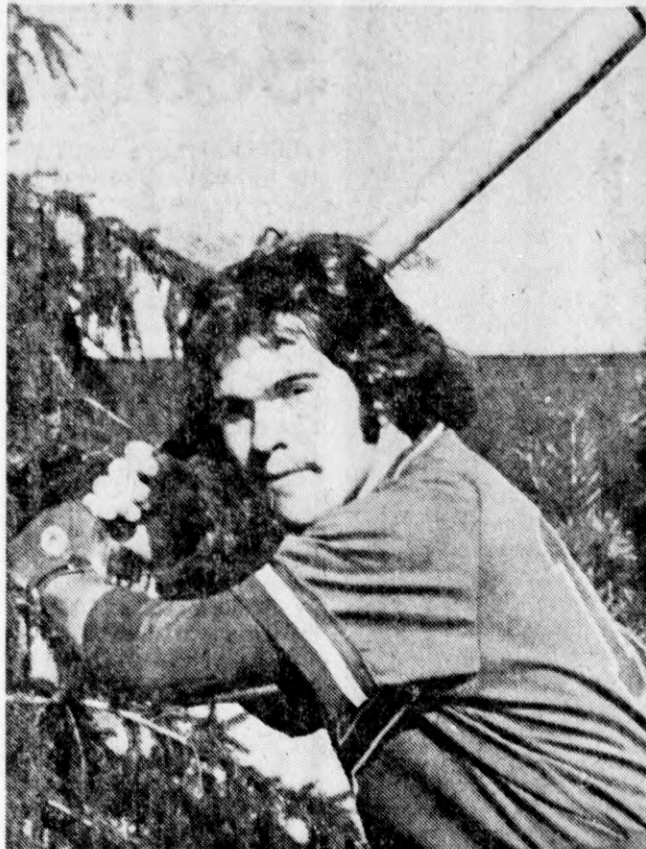

The coaches voted Jim Howell of Ball State the outstanding performer in the meet.

Howell, a senior from LaPorte, Ind., won the testing 10-event decathlon, finished fifth in the high hurdles and ran a leg on the Cardinals' fifth-place mile relay unit for 12½ points.

There were no double victors and just two 1975 champions. Dan Dunton of Bowling Green and Mimms, could keep their crowns Saturday. Dave Smith of Eastern Michigan in the six-mile run and Mike Irmen of Kent State had defended their championships earlier.

Dunton ran the 880 in 1:51.7.

Miami MAC Net Champ

OXFORD, OHIO (AP) — Steve Kendall knocked off defending singles champion Tony Lamerato of Western Michigan to give champion Miami one of its four singles crowns over the weekend in the 30th Mid-American Conference tennis tournament.

Kendall, a senior from Short Hills, N.J., disposed of Lamerato, Western Michigan's ace who had won the last two No. 1 singles titles, in three sets 3-6, 6-4, 6-4. The victory marked the third league championship for Kendall, who won the No. 3 singles the past two seasons.

Western Michigan won two of the three doubles titles with No. 1 Bob Learman and Lamerato, and No. 2 Jim Buck and Fritz Dwyer. Bowling Green captured the No. 3 doubles honors.

Kendall's performance helped Miami win its third straight team title with 27 points. Western Michigan finished second with 20, and Toledo third with 15.

Ball State and Bowling Green

had 14 each, Ohio University 13, Kent State and Northern Illinois 4 apiece, Eastern Michigan 3, and Central Michigan 1.

Another Redskin star, Bob Gardner, won his second crown in a row. Gardner whipped Tom Olson of Bowling Green 60, 6-2 for the No. 2 singles laurels.

The other Miami singles champions were Craig Whittus at No. 3, a 6-4, 6-4 victor over Jim Domke of Ohio University, and No. 5 Steve Bogdanoff, who mastered Doug Dennis of Bowling Green 6-4, 6-2.

The only players to break host Miami's singles domination were No. 4 Mark Starkey of Toledo and No. 6 Tom Mitchell of Western Michigan. Starkey beat Steve Elkus of Ohio University 7-6, 6-2 while Mitchell defeated Steve Lazar.

Stackhouse Signs

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Penguins have signed veteran defenseman Ron Stackhouse to a new multi-year contract.

Three-Way Tie In SAC Track

Bloomington, Decatur and Marcellus will share the SAC track and field championship.

The title, based on the league meet and dual action, is the second in a row for Bloomington and Marcellus, which shared the crown last season.

Decatur won the league meet with Marcellus second and Bloomington third. But in dual meets Bloomington was tops at 6-0. Marcellus finished 5-1 and Decatur 4-2.

The overall title was in doubt at the time of the league meet earlier this month because the dual meet schedule was incomplete.

Smith Top QB Spartans, Rogers Trying To Adjust

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan State's Green and White football game returns this week, but don't be surprised if things look a little disorganized.

New MSU Coach Darryl Rogers, you see, has been having a few problems adjusting to his new team and his players have been having some woes of their own as they try to learn the former San Diego State menior's new system.

"You're starting from scratch," Rogers commented Monday as his team enters its final week of spring drills. He made no secret of the fact it's been an occasionally frustrating month.

"I probably hoped for more than I should," he said. "We're not anywhere ready to play a football game yet."

"It's probably as much me adapting to them as them adapting to me," he added, relating instances of telling players to do something they'd never heard of — assuming they'd know just what he wanted.

"It takes time," he sighed. "We're laying the groundwork for fall." Then he laughed: "They probably won't retain any of this."

For instance, Rogers has code-named the four linebackers "muck," "willie," "sam" and "stud."

"Did you hit the muck back?" the coach asked one young Spartan after a scrimmage this spring.

The player, still fumbling with the code, responded: "I don't know his name, coach, but I got him."

None of the players had ever heard such designations before, and confusion reigned as they slowly became accustomed to Rogers' nicknames, offensive and defensive positions and plays.

Rogers gets his last look at what he's accomplished Saturday as he resurrects the once-annual "Green-White game," which was banished for three years under the reign of former Coach Denny Stolz.

He's split up the squad more-or-less evenly to ensure competition and not one of those 49-0 routs of the first string over the second.

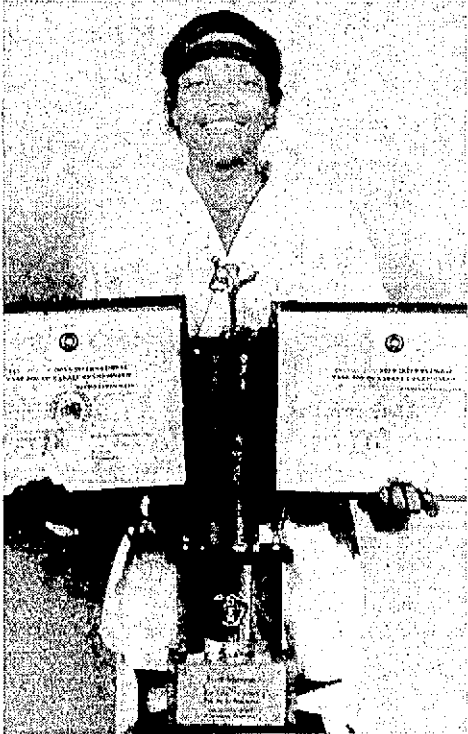

Quarterbacking the White team will be Marshall Lawson, a junior this fall and heir apparent to Charlie Baggett. Calling signals for the Greens will be sophomore Ed Smith, who observers say has a good shot at winning the starting nod this fall.

Smith, however, will miss the season's opener with Ohio State under penalties imposed by the NCAA as part of its investigation into MSU's football program violations. But Rogers said the one-game suspension — also dealt to four other players, in addition to a year's suspension for another and a five-game suspension for a seventh — will play no role in selecting his starting 22 players in the fall.

"If he is our best quarterback we'll treat him as such," he said. "We'll worry about the Ohio State game in the last week next fall. If they're not eligible to play we'll act as if they're injured and use their backups."

Smith has completed some 60 per cent of his passes for 490 yards in four scrimmages this spring, Rogers revealed, compared to about 50 per cent for Lawson and 180 yards. The Spartans figure to throw the ball more under his game plan than they did under that of Denny Stolz.

"Smith has quick feet and a quick release," Rogers said. "He has the ability to complete the short pass and he can throw long. But they all need more work on where the receivers are versus the coverage."

KARATE CHAMPION: Stephen Parker of Benton Harbor won the grand championship over the weekend in the Big Brothers sponsored Tang Soo Do Karate Championship at Kalamazoo. Other competitors from Benton Harbor who placed included Bobby Swift, first in sparring and second in kata in the pee wee division. William Swift Jr. took a second and Barzell Bell a third in junior lightweight, division. In mini Danette Buckley was second in mini pee wee sparring. Dave Williams was second in pee wee sparring. Martin Marcus was second in black belt sparring and second in black belt form. Pat Howard was third in women's form and Tom Hayes was third in green belt form. (Staff photo)

Plangger's Bats Silent

Plangger's fast pitch softball team left their bats at home over the weekend and lost three of four games.

The locals dropped a doubleheader Saturday at Bloomington, Ill. by scores of 3-1 and 2-1 and then split Sunday at Aurora, Ill. The defending national runner-up blanked Plangger's in the opener 5-0, but the locals came back to win the nightcap 4-3.

Plangger's collected just 10 hits combined in dropping the first three games. Rick Plangger took the loss in all three games, one in relief.

Rich Plangger picked up the only win for the locals with a four-hitter in the second game Sunday. Plangger's broke a 3-3 tie in the sixth inning and went on to win. Singles by Dick Hacker, Jerry Himmun and Ron Mandarino produced the win.

Reporter Woodward Has The Charm

Q: In the movie "All the President's Men" Carl Bernstein seems to come off the smartest but I like Bob Woodward better. Has anyone ever voted on favorites? — J.J., St. Paul, Minn.

A: The pair seem inextricably linked to the point of being named as one "Woodstein" but in any real popularity contest

Woodward would win hands down. He's the one with all the charm.

Q: I feel sorry for Louise Lasser's drug bust but what really interests me is her relationship with Bruce Solomon. Am I crazy, or is she getting high on Sgt. Foley's kisses? — D.R., Boston, Mass.

A: You win the sharp-eyed viewer award. We hear there is a real-life romance going on between Louise and Bruce. Solomon is said to be quite something with the ladies off-screen as well as on.

Q: Aren't those old-time Hollywood sex queens who were supposed to be so naughty pretty tame stuff compared to the current bunch who publicly admit sleeping around? — T.N., Atlanta, Ga.

A: According to a newly published biography of the "It" girl, Clara Bow, she would have been a stellar nymphomaniac in any era of Hollywood history. Scores of names are mentioned including such upright types as unreal.

Q: You said that Ava Gardner dated actor Martin Sheen in Rome. Were you suggesting romance? — D.A., San Diego, Calif.

A: You weren't listening. We wrote it was just a night on the town where Martin was filming "The Cassandra Crossing." Now "Badlands" Sheen is half a world away from Ava in the Philippine jungles where Francis Coppola is struggling to complete his Vietnam war picture. Sheen replaces Harvey Keitel, who was fired. Coppola says he greatly admires Sheen's talent and hopes for a long association. That, of course, is exactly what he said about Keitel.

Q: I lost track of that wonderful actor John Kerr who played the schoolboy in "Tea and Sympathy." — C.McD., N.Y., N.Y.

A: John went back to school and became a lawyer. He practices in Los Angeles and is currently living with Pat Cox, widow of the late comedian, Wally Cox.

Q: Can you tell me how many Air Force Medal of Honor winners there were in World War II? — H.V., Indianapolis, Ind.

A: There were 38 Medals of Honor awarded to personnel of the then-Army Air Corps. Amazingly, of the 14 men so honored who survived the war, only one has since died. That was World War II top ace, Maj. Richard Bong, who was killed in 1945, the last year of the war, while flying as a civilian test pilot. The other hardly unlucky 13 are still alive and well, according to Air Force records.

Q: What's with that long-heralded sex book by Gay Talese? After that article in Esquire there hasn't been any further news about the book. — L.G., Brooklyn, N.Y.

A: The two current rumors are one that Talese hasn't done much on it so a publication will have to be delayed. The second is that he was looking for a fiancée and has decided to use Sandstone, a club in Los Angeles, as the central theme.

TODAY In History

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Wednesday, May 26, the 147th day of 1976. There are 219 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1868, an attempt to impeach President Andrew Johnson was defeated in the Senate by one vote.

On this date: In 1790, Tennessee was organized as a territory.

In 1805, Napoleon Bonaparte was crowned King of Italy.

In 1864, the Montana Territory was organized.

In 1942, during World War II, Britain and the Soviet Union signed a 20-year treaty of alliance.

In 1970, prices on the New York Stock Exchange hit their lowest level in eight years after a steep 17-month slide.

Ten years ago: British Guiana became the independent Latin American nation of Guyana.

Five years ago: A Philippine vessel with 40 persons aboard was lost southeast of Manila during a typhoon. There were no survivors.

Today's birthday's: Actor John Wayne is 60.

Thought for today: The art of living is more like that of wrestling than that of dancing. The main thing is to stand firm and be ready for an unforeseen attack — Marcus Aurelius, Roman emperor, 121-180.

Bicentennial footnote: Two hundred years ago today, French leaders were conferring in Paris about a possible secret shipment of 15,000 muskets to the rebellious British Colonies in America.

The possibility that the Italian Communist Party (PCI) could obtain a plurality in the June 20 general election has touched off a great deal of debate, acrimony and speculation. In the past I have noted that the PCI has a history of standoffishness, if not resistance, to Moscow. A party with its own Lenin (Antonio Gramsci) and a highly sophisticated leadership (Palmiro Togliatti and, after his death, Enrico Berlinguer), the Italians — if only for cultural reasons — considered the Russians arrogant bores.

Recently the PCI has called for a "historic compromise" with the Christian Democrats (later adding other groups such as the Socialists), has eliminated the "dictatorship of the proletariat" from its program, and expressed disagreement with Moscow.

The French, British and Spanish (underground) parties have taken a similar line, most notably at the 25th Congress of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union (Feb. 24 — March 5), where Berlinguer informed the Russians that his party was for "an open and frank confrontation (with Moscow) of various experiences and positions." The French delegate, Gaston Plissomier, told a press conference that the recent abandonment of the "dictatorship of the proletariat" by the French Communist Party (PCP) was "not negotiable."

This is strong language, bordering on outright heresy, and has been interpreted by some conservative commentators as a deliberate attempt to get the Western European democratic parties to relax. This is a bit too clever; indeed, two weeks after the Communist Congress adjourned a high Soviet official, Venjamin Mideev, fired a salvo at the wandering sheep. It took the form of a 50-page pamphlet entitled "Revisionism in the Service of Anticomunism," which denounced criticism of "proletarian internationalism" (read as "utter subservience to Moscow") and called the "dictatorship of the proletariat" the supreme form of democracy.

The Bolsheviks are inscrutable, but it stretches the mind to think they are simultaneously running two charades: one to help the PCI and PCP, and the other to cut their ideological throats. Are the PCI and PCP about to lie down with the democratic lambs? Will they prove dedicated to NATO and unwilling to provide military secrets to their onetime masters?

To answer this, you will have to realize that separatism in a national Communist party in no way coincides with democratization. Four examples come to mind: China, Yugoslavia, Albania and Rumania. The first three have cut the umbilical cord of "proletarian internationalism" and remain national communist dictatorships. The Rumanians, as fine a group of domestic Stalinists one could ask for, are constantly pressing their claim for national autonomy from Moscow.

In short, the demand for autonomy, for taking the "national road to communism," does not in itself indicate any conversion to the principle of one person, one vote and the majority picks up the marbles.

Would they, in power, simply set up Italian or French Communist dictatorships and work out a Yugoslav-type relationship with Moscow? As far as the PCI is concerned, I think this would undoubtedly be the case.

The Italian situation is a bit more optimistic, but from the viewpoint of a democrat, nil nunc. The PCI, I think, would revert to a non-Leninist power model similar to that of Gramsci, or of the German Marxist Rosa Luxemburg; namely a dictatorship of "progressive forces" over "reactionary bourgeois elements."

GR To Spend $5.5 Million

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — City commissioners have approved a $5.5 million downtown rejuvenation plan, saying it is "necessary to public health, safety and welfare."

Construction is scheduled to begin in about a year on the project, which includes a pedestrian shopping mall and fountains, an ice rink and amphitheaters.

Owners of downtown business firms will provide $2.2 million through special assessments while $1.8 million will be raised from a citywide property tax. Most of the remaining cost will be met with federal funds.

MR. TWEEDY by Ned Riddle

Detroit Aid Mired In Hassle

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — While State Police hunted absent lawmakers and House leaders scratched for votes, a $27.8 million aid bill for Detroit stumbled over disagreement on subsidies for Pontiac Stadium.

After 4½ hours of debate Tuesday, the House began voting on the bill. But when the preponderance of red "no" lights on the electronic tally board made it clear that defeat was in hand, Democratic leaders interrupted the vote, called it a day and said they would try again today.

"The Detroit people and the Oakland County people have got to come to some kind of compromise. The impasse over the Pontiac stadium was what blew the package apart," said Minority Leader Dennis Cawthorne, R-Manistee.

The bill is part of a package worked out by Gov. William Milliken and Detroit Mayor Coleman Young to aid the financially troubled city.

Earlier Tuesday, Milliken signed a bill authorizing Detroit to levy a three-mill garbage tax to bring in $15 million and help avert a budget crisis.

Detroit City Council's deadline for levying the tax was Tuesday night, and House leaders wanted to pass the aid bill by then so the council could count on the aid before levying the tax. The council even continued its Tuesday meeting until 10 p.m. when it became clear the House would take a long time to act.

"I don't think it was an anti-Detroit vote," said Rep. William Ryan, D-Detroit.

"There was more controversy on the Pontiac Stadium than we anticipated. No one wanted to give sufficiently." He said House leaders still feel they can pass the bill, and that an agreement must be reached on how much money Pontiac Stadium should get, and on how a phase-out of state aid would work.

The stalled bill expresses the legislature's intent to phase out state aid to the stadium by $100,000 a year starting in fiscal 1977-78.

In 1972, the legislature agreed to appropriate $800,000 a year for 20 years when it was not known if a new stadium for

worked out by Gov. William Milliken and Detroit Mayor Coleman Young to aid the financially troubled city.

Earlier Tuesday, Milliken signed a bill authorizing Detroit to levy a three-mill garbage tax to bring in $15 million and help avert a budget crisis.

Detroit City Council's deadline for levying the tax was Tuesday night, and House leaders wanted to pass the aid bill by then so the council could count on the aid before levying the tax. The council even continued its Tuesday meeting until 10 p.m. when it became clear the House would take a long time to act.

"I don't think it was an anti-Detroit vote," said Rep. William Ryan, D-Detroit. "There was more controversy on the Pontiac Stadium than we anticipated. No one wanted to give sufficiently." He said House leaders still feel they can pass the bill, and that an agreement must be reached on how much money Pontiac Stadium should get, and on how a phase-out of state aid would work.

The stalled bill expresses the legislature's intent to phase out state aid to the stadium by $100,000 a year starting in fiscal 1977-78.

In 1972, the legislature agreed to appropriate $800,000 a year for 30 years when it was not known if a new stadium for the Detroit Lions would be built in Detroit or Pontiac. Since then the annual subsidy has always run into opposition from those who say state funding is improper, and the Senate last week passed the Detroit aid bill without including any stadium subsidy.

New Buffalo Schedules Parade

NEW BUFFALO — The annual Memorial Day parade in New Buffalo will be held Monday, May 31, with Joseph Rudecki, former New Buffalo city fire chief, in charge. The Rev. The newly-organized Harbor Lights singing group, will perform and the New Buffalo high school band under the direction of Thomas Holets will lead the parade.

All individuals and organizations who plan to participate in the parade are to meet at the corner of Merchant and Whittaker streets in front of the New Buffalo Savings & Loan at 9 a.m. May 31.

LIVE. ON TV THURS., MAY 27, AT 7 P.M. ONE OF THESE 50 'LANDMARKS' FINALISTS WILL WIN A MILLION DOLLARS.

Two will win $50,000 each, 10 will win $25,000 each and 37 will win $10,000 each.

GR To Spend $5.5 Million

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — City commissioners have approved a $5.5 million downtown rejuvenation plan, saying it is "necessary to public health, safety and welfare."

Construction is scheduled to begin in about a year on the project, which includes a pedestrian shopping mall and fountains, an ice rink and amphitheaters.

Owners of downtown business firms will provide $2.2 million through special assessments while $1.8 million will be raised from a citywide property tax. Most of the remaining cost will be met with federal funds.

TRANSPLANTED WINEMAKER

A New Tradition Is Born

By MICHAEL RUBIN
Associated Press Writer
NAPA, Calif. (AP) — Pride is a powerful thing. It brought Bernard Portet thousands of miles from his home in France and the magic name of Lafite Rothschild to a small winery in California's Napa Valley.

Portet left one of the most powerful and respected traditions in the history of wine at Lafite.

His father, Andre, managed the Bordeaux chateau that makes the single best-known wine on earth.

Portet, 32, grew up on the estate with its centuries-old tradition of fine vineyards and a collection of wines going back into the 1700s. The property is so treasured that it was set aside and protected by the Nazis as a special prize during World War II.

Portet attended France's renowned viticulture and winemaking school at Montpellier following his boyhood at Lafite.

With all this behind him, why did Portet choose to seek his fortune in the new wine land of California?

"Personal challenge, that's why," he answers.

Although he acquired his knowledge in France, Portet said that when he felt ready to take on a position of responsibility — a chance to make his own wine — the worldwide wine boom had sent property prices in his native Bordeaux out of sight.

The situation sent him on a worldwide search for a place of his own, and Portet, nodding at his winery here, said: "This is it."

The venture was financed through Americans Portet met in France. He settled in California's best-known wine area in the spring of 1972 and that fall made his first wine for Clos Du Val, as his winery is called.

Portet is in complete command of the operation, as his father was at Lafite. In fact, the younger Portet designed Clos Du Val and noted: "You don't get the opportunity to build a winery from the ground up very often."

He was, and is, highly impressed with California winemaking — especially the technology — but he hasn't forgotten his French background.

Clos Du Val produces only two wines: Cabernet Sauvignon, which is the primary grape of Bordeaux's red wines, and Zinfandel, an assertive red wine exclusive to California. This contrasts with other California wineries, which turn out complete wine lists in all colors and flavors.

And there are technical Gallic touches at the winery itself in the way fermenting wines are handled. For example, all of the barrels are made of French, rather than American, oak staves.

But Portet, that personal pride flashing, shuns comparisons between his California wines and those of his native France.

"Winemaking is winemaking wherever you are," he said. "Two batches of grapes may turn out different even if made into wine by the same winemaker. They are more different if made by different winemakers. How about wines made thousands of miles apart?"

Comparisons aside, his winery, has one strictly California touch. It's bounded on two sides by a golf course.

Portet's father, who retired last year after 25 years of guiding Lafite Rothschild, has visited his son's California winery. And the younger Portet admits to placing more than one transatlantic phone call for advice.

Portet said he and his wife and two children had little trouble adapting to life in California, but doubts that anyone moving to France would find things going as smoothly.

Ten Area Students In Honor Society

EAST LANSING — Ten southwestern Michigan students at Michigan State university have been inducted into the university chapter of Phi Kappa Phi, a national honor society for junior and senior scholars.

Juniors must be within top 1.5 per cent academically of their class and seniors within the top seven per cent in order to join, a university spokesman said.

The southwestern Michigan students who were among the 615 initiated were Katharine J. Bloom, Benton Harbor; Fred Schilling Jr. of Eau Claire; Don Florence and David R. Schultz of Niles; Lynne Marie Czarnocki and Kenneth Joseph Vrana of St. Joseph; and Kathy A. Babula of Stevensville.

Also, Nancy Lynn Westrate, Cassopolis; Deborah E. Kraak of Decatur and Steven M. Thomas of Lawrence.

THREE PLAGUE CASES

ATLANTA (AP) — Three persons in the Southwest have contracted bubonic plague this year — and two have died — after being exposed to animals carrying diseased fleas, the national Center for Disease Control says.

House Science and Technology committee's $86.7 million increase in Ford's solar budget request was all that ERDA programs could usefully spend. Solar funding already was double previous levels, they added, warning that efforts to push solar development at a faster pace would waste the taxpayer's money.

Voting for added solar energy fund: Blanchard (D), Conyers (D), Vanderjagt (R), O'Neill (Majority Leader), Rhodes (Minority Leader).

Voting against added solar energy funds: Hutchinson (R). Not voting: Brown (R).

Congress Votes

BY CONGRESSIONAL QUARTERLY

WASHINGTON — Votes of area members of Congress on key roll calls for the week ending May 21 were:

SENATE

Intelligence Committee — By a 72-22 vote, the Senate established a permanent Select Committee on Intelligence with legislative and budget authority over the CIA, FBI and other federal intelligence agencies.

Supporters of the committee proposal argued that strict congressional controls were needed over the intelligence committee to assure that the CIA and other agencies did not in the future infringe on the liberties of the American people.

Opponents strongly objected to giving the new panel budget control over intelligence components of the defense department, claiming this would lead to "greater disclosures" of secret Pentagon projects and military spending figures for intelligence operations.

Voting to establish permanent intelligence committee: Griffin (R).

Not voting: Hart (D).

B-1 Strategic Bomber — By a 44-37 vote, the Senate delayed until Feb. 1, 1977, a decision to spend $800 million for the purchase of the first three regular production B-1 strategic bombers. The amendment would also bar any funds unless the President decides the purchase is in the national interest.

The Air Force plans a fleet of 244 of the planes — at an estimated cost of $87 million apiece — to replace 20-year-old B-52s which carry half the nation's nuclear capability.

Supporters of delaying the decision argued that the plane had not been tested thoroughly enough to support immediate production. They wanted to delay the production decision until after completion of the scheduled tests.

Opponents of the delay argued that it was a ploy to kill the B-1 program. They insisted the delay would add $482 million to the cost of the program because of production inefficiencies caused by a gap between the test program and the production program.

Voting to delay B-1 procurement: None.

Voting not to delay B-1 procurement: Griffin (R).

Not voting: Hart (D).

Solar Energy — By a 321-68 vote, the House approved an amendment to the Energy Research and Development authorization bill that would add $116 million to funding levels for federal solar energy development projects.

Supporters of the amendment argued that Ford administration cuts in ERDA's original solar budget requests threatened to delay or abort development of promising technologies. With proper federal funding, they contended, solar devices could make contributions to U.S. energy needs well before the end of the century — and perhaps give the nation an attractive alternative to risky nuclear power plants.

Opponents replied that the Shame on you, Roger!...

...and shame on you, madam, for believing such a yarn!

It's true that HP carrier-salesmen are rewarded for signing up new subscribers on their routes. Sometimes we have contests with rather sensational prizes for the carriers who obtain the most new home patrons. When you give your subscription to the young HP representative who rings your doorbell, you get — excuse our pride — the best daily papers in Southwestern Michigan. And the young businessman earns extra profit.

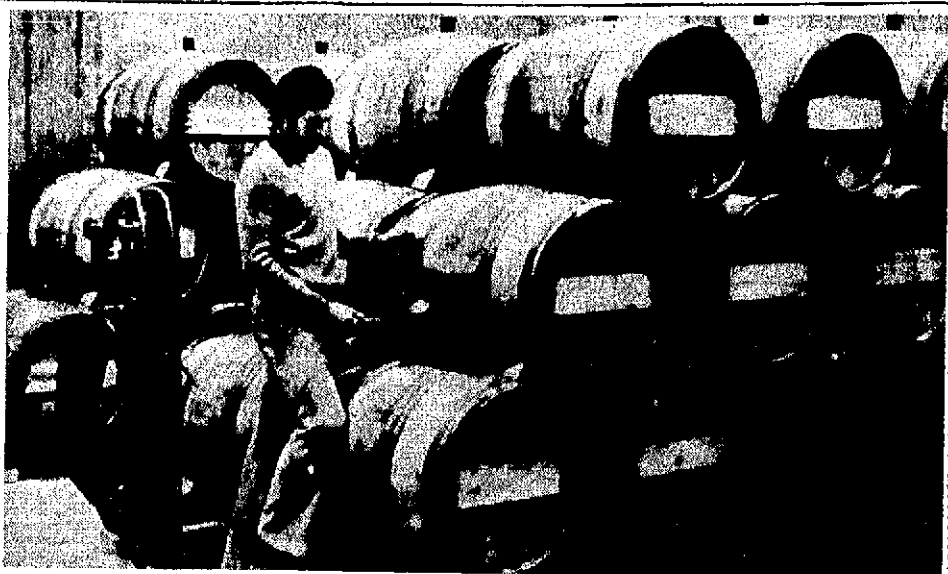

But, the Washington Monument as a prize! Nonsense! Where would he put it if he did win it?

SJ Township Eyed For $1 Million Project

By STEVE SAGER
Staff Writer

The St. Joseph township planning commission last night received tentative plans for three separate construction projects — a $1 million restaurant-office building, a 20-unit apartment building, and an animal hospital. Nathan Downey, representing Hilltop Development Co., presented plans for the restaurant-office building proposed for 2½ acres on Hilltop road across from Heath Co. and adjacent to Ball Rubber and Plastics.

Downey said the land is properly zoned for the project but a special use permit is required for the restaurant to sell alcoholic beverages. The apartment building is proposed by St. Joseph contractor Ralph Post and his son, Carle. It would cost an estimated $400,000 and would be built at 3333 Niles avenue. Post requested a zoning change.

The animal hospital is proposed by Jeff Richards, DVM, for a lot on Cleveland avenue, just south of Hawthorne. Cost was estimated at $50,000-$70,000. The planning commission scheduled public hearings for July 20 on the restaurant and apartments. The animal hospital was referred to committee to determine what the proper zoning should be.

The land for the restaurant-office building is owned by Hilltop Development of which Nathan Downey is president with several area businessmen as principals. Downey said Hilltop Development intends to retain ownership after the building is constructed. According to Downey, the two-story building will contain 14,200 square feet of rental office area and the restaurant-cocktail facility will be 8,200 square feet with a seating capacity of approximately 275 people. Downey said construction is planned to start in August.

Richards said he intends to buy the property and own the building. The property is now owned by Superior Home Builders. The hospital will be 1,700 square feet in size. Richards has been practicing in the Twin Cities area for three years. The apartment building is to be two-story with 30 parking spaces. The apartments are to be all one-bedroom.

Post owns the land and prior to his apartment plans had rezoning requests to build a fabric shop at the same location rejected three times by township officials. He is requesting the land be rezoned from its present R-1 to R-5 with a special use permit to allow a multiple housing unit to be built. The building is to be 100-feet by 40-feet. Also at last night's three-hour meeting the planning commission voted 6 to 1 to recommend to the board of trustees not to allow the rezoning request of Ted Lausman, 2630 Trail lane. The dissenting vote was cast by Robert DeVries.

Lausman had requested 1.1 acres of land be rezoned from R-2 (residential) to B-2 (commercial) like the rest of a five-acre parcel it is part of.

During a public hearing on the matter prior to the meeting, Dave E. Klauke, 102 Lausman drive, presented a petition signed by 127 township residents against the rezoning request. A number of people spoke during the public hearing and must voiced opposition to the rezoning saying it would be detrimental to the surrounding residential area. However, DeVries said the way the property is zoned now it would be very hard for any type of development at all to be done. No specific use was announced if the land were rezoned.

The planning commission approved lot splits to Dave Bergman, 1023 Vineland road, and Harwood Fennel, 3030 Dozer drive. About 40 people attended last night's meeting.

Death Ruled Due To Natural Causes

By AL AREND

CASSOPOLIS — It took a six-member Cass county coroner's jury just 22 minutes yesterday to rule the March 27 death of Mrs. Edna Irene Winters, 37, Dowagiac, was due to natural causes.

The inquest into the woman's death took about an hour and a half yesterday morning before Judge Steg Lignell in fourth District court here. The inquest had been requested by the Cass county sheriff's department following its investigation into the circumstances surrounding the death of Mrs. Winters.

Ten people testified yesterday, including the deceased woman's ex-husband Thomas Winters, 39, route 2, Eau Claire, and the couple's son, Timothy, 15, route 2, Eau Claire. Both were with the late Mrs. Winters at her home the night before she was rushed unconscious to Lee Memorial hospital, Dowagiac, testimony revealed. She never regained consciousness and died in the hospital some 36 hours later.

Following testimony, Judge Lignell instructed the jury, consisting of three men and three women, that they could find that Mrs. Winters died of natural causes, an accidental death, or by unlawful means. If the jury had found the latter it would have had to state the parties believed involved.

The inquest was called because Mrs. Winters was found to have bruises on her body, a black eye and burns on her knees. One of two people identified as being with Mrs. Winters the night before she was taken to the hospital where she died said neither struck nor pushed her. He was Thomas Winters.

Thomas Winters testified he had been divorced from the late Mrs. Winters since December, 1970, but that his relationship between he and his son and ex-wife had remained friendly with no visitation problems at all.

He testified that the afternoon of March 24 he got a call from his ex-wife concerning their son's (Timothy's) possibility of employment at Indian Lakes Golf course, where Winters is head professional.

Winters said both had to sign forms allowing the boy to work at the golf course and decided to get together that evening to take care of it.

Winters said the work forms had been signed and he and his son were looking at the boy's yearbooks, when his ex-wife brought him a beer and returned to her chair to drink her own beer. He said she became ill and later apparently fell on a footstool.

Winters said he and his son then laid Mrs. Winters down in the middle of the living room floor and placed her head on a bedroom pillow.

He said he stayed a while and finally decided to leave after telling his son to check back with him in the morning. Winters said after he left the home that night he stopped off at the D&D Lounge for a drink, around 10:30 p.m., as he was "upset" over his ex-wife's behavior.

Timothy Winters, who was living with his mother at the time, said when he awoke in the morning he looked in on his mother. He said he tried to wake her but couldn't, then called his dad, who said to call later in the day to see if she was all right. Timothy said he then left for school.

According to testimony, when Mrs. Winters didn't show up for work, her boss, Atty. Robert Waterson, Dowagiac, called Tim at school. Tim then called his dad, who in turn called his mother, Mrs. Ruth Winters, who went to check on her ex-daughter-in-law.

Mrs. Ruth Winters testified that upon arriving at the home in Meadowbrook subdivision, that she found Edna Winters lying face down in the pillow in the middle of the living room. She said her ex-daughter-in-law was unconscious. She said she called the operator who summoned an ambulance that rushed Edna Winters to the hospital.

Cass Prosecutor Michael Dodge asked Thomas Winters if he or his son at anytime struck or pushed the late Mrs. Winters. Winters replied, "No we did not."

Winters said he did not know how his ex-wife obtained a black left eye, a bruise under her left breast, bruise under her left arm, or apparent burns to her knees, major reasons for sheriff's department's inquiry into her death.

Dr. Pitney Keep, Kalamazoo pathologist, who performed the autopsy on Mrs. Winters body, March 27, at Connelly's funeral home, Cassopolis, testified the woman had a "fresh blood clot" between her brain and skull causing hemorrhaging. He said the woman's liver was enlarged and yellow in appearance. He said she did not have a skull fracture.

Dr. Keep said he didn't know what type of trauma (injury) could have caused the hemorrhaging. "I guess any type of injury you could dream up could have caused it."

Dr. Eric Lanter, Dowagiac, physician and surgeon, testified as medical examiner he indictated the woman apparently died from a "subdural hematoma" (a hemorrhaging between the outer layer of the skull and brain wall). He said he did not know what caused the hemorrhaging.

Cass county sheriff's Det. Sgts. Michael True and Paul Converse testified their follow-up investigations did not solve the mystery as to how Mrs. Winters received a black eye.

Converse said both Thomas Winters and his son, had initially agreed to take polygraph tests (lie detectors) but later refused upon advice of legal counsel. Their legal counsel, Atty. Herbert Phillipson of Dowagiac, was not present during yesterday's inquest.

Berrien Officials Seek Re-Election

Two more incumbent Berrien county commissioners have filed nominating petitions with the Berrien clerk's office seeking re-election, bringing to eight the number of incumbent commissioners who have already filed.

Filing on the Republican ticket were Edward E. Mattix for commissioner for District II and Nancy F. Clark for District 5.

Three other incumbents have not yet filed petitions — R.J. Burkholz, Victor Greer, and Bill Joseph — while Chairman Leslie Fischer and Commissioner Frank Poorman have announced they will not seek re-election.

Mrs. Clark, 51, is seeking a fourth term representing the district which includes the Fairplain portion of Benton township, all of Sodus township, and the southern portion of Baynton township. Mrs. Clark, of 178 Meadow terrace, Fairplain, is chairman of the county commission's planning and social services committee.

Mattix, 53, of 821 Harrison, St. Joseph, seeks re-election for a district which includes the City of St. Joseph (except for a portion on the southwest side) and a portion of St. Joseph township. A member of the board since 1955, Mattix served two terms as board chairman and is chairman of the commission's affairs committee. He is also chairman of the Berrien General hospital board of trustees and manager of maintenance and facility engineering for Whirlpool's St. Joseph division.

Shirley Jackson Eyes Full Term

PAW PAW — Mrs. Shirley Jackson, the only woman ever to serve on the Van Buren county board of commissioners, announced today she will seek another term as Ninth district commissioner.

Mrs. Jackson, a Republican, was appointed to the post last Nov. 12 to replace the late Lloyd Martin of Lawton. She serves on the board's administrative affairs and auditing and purchasing committees, and is chairman of the Key Men committee.

"The most important thing we can do as the county board is to see that Van Buren county remains fiscally sound at a time when so many localities are suffering serious financial problems," she said in a prepared statement. "I think I've done a good job for the the Van Buren jury board, people of the county — I've certainly done my best — and I would like to have the opportunity to continue serving these people."

The Ninth district includes the villages of Paw Paw and Lawton and parts of Paw Paw, Antwerp, and Decatur townships.

Berrien Slates Tryouts

Auditions will be held Monday, June 14, for Berrien county residents who want to appear in Berrien's Bicentennial pageant "Fabulous Fruits of Freedom," according to Paul McDaniels, president of Berrien County Bicentennial Pageant, Inc.

Present at the auditions will be Robert Holtzman, professional director of the pageant from the Rogers Company, Fostoria, Ohio. Tryouts are scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in the show rehearsal building at the Youth Fair grounds, Berrien Springs.

Holtzman's experience includes college and repertory theaters in Florida and Pennsylvania. His roles have been star parts in "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?," "A Man For All Seasons," "All My Sons," "Richard III," and "The Country Wife."

He has directed historical pageants in Kentucky, Pennsylvania, Iowa, Indiana, Mississippi, and other communities throughout the Midwest and also has had major roles in several televised plays.

The Pageant committee urges all county residents who are interested to attend the audition meeting. There will be no lines to learn, and special lighting and colorful costumes will be furnished. The show is regarded as the highlight of the county's Bicentennial celebration.

Judge Bars Van Buren Drain Work

By DENNIS COGSWELL
Paw Paw Bureau

PAW PAW — Judge James E. Hoff of Cass county Tuesday granted a permanent injunction in Van Buren circuit court blocking a proposed cleanup of the Gates drain in Decatur and Paw Paw townships. The drain, a 5.5 mile section of the west branch of the Paw Paw river, had been scheduled to be dredged last summer.

However, on June 5, 1975 then Van Buren Circuit Court Judge David Anderson, Jr. granted a temporary restraining order, halting the $70,000 project, after opponents of the project filed a lawsuit seeking an injunction. Anderson subsequently disqualified himself from the case because he owns property on Maple lake in Paw Paw, into which the drain empties.

Mrs. Elmyra Hearn, Van Buren drain commissioner, had begun preparation for the cleanup after receiving a petition signed by 33 area farmers in 1973 asking that dredging be done to help alleviate flooding.

Judge Hoff ruled yesterday that Mrs. Hearn had failed to give the village of Paw Paw proper notice of a meeting of a board of determination in 1973 which okayed work on the project. Without this notice, Hoff said, the village was deprived of its right in due process under the drain laws. He then declared the action of the board of determination void.

Hoff's ruling was made during a hearing on a suit brought by Atty. Robert McWhorter of Kalamazoo on behalf of the villages of Paw Paw and Lawton, Paw Paw township, the Paw Paw Conservation club, and Dr. Charles Tentfanten of Paw Paw, against the cleanup. Mrs. Hearn and Bernard Thomas and Sons, Decatur, the project contractors, were named as co-defendants.

McWhorter said the judge's ruling would not prevent a future board of determination from ordering a cleanup. But, he added, foes of dredging would now be assured of being notified of any action and able to present their side of the case before a decision was reached.

Because Judge Hoff barred the cleanup on a legal technicality, the overriding environmental issues of the project were left unresolved. In his opening statement yesterday, McWhorter claimed that dredging would have a significant impact on fish and wildlife in the stream, and a "severe and detrimental" effect on Maple lake because of additional siltation.

Atty. William Drillock of Marlette, representing the defendants, argued almost the opposite, saying that if the drain was not dredged, Maple lake would continue to be filled with silt. He also claimed effects on fish (the drain is a designated trout stream) would be minimal, and that there were actually very few game fish in that section of the river.

Drillock also said the cleanup was essential for proper drainage of some 14,000 acres of surrounding farm land.

McWhorter claimed during the debate that Mrs. Hearn was disqualified from appointing the board of determination because her son, James, lived in the proposed assessment district. Drillock countered that Glenn W. Smiley, the late drain commissioner, actually made the appointment and that Mrs. Hearn was only carrying out his will as deputy drain commissioner.

McWhorter brought about the final favorable ruling when he was able to produce documents, showing that in 1969 the village of Paw Paw extended its southern boundary by annexation to I-94. Drillock had maintained the boundary was Ampey road, some 500 feet to the north.

With the I-94 boundary, McWhorter said, the village was within the drainage district, and as such was subject to notification of the meeting of the board of determination. The Ampey road boundary would have put the village just outside the drainage district.

Prisoner Safe In Jail Fire

NILES — Police here said the sole occupant of the Niles city jail escaped injury last night when mattress stuffing caught fire in his cell.

Police said that the fire-retardant stuffing had apparently been pulled from a mattress and set on fire about 10:40 p.m.

The prisoner in the cell was identified as by police as Richard Clark, 21, address unknown. He was not charged in connection with the fire, police said.

Niles firemen, who are stationed in the same building, said the fire was out when they arrived and a fan was used to clear smoke from the jail. The damage was confined to the stuffing, police said.

Police said Clark was lodged in the jail shortly after 4 p.m. yesterday on charges of indecent exposure and being drunk and disorderly. Police said he was arrested after officers on patrol found a man passed out on the lawn of a house in the 900 block of Cherry street.

The 15 Benton Harbor students were chosen after local and regional competition this spring. They are Charles Bledsoe, Fairplain Northeast elementary school; James Caldwell, Benton Harbor high school; Thomas Clark, Benton Harbor high school; Jackie Cooper, Stump elementary; Regina Flemming, Fairplain East elementary; Teresa Jones, Fairplain West elementary;

Also, Hal Greer, Hull 7th and 8th grade center; Jewel Moore, Bard elementary; Kevin Moore, Hull 7th and 8th; Elvis O'Neal, Benton Harbor high school; Ted Smith, Calvin Britain; Paul Stolt, Benton Harbor high school; Duane Stoutmiles, Benton Harbor 7th and 8th; Michael Terry, Fairplain East, and Kathy Vivrette, Calvin Britain.

Mrs. Trowbridge said donations to send the 15 students to the state meet can be sent to Special Olympics fund, 240 Jefferson street, Benton Harbor.

SJ Township Eyed For $1 Million Project

By STEVE SAGER
Staff Writer

The St. Joseph township planning commission last night received tentative plans for three separate construction projects — a $1 million restaurant-office building, a 20-unit apartment building, and an animal hospital. Nathan Downey, representing Hilltop Development Co., presented plans for the restaurant-office building proposed for 2½ acres on Hilltop road across from Heath Co. and adjacent to Ball Rubber and Plastics.

Downey said the land is properly zoned for the project but a special use permit is required for the restaurant to sell alcoholic beverages. The apartment building is proposed by St. Joseph contractor Ralph Post and his son, Carle. It would cost an estimated $400,000 and would be built at 3333 Niles avenue. Post requested a zoning change.

The animal hospital is proposed by Jeff Richards, DVM, for a lot on Cleveland avenue, just south of Hawthorne. Cost was estimated at $50,000-$70,000. The planning commission scheduled public hearings for July 20 on the restaurant and apartments. The animal hospital was referred to committee to determine what the proper zoning should be.

The land for the restaurant-office building is owned by Hilltop Development of which Nathan Downey is president with several area businessmen as principals. Downey said Hilltop Development intends to retain ownership after the building is constructed. According to Downey, the two-story building will contain 14,200 square feet of rental office area and the restaurant-cocktail facility will be 8,200 square feet with a seating capacity of approximately 275 people. Downey said construction is planned to start in August.

Richards said he intends to buy the property and own the building. The property is now owned by Superior Home Builders.

The hospital will be 1,700 square feet in size. Richards has been practicing in the Twin Cities area for three years. The apartment building is to be two-story with 30 parking spaces. The apartments are to be all one-bedroom.

Post owns the land and prior to his apartment plans had rezoning requests to build a fabric shop at the same location rejected three times by township officials. He is requesting the land be rezoned from its present R-4 to R-5 with a special use permit to allow a multiple housing unit to be built. The building is to be 109-feet by 40-feet. Also at last night's three-hour meeting the planning commission voted 6 to 1 to recommend to the board of trustees not to allow the rezoning request of Ted Lausman, 2630 Trail lane. The dissenting vote was cast by Robert DeVries.

Lausman had requested 1.1 acres of land be rezoned from R-2 (residential) to B-2 (commercial) like the rest of a five-acre parcel it is part of.

During a public hearing on the matter prior to the meeting, Dave E. Klauck, 102 Lausman drive, presented a petition signed by 127 township residents against the rezoning request. A number of people spoke during the public hearing and most voiced opposition to the rezoning saying it would be detrimental to the surrounding residential area. However, DeVries said the way the property is zoned now it would be very hard for any type of development at all to be done. No specific use was announced if the land were rezoned.

The planning commission approved lot splits to Dave Bergman, 1023 Vineland road, and Harwood Fenner, 3030 Dozer drive. About 40 people attended last night's meeting.

Judge Bars Van Buren Drain Work

By DENNIS COGSWELL
Paw Paw Bureau

PAW PAW — Judge James E. Hoff of Cass county Tuesday granted a permanent injunction in Van Buren circuit court blocking a proposed cleanup of the Gates drain in Decatur and Paw Paw townships. The drain, a 5.5 mile section of the west branch of the Paw Paw river, had been scheduled to be dredged last summer.

However, on June 5, 1975 then Van Buren Circuit Court Judge David Anderson, Jr. granted a temporary restraining order, halting the $70,000 project, after opponents of the project filed a lawsuit seeking an injunction. The prisoner in the cell was identified as by police as Richard Clark, 21, address unknown. He was not charged in connection with the fire, police said.

Niles firemen, who are stationed in the same building, said the fire was out when they arrived and a fan was used to clear smoke from the jail. The damage was confined to the stuffing, police said.

Police said Clark was lodged in the jail shortly after 4 p.m. yesterday on charges of indecent exposure and being drunk and disorderly. Police said he was arrested after officers on patrol found a man passed out on the lawn of a house in the 900 block of Cherry street.

NEWS OF MARKETS

Market Swings Upward

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market headed upward today, riding the momentum of Tuesday's late upswing.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up a fraction in the early going, and gainers took a 5-3 lead over losers among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

Analysts said investors seemed to be encouraged that the market had held its ground at just below the 970 level in the Dow.

The average has wavered in a 50-point band between 965 and 1,015 for more than three months.

Today's early prices included Sylvania, up 1/4 at 16 1/2; General Cable, unchanged at 11 1/4; Avco, steady at 11 1/4; and Warner-Lambert, up 1/4 at 32 3/4.

In Tuesday's mixed market the Dow Jones industrial average edged up .16 to 971.69, after having been down nearly 6 points earlier.

But declines outnumbered advances by about a 2-1 margin among NYSE-listed issues, and the exchange's composite index was off .03 at 52.98.

Big Board volume came to 18.77 million shares.

At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index dropped .53 to 102.88.

Valuable Antiques Recovered

By TOM RENNER

South Haven Correspondent

SOUTH HAVEN — City police said yesterday they recovered the last of a $25,000 collection of antique guns and swords stolen last week from a South Haven restaurant.

Officers said they located the weapons buried in sand near Woodman avenue on the city's north beach after receiving an anonymous telephone tip.

The weapons were taken May 17 in a breaking and entering of the Mariners Inn. Some of the weapons were recovered the next day.

Police believe all of the weapons are accounted for and none appeared to be damaged.

A man charged with the burglary, Paul Thomas, 24, route 4, South Haven, pleaded innocent Monday in Seventh District court to an additional charge of escaping from lawful custody.

Judge Donald Goodwillie Jr. ordered his bond increased from $15,000 to $25,000. He had been arraigned on the breaking and entering charge last week.

The additional charge was made after Thomas allegedly walked out a rear door of the city jail after being left unattended. He was recaptured later that day at his parents' home.

Two Face Break-In Charges

Two Indiana men were scheduled to be arraigned today in Berrien Fifth District court on charges of breaking and entering a Lake Michigan Beach home Feb. 11.

Berrien County Metro Crime Unit Det. Jim Siebenmark said Michael Allen Parritt, 22, Bremen, Ind., and Allen Leon Stewart, 19, also of Bremen, were arrested yesterday in Bremen on warrants issued in Berrien county in February. Both are former Berrien county residents, he said.

They are charged with breaking and entering a house owned by Robert Bradley at 6031 Madison avenue. Siebenmark said the warrants were issued in February following information from an informant.

Bank Declares A Dividend

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit bank Corp. said Tuesday it is issuing a quarterly dividend of 69 cents a share on the firm's $10 par value common capital stock. The dividend is payable on June 30 to shareholders of record June 14.

50c AN HOUR

Sodus Hikes Pay Of Firemen, Police

SODUS — The Sodus township board last night voted a 50 cent an hour pay increase for its volunteer firemen and policemen, according to Carrol Cox, township clerk. The raise brings the hourly rate for the 25 volunteer firemen to $4.75. The township's four volunteer policemen will now receive $3.75 an hour.

Cox said the action was taken to stay in line with pay given by other townships and because the men were doing a good job and had not had a raise in several years.

In other areas, Supervisor Fred Froehlich said he will not seek re-election this fall. Froehlich was elected to the post as a Democrat in 1972.

The board voted to have the Indiana & Michigan electric company upgrade 14 street lights and install one new one in the vicinity of Sodus.

The new lights will all be rated at 7,000 lumens, Cox said. At present, the lights are rated at anywhere from 1,000 to 4,000 lumens. The additional power used will increase the township's electric bill by $234 annually.

Expecting to receive $5,192 in federal revenue sharing funds from July to December, the board voted to allocate $3,000 for road construction and the remainder for the township drain at large fund.

SEWAGE PLANT

Dowagiac Selling Bonds To Agency

DOWAGIAC — The Dowagiac city council last night in special session unanimously accepted the lone bid of the Farmers Home Administration for an $800,000 bond issue to pay the city's share of the cost of its waste water treatment plant addition.

The Farmers Home bid previously had been arranged and announced and no other bids were received or anticipated. The bid is at an interest rate of five per cent with no premium. City Manager Henry Graper Jr. said the present commercial market interest rate is about 8 1/2 per cent.

The treatment plant addition, for which ground breaking ceremonies will be held June 1, will be built by Sollitt Construction company, South Bend.

at a bid price of $3,599,000. Including interest on the bonds, the project will eventually cost $4,100,000, according to Graper. Construction is expected to take about 1 1/2 years.

The bonds approved last night represent the city's share of the cost. The bonds are to be repaid out of sewer revenues. The remainder of the cost is being paid through grants of $2,963,825 from the Environmental Protection Agency and $197,575 from the state.

In other areas, following a brief public hearing, the council accepted the tentative city general fund budget for 1976-77. The budget projects revenues of $942,927 and expenditures of $919,382, with a contingency fund of $23,545. Graper said the tentative budget represents a slightly over four per cent increase compared to the current fiscal year. Formal approval of the budget is expected at the June 7 meeting.

Mayor Graham Woodhouse proclaimed the week of May 31 through June 6 as annual cleanup week in Dowagiac. All citizens are urged to clean up their yards and premises and place all rubbish and debris at the curb for pickup by city crews.

U.S. Judge Mulls Hot Dog Case

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — Despite his lengthy defense of a citizen's right to eat what he wants, a federal judge has taken under advisement a challenge to Michigan's strict meat standards.

U.S. District Court Judge Noel Fox called the challenge filed by the American Meat Institute a case of "sales versus people's rights."

The Institute, which represents most of the nation's largest meat packers, is trying to block a state law requiring stores to list cuts of meat conforming to federal standards but not the stricter state ones.

"An American has the right to determine whether he wants to eat meat containing snouts, hearts, eyes, lips, lungs, udders, paunches and other undesirable parts of the animal," the judge insisted Monday.

"If the human being read some of the ingredients, he might want to vomit," the judge added.

The suit is focused upon 18 1/2-inch posters required under a 1974 state law which read: "The following products do not meet Michigan high meat ingredient standards but do meet lower federal standards."

Institute attorneys argued the posters violate the federal Wholesome Meat Act of 1967 which says no state may impose different standards for marking, labeling, packaging or meat ingredients.

In an appeal from a 1971 ruling by Judge Fox, the U.S. 6th Circuit Court of Appeals held that federal meat standards override state regulations.

Did Fed Act Too Quickly?

By JOHN CUNIFF

AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The Federal Reserve apparently has decided that the recovery is threatening to overheat and thus has moved to tighten the nation's money supply, which it controls.

Its purpose is to keep the easy flow of funds from in itself, becoming inflationary. But its effect is likely to slow the economy.

This may seem too academic to interest you, but be assured it is not so. It is a pocketbook issue perhaps more important than any other facing Americans.

When the Fed gets tight, and stays that way for many months, it usually means the economy begins to slow, interest rates tend to rise and expansion plans are postponed or abandoned.

For those people contemplating loans for automobiles in this, one of the most vigorous automobile sales years ever, it might eventually mean higher monthly payments.

For those who plan to buy houses it means, almost certainly, that the supply of money for mortgages will decline some, and that the cost of available mortgage funds will rise.

For stock market investors it probably means lower prices, although not necessarily. But on Monday, when investors realized that the Fed was indeed tightening up, stock prices took a very sharp drop.

For entrepreneurs with ideas and ambitions and only in need of money to put both into action, tight money is bad news. When money is scarce, it goes to the most creditworthy customers.

For established businessmen it means having to think twice about expanding the existing plant, or adding new equipment or workers. If the economic advance is to be slowed, then everyone's sales will be lessened.

All this is relative, however. The Fed doesn't intentionally aim at pitching the economy into a recession. Its goal in tightening the money supply is to control the advance and avoid the boom-bust cycle.

In keeping demand in line with supply, it reasons, inflation can be controlled and the recovery prolonged. Once demand exceeds supply you get inflation; better to avoid it in the first place, the Fed reasons.

Few economists argue with the notion of prevention being better than correction, but more than a few are now asking questions about the theory's implementation at the present times. A few of the questions follow:

—If housing still hasn't recovered from its depression, and mortgage rates already are climbing, why make it more difficult to buy a house?

—If unemployment at 7.5 per cent of the civilian labor force is higher than the nation has ever accepted before during an economic advance — and higher than almost any other industrial nation would tolerate — why slow the recovery?

—If plants are operating at far less than the level at which shortages generally develop, and commitments for expansion money are still rather weak, shouldn't business activity be encouraged?

—If entrepreneurship introduces innovation, creativity and competition, should it be encouraged by making it easier for new businessmen? What they offer, in effect, are lower prices and better products.

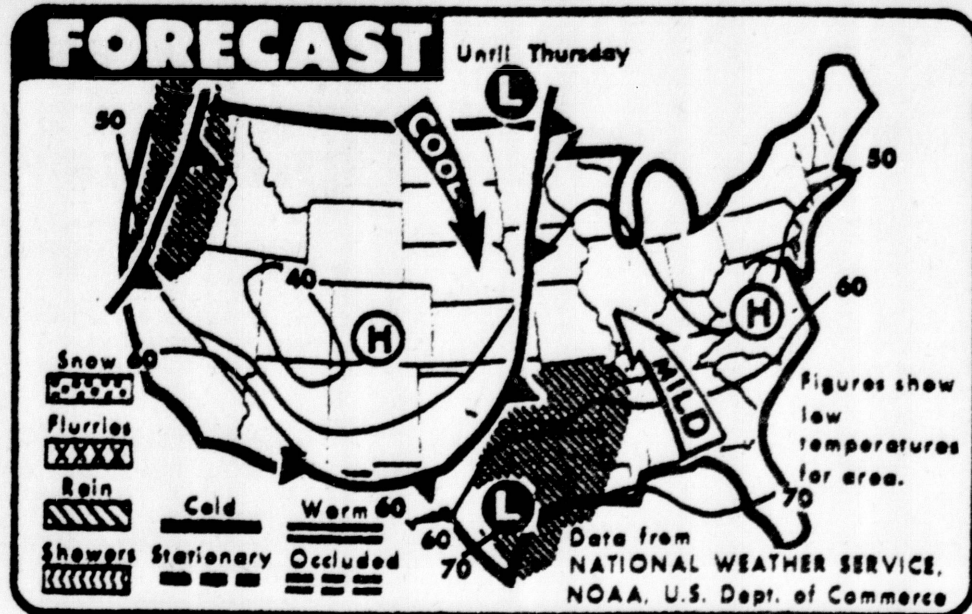

The question that underlies all these and other considerations is whether demand is outpacing the ability of the country to produce, and thus threatening a renewed and destructive inflation. Or could the threats to economic stability — including the threat of inflation — be caused by other factors?

The Fed's Board of Governors, and its Open Market Committee which implements policy, operate with a great deal of independence, even from control by the President. And often it closely guards its reasoning.

It is for this reason primarily that congressmen increasingly are looking into the activities of the Fed, perhaps the most powerful and independent agency of government.

HIS LETTER BRINGS UNEXPECTED RESPONSE

An unexpected response to my letter on bilingual education, published March 13, came from the State Department of Education. It included an eight-page position statement adopted by the State Board of Education.

The letter directed my attention to a paragraph reiterating the board's position that the dominant language in the United States is, and should continue to be, English.

The last line of the statement, however, impressed me much more, for it ended this paragraph:

"These six general guidelines in action for bilingual instruction can serve as further elaboration and refinement of the goals described in The Common Goals of Michigan Education and as guides to a full implementation of Act 294. Bilingual instruction should become much more than a supplementary program. It should become an integral part of a program to achieve quality education. It should offer an opportunity to achieve a balance between the assimilationist posture traditionally assumed in American public educational institutions and the right of individuals and groups to maintain and enhance their particular identities within a pluralistic society."

Probably I have such a strong assimilationist posture that I wasn't even aware of the desire of groups to maintain their foreign identities for themselves and their children. Nor did I know of Act 294 (1974) establishing such right, and I fear that a majority of our citizens don't know either.

It seemed to me that immigrants, who became U.S. citizens by choice, tended to be even more "American" than the native-born. Not till many years after their arrival seemed they inclined to even consider their heritage and join special groups. When they did, it was as Americans primarily and ex-foreigners secondarily.

Now I wonder what and who led to promotion of Act 294 and Bilingual Education. Was it an influx of a new breed of immigrants, who clamor for such rights, which seem like keeping a former wife's picture on the new wife's dresser? Or was it an over-zealous concern by a group of do-gooders? Or could it be sparked by the ever-growing educational lobby, who can see their empire grow with bilingual teachers and added instructional materials?

Perhaps I have the wrong view on this matter, and it would be comforting to know that fellow citizens are aware of Act 294 and the positions taken by the State Board of Education. But thus far their approach looks too much like a "divide and conquer" move by weakening the strongest force to hold our nation together for two centuries: our common language!

Once more I clamor for a reconsideration by our legislature of the position taken, and I urge my fellow citizens to do the same.

SJ BLOODMOBILE VERY SUCCESSFUL

Editor,

The May 17th Bloodmobile sponsored by the churches of St. Joseph was the most successful single-day bloodmobile yet held in Berrien County. The reason for this success is simple to explain — a large number of very concerned and dedicated people put forth considerable effort.

Certainly it is appropriate that the churches of our community lead the way in helping to meet this vital need for our fellow man. What more fitting way could be found to demonstrate the brotherhood and love which we all profess?

To the many, many people who gave their time, both as volunteer workers and donors we express our thanks. To be involved in such a worthwhile and productive effort has been an uplifting and truly gratifying experience.

Q. Recently on TV there appeared an inventor who said he discovered a solution that prevented the formation of plaque on teeth. He stated a toothpaste manufacturer will be using this solution in its product. He did not name the product. Do you know the name of the toothpaste?

A. I don't know of any tooth cleaning preparation, liquid, paste or powder that will effectively prevent the formation of plaque. I do know that proper brushing and flossing tends to remove plaque before it becomes a real problem.

Almost 20 years ago I visited the research laboratories of the largest toothpaste manufacturer in the United States. I visited with the chemists and research investigators and even that long ago some of them were certain they had a substance which would prevent the formation of plaque and tartar. It was thought that the substance could even be incorporated into chewing gum.

A recent report in the Journal of Periodontology, indicates that a dentifrice containing sodium fluoride and sodium edimate did retard the formation of tartar, but was not effective in controlling plaque or the progress of gum disease. Dental scientists are working continuously to find safe and effective ways to retard or prevent the formation of dental plaque and tartar. But at this date, we must tell our patients that the best approach is to brush properly with a soft bristle brush and use dental floss regularly and correctly.

Q. Three months ago I was fitted for upper and lower dentures. After hearing about all the problems that denture wearers have I was extremely happy to be able to adjust to my dentures as easily as I did.

But I have encountered another problem. It seems that I have lost about 75 per cent of my sense of taste. In comparison to other dentures that I've seen, the roof of my upper plate seems to be a lot thicker than it should be. Also the denture extends quite a bit in back of my mouth. Could it be too close to the taste buds on my tongue, although I do not have a gagging problem? Can you help me?

A. It is quite true that with complete dentures, patients sometimes experience at first a change in their sense of taste. The change is probably due to the fact the upper denture covers the roof of the mouth and the patient has a different sensation in regard to temperature and touch sensation of food.

There is also a great increase in the amount of saliva when dentures are placed, thus diluting the taste. However, dentures do not cover the taste buds, which, for the most part, are on the tongue, and the length or thickness of a denture would not affect one's ability to taste.

As one becomes accustomed to dentures, the reduced taste sensation disappears. It is true also, that there is a normal deterioration of the taste buds with age. We are told that often by age 70 the sense of taste has been reduced by 50-70 per cent.

I'm sure that when you have become accustomed to your new dentures, your taste sensation will return to normal.

$250,000 Suit Names SJ Doctor

A Berrien sheriff's detective has filed a $250,000 lawsuit in Berrien Circuit court against a St. Joseph physician, claiming the doctor failed to make a proper diagnosis of an injury.

The plaintiff, Gary Methling, claims he was wounded in the leg when the handgun he was carrying while off-duty accidentally discharged April 22, 1974.

Named defendant in the suit was Kazuo Uejima, M.D., whose office is located at 1901 Niles avenue.

The suit contends Methling went to Dr. Uejima for treatment until May 23, 1974, and claims the physician failed "to make proper and immediate diagnosis of plaintiff's condition and to properly treat and care for plaintiff's injuries," resulting in some paralysis of Methling's leg.

Methling has since returned to duty.

Indiana Firm Sues BH Builder

A Mishawaka, Ind., firm has filed suit in Berrien Circuit court against H & H Construction of Benton Harbor seeking $31,132 which is allegedly owed for building materials.

Named defendant in addition to the firm was owner Ellis Hull, H & H is based in the Fidelity building.

The plaintiff, Princess Homes, Inc., claims it delivered building materials to H & H in between July, 1971, and August, 1973, and there is now a balance due of $31,132. The suit contends Hull and his company have "failed and refused" to pay the bills.

fusion and chaos. The recall committee has made the statement that they will continue their efforts in the future and I sincerely hope they do.

I am happy with the outcome of this matter and I'm sure many others are, too. All who voted for recall on May 18th sure did the right thing and I don't think any will regret it.

HIS LETTER BRINGS UNEXPECTED RESPONSE

An unexpected response to my letter on bilingual education, published March 13, came from the State Department of Education. It included an eight-page position statement adopted by the State Board of Education.

The letter directed my attention to a paragraph reiterating the board's position that the dominant language in the United States is, and should continue to be, English.

The last line of the statement, however, impressed me much more, for it ended this paragraph:

"These six general guides in action for bilingual instruction can serve as further elaboration and refinement of the goals described in The Common Goals of Michigan Education and as guides to a full implementation of Act 294. Bilingual instruction should become much more than a supplementary program."

It should become an integral part of a program to achieve quality education. It should offer an opportunity to achieve a balance between the assimilationist posture traditionally assumed in American public educational institutions and the right of individuals and groups to maintain and enhance their particular identities within a pluralistic society."

Probably I have such a strong assimilationist posture that I wasn't even aware of the desire of groups to maintain their foreign identities for themselves and their children. Nor did I know of Act 294 (1974) establishing such right, and I fear that a majority of our citizens don't know either.

It seemed to me that immigrants, who became U.S. citizens by choice, tended to be even more "American" than the native-born. Not till many years after their arrival seemed they inclined to even consider their heritage and join special groups. When they did, it was as Americans primarily and ex-foreigners secondarily.

Now I wonder what and who led to promotion of Act 294 and Bilingual Education. Was it an influx of a new breed of immigrants, who clamor for such rights, which seem like keeping a former wife's picture on the new wife's dresser? Or was it an over-zealous concern by a group of do-gooders? Or could it be sparked by the ever-growing educational lobby, who can see their empire grow with bilingual teachers and added instructional materials?

Perhaps I have the wrong view on this matter, and it would be comforting to know that fellow citizens are aware of Act 294 and the positions taken by the State Board of Education.

But thus far their approach looks too much like a "divide and conquer" move by weakening the strongest force to hold our nation together for two centuries: our common language!

SJ BLOODMOBILE VERY SUCCESSFUL

Editor,

The May 17th Bloodmobile sponsored by the churches of St. Joseph was the most successful single-day bloodmobile yet held in Berrien County. The reason for this success is simple to explain — a large number of very concerned and dedicated people put forth considerable effort.

Certainly it is appropriate that the churches of our community lead the way in helping to meet this vital need for our fellow man. What more fitting way could be found to demonstrate the brotherhood and love which we all possess?

To the many, many people who gave their time, both as volunteer workers and donors we express our thanks. To be involved in such a worthwhile and productive effort has been an uplifting and truly gratifying experience.

Q. Recently on TV there appeared an inventor who said he discovered a solution that prevented the formation of plaque on teeth. He stated a toothpaste manufacturer will be using this solution in its product. Do you know the name of the toothpaste?

A. I don't know of any tooth cleaning preparation, liquid, paste or powder that will effectively prevent the formation of plaque. I do know that proper brushing and flossing tends to remove plaque before it becomes a real problem.

Almost 20 years ago I visited the research laboratories of the largest toothpaste manufacturer in the United States. I visited with the chemists and research investigators and even that long ago some of them were certain they had a substance which would prevent the formation of plaque and tartar. It was thought that the substance could even be incorporated into chewing gum.

A recent report in the Journal of Periodontology, indicates that a dentifrice containing sodium fluoride and sodium ediotrate did retard the formation of tartar, but was not effective in controlling plaque or the progress of gum disease.

Dental scientists are working continuously to find safe and effective ways to retard or prevent the formation of dental plaque and tartar. But at this date, we must tell our patients that the best approach is to brush properly with a soft bristle brush and use dental floss regularly and correctly.

Q. Three months ago I was fitted for upper and lower dentures. After hearing about all the problems that denture wearers have I was extremely happy to be able to adjust to my dentures as easily as I did.

But I have encountered another problem. It seems that I have lost about 75 per cent of my sense of taste. When I mentioned this to my dentist he said something about excessive saliva in the mouth due to the dentures. But after three months this problem is not clearing up. After the first mouthful I lose my appetite to eat. Nothing tastes good. In comparison to other dentures that I've seen, the roof of my upper plate seems to be a lot thicker than it should be. Also the denture extends quite a bit in back of my mouth. Could it be too close to the taste buds on my tongue, although I do not have a gagging problem? Can you help me?

A. It is quite true that with complete dentures, patients sometimes experience at first a change in their sense of taste. The change is probably due to the fact the upper denture covers the roof of the mouth and the patient has a different sensation in regard to temperature and touch sensation of food.

There is also a great increase in the amount of saliva when dentures are placed, thus diluting the taste. However, dentures do not cover the taste buds, which, for the most part, are on the tongue, and the length or thickness of a denture would not affect one's ability to taste.

As one becomes accustomed to dentures, the reduced taste sensation disappears.

It is true also, that there is a normal deterioration of the taste buds with age. We are told that often by age 70 the sense of taste has been reduced by 60-70 per cent.

I'm sure that when you have become accustomed to your new dentures, your taste sensation will return to normal.

Farm Cabin Destroyed

A cabin at the John Nametz farm, 2993 Red Arrow highway, Tuesday was destroyed by fire apparently caused by a pan left on a stove. Benton township firemen reported. Firemen identified the occupant of the cabin as Joe Hart, a worker at the farm. The fire was reported after 8 p.m. There were no injuries, firemen said.

Wins Degree In History

SAULT STE. MARIE — A Dowagiac man has received a degree from Lake Superior State college here. At weekend commencement exercises, Brian J. Case, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Case of Dowagiac, received a bachelor of science degree in history. He was among 400 who received certificates or diplomas, a college spokesman said.

Motocyclist Injured

A Berrien Springs motocyclist sustained a broken finger and abrasions Tuesday when his cycle's tire blew throwing him off. Berrien sheriff's deputies reported. John Richard Heaton, 25, of 100 Niles avenue, was treated and released from Memorial hospital, St. Joseph, after the accident shortly before 7 a.m. Deputies said the accident occurred on Lake street west of Gast road, Bridgman.

Graduates Cum Laude

TULSA, Okla. — Kara J. Wade, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wade, 1999 South Valley View drive, St. Joseph, has graduated cum laude from Oral Roberts university here, with a bachelor of arts degree in psychology, according to a university spokesman.

Buchanan Parade Monday

BUCHANAN — The annual Memorial Day parade in Buchanan will begin at 10 a.m. Monday, May 31. Buchanan American Legion Post 51 has announced. The parade will start on East Front street near the post headquarters and proceed to Oak Ridge cemetery for graveside ceremonies. LaVerne Leece, chairman of the American Legion National Security commission, will be guest speaker at the cemetery. Parade committee members include Walter Jane, Henry Reed, Jack Otto and John Eger.

K mart FIVE WAY NEW TIRE LIMITED WARRANTY

- Tread Wear - If the tread wears out (2/32 inch or less remains) before the warranted number of months or miles of service, the tire will be replaced at a 35% allowance off the new list price of the tire, plus applicable Federal Excise, state and local taxes.
Tread Wear Mileage Warranty does not apply to:
Severe tires
Passenger tires used on trucks
Cars used to pull trailers
Cars in a deteriorated mechanical condition
Commercial vehicles for hire
- Complete 90 Day Replacement - If the new tire is rendered non-serviceable for any reason during the first 90 days from the date of purchase, it will be replaced at NO CHARGE.
- Workmanship and Material - Every new tire sold by K mart is warranted against all failures due to defects in workmanship and material for the life of the original tread:
If the tire fails from such defects, K mart will replace it with a new tire and a price adjustment provided using current list prices, charging only for the percent of tread wear or mileage used plus proportionate Federal Excise, State and Local taxes.
- Road Hazard - Any regular passenger tire that fails due to Road Hazard during the designated number of warranted months or miles will be repaired or replaced at K mart's option. The replacement adjustment will be provided using current list prices, charging only for the percent of tread wear or mileage used plus a proportionate amount of Federal Excise, State and Local taxes.
